ANGLAIS – CLASSE DE PREMIÈRE TECHNIQUE

LEÇON N04

CITIZENSHIP AND HUMAN RIGHTS

DURÉE CONSEILLÉE : 13 SÉANCES (FICHE DE PROGRESSION HARMONISÉE)

DANS CETTE LEÇON

This lesson develops learners' ability to discuss citizenship, work culture, civic responsibility, democracy, tolerance and basic freedoms in English. Through Cameroonian documents, dialogues and data, learners master key grammar tools (conjunctions, pronouns, prepositions, adverbs, phrasal verbs) and produce a composition on exercising democracy and promoting freedoms.

- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais échanger des informations en anglais sur la culture du travail et l'excellence professionnelle
- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais utiliser correctement les conjonctions de coordination et de subordination (since, for, yet, although, in spite of, despite, however, nevertheless...)
- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais employer le vocabulaire lié au travail, à la citoyenneté, à la démocratie et aux libertés fondamentales

- Basic sentence structure in English (subject-verb-object) seen in Form 5 and Seconde
- Simple present, present continuous and simple past tenses
- Basic vocabulary about jobs, school and community life
- Notions of rights and duties from Citizenship Education (Education à la citoyenneté) in lower classes
- Reading and listening strategies : skimming and scanning

1 WORK CULTURE AND EXCELLENCE AT WORK (SPEAKING)

Situation d'accroche. In Yaoundé, a young technician named Amina works in a carpentry workshop in Nkolbisson. Every morning she arrives early, respects her colleagues, and votes during municipal elections, yet she notices that some workers are paid unfairly and that a neighbour was arrested for criticizing a local official. She asks herself : what does it really mean to be a good citizen in Cameroon? How can she promote excellence at work, defend her rights, and respect the rights of others? This lesson will help learners answer these questions in English.

Problématique. Before Amina can defend rights or exercise democracy, she must first master the language of the workplace : how do we describe good and bad attitudes at work? How do we exchange opinions politely in English? And how do we link our ideas with conjunctions to sound clear and professional? This first section answers these questions through speaking.

1.1 Brainstorming : What Is a Work Culture ?

Look around you. In some workshops in Douala, workers arrive at 7 :30 sharp, greet each other, wear their safety boots, and finish their tasks before leaving. In other places, workers come late, argue, and leave tools everywhere. The difference is not the machines or the money : the difference is the work culture.

DÉFINITION Work culture

A work culture is the set of shared values, attitudes, and behaviours that guide people at work. It answers the question : "How do we do things here?" A good work culture includes punctuality (ponctualité), honesty (honnêteté), teamwork (travail d'équipe), respect (respect) and diligence (application, sérieux).

Brainstorming activity (oral). In pairs, answer these questions in English :

1. What time do workers in your neighbourhood start work? Is it important to be on time? Why?
2. Name three behaviours of a good worker and three behaviours of a bad worker.
3. Would you like to work in a team where nobody respects each other? Why not?

1.2 Vocabulary : Words for Excellence at Work

Here are the key words you must know and use. Read them aloud, then use each one in a sentence about a Cameroonian workplace.

Word	M (F) gl	Example
punctuality	ponctualité being on time	Punctuality is the first rule in our workshop.
commitment	engagement giving your best	Her commitment to the job impresses everybody.
integrity	intégrité being honest and moral	A cashier must have integrity with money.
productivity	productivité quantity and quality of work	Technology increases productivity on the farm.
excellence	excellence doing better than average	We aim at excellence, not just “good enough”.
professional ethics	éthique professionnelle	Professional ethics forbid a nurse from neglecting a patient.
team spirit	esprit d'équipe	Team spirit helped the Eneo team repair the line quickly.
accountability	responsabilité (red- di- tion de comptes)	Accountability means you accept the consequences of your acts.

ATTENTION False friends and tricky words

Do not confuse actually (= in fact, en fait) with actuellement. Do not say “I am conscient” ; say “I am hard-working” or “I take my work seriously”. Diligence means careful, steady effort — it is not only “speed”.

1.3 Good Habits vs Bad Habits at WorkGood work habits

- Arriving on time
- Respecting colleagues
- Finishing tasks carefully
- Wearing safety equipment
- Helping teammates
- Reporting problems honestly

Bad work habits

- Coming late every day
- Insulting or ignoring colleagues
- Leaving work unfinished
- Refusing safety rules
- Working alone, hiding information
- Stealing tools or materials

Use it to build sentences : “A good worker arrives on time, but a lazy worker comes late.”

1.4 Exchanging Information : Dialogues and Role Plays

Speaking about work means giving your opinion, then agreeing or disagreeing politely. Here are the tools.

À RETENIR Useful expressions for exchanging opinions

- Giving an opinion : I think that... / In my view... / I believe that... / For me, ... / It seems to me that...
- Agreeing : I agree with you. / That's true. / Exactly! / You are right. / I share your point of view.
- Disagreeing politely : I see your point, but... / I'm afraid I don't agree. / That may be true; however, ... / I don't think so, because...

EXEMPLE Dialogue 1 — In a carpentry workshop, Nkolbisson (Yaoundé)

Amina : In my view, punctuality is the most important value in our workshop.

Bobo : I agree with you. When we arrive on time, we finish the furniture before the customers come.

Amina : Yes, and I also think that team spirit matters. Yesterday, I helped Clément with the heavy boards.

Bobo : That's true. However, some workers never help anybody. I'm afraid it is bad for productivity.

Amina : You are right. We should talk to them politely, because we are one team.

EXEMPLE Dialogue 2 — In an office in Douala

Mrs Etoundi : For me, integrity is essential for an accountant.

Mr Kamga : I see your point, but I believe that productivity is even more important.

Mrs Etoundi : That may be true ; however, an accountant without integrity can destroy the whole company.

Mr Kamga : Exactly. So we need both : honest workers and hard-working ones.

Role play (in pairs). Student A is a farm supervisor in Bafoussam ; Student B is a new worker. Discuss : working hours, respect, safety, and team spirit. Use at least two opinion expressions, one agreement and one polite disagreement.

1.5 Grammar Focus 1 : Coordinating Conjunctions

Intuition first. Look at these two short sentences : Amina arrives early. Amina works hard. English, like French, prefers to join them : Amina arrives early and works hard. The word and is a coordinating conjunction : it links two elements of equal importance.

DÉFINITION Coordinating conjunctions

Coordinating conjunctions join two words, two phrases or two independent clauses of equal rank. Remember them with the word FANBOYS : for (car), and (et), nor (ni), but (mais), or (ou), yet (pourtant), so (donc).

Conjunction	Use	Example
and	addition	She is punctual and diligent.
but	contrast	He is tired, but he finishes his task.
or	choice	You can sweep the floor or arrange the tools.
so	result	The machine broke, so we stopped work.
for	reason (formal)	She wears gloves, for the chemicals are dangerous.
yet	surprising contrast	The salary is low, yet he stays committed.

ATTENTION Comma before the conjunction

When a coordinating conjunction joins two full clauses (each with its own subject), put a comma before it : The machine broke, so we stopped. Do not put a comma when it joins two words or phrases : punctual and diligent.

1.6 Grammar Focus 2 : Subordinating Conjunctions of Concession and Reason

Intuition. Sometimes one idea is more important than the other. Although Amina is tired, she finishes her work. The main message is “she finishes her work” ; the clause “although Amina is tired” only adds a difficulty. Although is a subordinating conjunction : it introduces a subordinate clause that depends on the main clause.

DÉFINITION Subordinating conjunctions : concession and reason

- Concession (concession) : although / though (bien que) + clause ; in spite of / despite (malgré) + noun or -ing form.
- Reason (cause) : because (parce que), since (puisque), as (comme, puisque) + clause.

subordinating conjunction + subject + verb subject + verb

Although he is tired,

he works carefully.

subordinate clause (concession)

main clause (the real message)

Structure of a sentence with a subordinating conjunction : the subordinate clause (introduced by although) depends on the main clause. A comma separates the two clauses when the subordinate clause comes first.

MÉTHODE Building a contrast sentence

To express a contrast between two facts, follow these steps :

1. Identify the two facts : He is tired / He works carefully.
2. Choose the structure : Although + clause, + main clause. → Although he is tired, he works carefully.
3. Or invert with an adverb : main clause ; however, + clause. → He is tired ; however, he works carefully. (Also possible as two sentences : He is tired. However, he works carefully.)
4. With a noun or -ing form, use despite / in spite of : Despite his tiredness, he works carefully. / In spite of being tired, he works carefully.

ATTENTION The classic trap : although + but Never use but with although in the same sentence. One connector is enough!

Although he is tired, but he works. ❌

Although he is tired, he works. ✅ or He is tired, but he works. ✅

EXEMPLE Contrast connectors : however, nevertheless, still

These connectors also express contrast, but they are adverbs, not conjunctions : they usually start a new sentence or follow a semicolon, with a comma after them.

- The work is hard. However, Amina never complains.
- The salary is low ; nevertheless, the team stays committed.
- It was raining. Still, the Eneo team repaired the line before night.

Position : beginning of the sentence + comma, or between commas in the middle : Amina, however, never complains.

1.7 Document Study : Workers in a Douala Factory

Read the following short text, then answer the questions orally.

EXAMPLE Text : “A Morning at the Sawa Factory, Douala”

At 7 :15 every morning, the workers of a soap factory in Bonabéri, Douala, arrive at the gate. Most of them are punctual, and they greet the watchman politely. Inside, the team leader, Mrs Ngo Bell, checks that everybody wears gloves and boots. Although the machines are old, the team maintains them carefully, so accidents are rare. One worker, Mr Fotso, sometimes arrives late ; however, he always finishes his quota of boxes. “Productivity is important,” says Mrs Ngo Bell, “but integrity and team spirit are even more important, because a factory is like a family.”

Comprehension questions (oral work) :

1. What time do the workers arrive ? Are they punctual ?
2. Find two good work attitudes in the text and one bad habit.
3. Find one coordinating conjunction and one subordinating conjunction in the text. Explain the link each one expresses.
4. Do you agree with Mrs Ngo Bell that “a factory is like a family” ? Give your opinion with In my view... or I think that....

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 1 Analysing a contrast sentence

Statement. Analyse the structure of this sentence : “Despite working 8 hours a day, some informal workers in Yaoundé earn less than 2,000 FCFA daily.” Identify the connector, its type, and the contrast expressed. Then rewrite the sentence with although.

SOLUTION

Solution.

1. The connector is despite (= malgré). It is a preposition of concession, followed by an -ing form (working), not by a full clause.
2. The contrast : we expect workers who work 8 hours a day to earn a decent salary ; in reality, they earn less than 2,000 FCFA. The reality contradicts our expectation.
3. Rewriting with although + clause : “Although some informal workers in Yaoundé work 8 hours a day, they earn less than 2,000 FCFA daily.”
4. Check the trap : we do not say Although they work 8 hours, but they earn... ≡

EXERCICE 1 Practice — link the ideas

Complete each sentence with the correct connector : and, but, so, although, despite, however, because, yet.

1. The workers are tired, ... they continue to smile at the customers.
2. ... the rain, the farmers of Bafoussam worked all morning.
3. She forgot her boots, ... she could not enter the workshop.
4. ... he is young, he is the most diligent apprentice in the garage.
5. The office closed at 4 p.m. ; ... the accountant stayed until 6 p.m. to finish the report.
6. Integrity ... punctuality are both necessary for a good cashier.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 1

1. but (or yet) — contrast between tiredness and smiling.
2. Despite — followed by a noun (the rain); although would need a clause (Although it rained...).
3. so — result : forgetting the boots causes the impossibility to enter.
4. Although — concession at the beginning of the sentence, comma after the clause.
5. however — contrast adverb after a semicolon, followed by a comma.
6. and — simple addition of two qualities.

LESAVAIS-TU ? Labour Day in Cameroon

Cameroon celebrates Labour Day (la Fête du travail) on the 1st of May, like many countries in the world. On that day, workers' unions march in Yaoundé, Douala and the other regional capitals, and the authorities officially promote excellence at work, better salaries and respect for workers' rights. It is a perfect occasion to use the vocabulary of this lesson : punctuality, commitment, integrity and team spirit !

À RETENIR What you must remember

- A work culture = shared values, attitudes and behaviours at work : punctuality, honesty, teamwork, respect, diligence.

- Key vocabulary : punctuality, commitment, integrity, productivity, excellence, professional ethics, team spirit, accountability.
- To exchange opinions : I think that... / In my view... / I agree. / I see your point, but...
- Coordinating conjunctions (FANBOYS) link equal elements : and, but, or, so, for, yet.
- Subordinating conjunctions introduce a dependent clause : although, though, because, since ; despite / in spite of + noun or -ing.
- Contrast adverbs however, nevertheless, still start a sentence or follow a semicolon, with a comma.
- Golden rule : never although + but in the same sentence.

2 PROMOTING INDIVIDUAL CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY (LISTENING)

In the previous section, we explored how a strong work culture and the pursuit of excellence at work shape professional success. We practised expressing opinions, agreeing and disagreeing politely, and using conjunctions to link ideas logically. Now, we widen our perspective from the workplace to the wider community. A healthy work culture cannot exist in isolation ; it thrives when citizens fulfil their civic duties. In this section, we will listen to a radio talk about individual civic responsibility, learn key vocabulary, sharpen our listening strategies, and master two important grammar points : reciprocal pronouns (each other / one another) and the indefinite pronoun each.

2.1 Pre-listening : Predicting Content from Titles and Pictures

A citizen dropping a ballot paper into a transparent ballot box. (Voting / Voter)	A person handing a tax form to an officer at a counter. (Paying taxes / Payer des impôts)	Young volunteers sweeping streets and planting trees. (Keeping the environment clean / Garder l'environnement propre)

EXERCICE 2

Predict and Match Match each picture (A, B, C) with the civic duty it illustrates. Then, with a partner, answer : “Why is each duty important for the community?”

1. Picture A shows ...
2. Picture B shows ...
3. Picture C shows ...

CORRIGÉExercice 1

1. Picture A shows voting (participating in elections).
2. Picture B shows paying taxes (funding public services).
3. Picture C shows keeping the environment clean / community service (volunteer work).

Sample reasons : Voting chooses leaders ; taxes pay for hospitals, roads, schools ; a clean environment prevents disease and makes life pleasant.

DÉFINITIONCivic Responsibility

Civic responsibility (la responsabilité civique) refers to the duties every citizen owes to the community and the State. These duties include :

- Voting (le vote) in elections to choose representatives.
- Paying taxes (payer les impôts) to fund public services (health, education, infrastructure).
- Respecting the law (respecter la loi) and being a law-abiding citizen (citoyen respectueux des lois).
- Participating in community service (service communautaire) or volunteer (bénévole) work.
- Showing patriotism (patriotisme) by promoting national unity and protecting public property.

À RETENIRKey Vocabulary : Civic Responsibility

English	Meaning / Contexte	Français
civic responsibility	duty to community/State	responsabilité civique duty	moral/legal obligation	devoir
tax (n.)	compulsory payment to government	impôt vote (v./n.)	express choice in election	voter / vote
community service	unpaid work for community	service communautaire law-abiding citizen	person who obeys laws	citoyen respectueux des lois patriotism	love for one's country	patriotisme
volunteer (n./v.)	person who works freely / to offer freely	bénévole / faire du bénévolat clean-up campaign	organised cleaning event	campagne de nettoyage
neighbourhood (UK) / neighborhood (US)	local area / quarter	quartier

2.2 Listening : A Radio Talk on Civic Responsibility

Context : You are going to listen to a 3-minute radio talk broadcast on CRTV (Cameroon Radio Television) during the morning programme “Community Watch”. The host, Mr. Atangana, discusses the monthly “Clean-Up Saturday” campaign in Yaoundé neighbourhoods.

MÉTHODE How to Succeed in a Listening Task

Follow these steps before, during, and after the audio :

1. Read the questions first. Identify the keywords (who, what, when, where, why, how) you need to listen for.
2. Predict the content. Use the title, pictures, and vocabulary to guess what the speaker will say.
3. First listening (Gist). Listen for the main idea. Do not try to understand every word. Ask : “What is the general topic?”
4. Second listening (Specific Information). Focus on the keywords. Write short notes, abbreviations (e.g., gov’t for government, camp’n for campaign, vol’s for volunteers), or symbols.
5. Third listening (Check). Verify your answers. Fill in any gaps.
6. Post-listening. Summarise the talk in 2–3 sentences using your notes.

EXPÉRIENCE Listening Script – “Community Watch : Clean-Up Saturday”

(Teacher reads aloud or plays audio. Students do not read the script during the first two listenings.)

Host (Mr. Atangana) : “Good morning, dear listeners. Welcome to Community Watch. I am your host, Atangana. Today, we talk about a duty that belongs to each of us : keeping our neighbourhoods clean.

Last Saturday, the “Clean-Up Saturday” campaign took place in several quarters of Yaoundé – Mvog-Ada, Essos, and Nlongkak. The campaign starts since the first Saturday of every month. Residents wake up early, although it is a holiday. They gather at the quarter head’s office at 7 a.m. The delegate provides gloves, brooms, and bin bags.

I spoke to Madame Ngo, a volunteer in Mvog-Ada. She said : “We do this for our children. Each citizen has a duty to protect the environment. Each of us brings a tool. We work together ; we help each other. The young men carry heavy bins ; the women sweep. Nobody watches the other do the work alone.”

The Divisional Officer praised the turnout. He noted that despite the rain last month, people still came. However, he warned that some citizens still dump waste in streams. He urged each household to sort waste : plastics, organic, glass.

Remember, listeners : a clean city is not the mayor’s job alone. It is our shared responsility. When we clean one another's streets, we build a healthier city for each family. Join us next month. This has been Community Watch. Stay civic, stay clean."

EXERCICE 3

Listening for Gist (First Listening) Tick the correct answer.

1. What is the main topic of the radio talk?
 - a The history of Yaoundé.
 - b A monthly clean-up campaign.
 - c Paying taxes on time.
 - d Voting in local elections.
2. Who is the host?
 - a Madame Ngo.
 - b The Divisional Officer.
 - c Mr. Atangana.
 - d The quarter head.

CORRIGÉ

Exercice 2

1. b (A monthly clean-up campaign).
2. c (Mr. Atangana).

EXERCICE 4

Listening for Specific Information (Second Listening) Complete the table below using information from the talk. Use abbreviations and keywords only.

Civic Duty / Action	Why it Matters (Reason)	Example in My Community
Clean-Up Saturday campaign
Sorting waste (plastics, organic, glass)
Volunteering (gloves, brooms, bins)
Not dumping waste in streams

Tableau de prise de notes : Devoir civique / Pourquoi c'est important / Exemple dans ma communauté

Exercice 3

Civic Duty / Action	Why it Matters (Reason)	Example in My Community
Clean-Up Saturday campaign	For our children; protect environment; healthier city	Monthly in Mvog-Ada, Essos, Nlongkak
Sorting waste (plastics, organic, glass)	Easier recycling; less pollution	Household level urged by Div. Officer
Volunteering (gloves, brooms, bins)	Shared work; nobody works alone	Young men carry bins; women sweep
Not dumping waste in streams	Prevents water pollution; health	Still a problem noted by officer

EXERCICE 5

Note-taking Practice (Third Listening) Listen again and fill in the missing conjunctions or pronouns in these extracts.

1. The campaign takes place _____ the first Saturday of every month. (since / for / although)
2. Residents gather _____ it is a holiday. (since / for / although)
3. _____ citizen has a duty to protect the environment. (Each / Each of / Every)
4. _____ us brings a tool. (Each / Each of / All)
5. We help _____. (each other / one another / ourselves)
6. When we clean _____ streets, we build a healthier city. (each other's / one another's) ther's / our)

CORRIGÉ

Exercice 4

1. since (point de départ dans le temps)
2. although (concession)
3. Each (chaque + singulier)
4. Each of (chacun de + pronom/pluriel)
5. each other (réciproque : deux groupes – jeunes hommes / femmes – mais ici sens collectif, one another aussi possible)
6. one another's (réciproque possessif : plusieurs personnes/rues)

2.3 Post-listening Discussion

Work in groups of three. Discuss the following questions. Use the vocabulary from the aretenir box.

1. What civic duties do you perform at school? (Examples : cleaning the classroom, respecting the school rules, helping a classmate, participating in the school garden.)
2. What civic duties do you see in your quarter (neighbourhood)? (Examples : Clean-Up Saturday, neighbourhood watch, contributing to the water well repair, respecting traffic signs.)
3. Madame Ngo says : "We do this for our children." What does she mean? Give a concrete example.
4. The Divisional Officer says some citizens still dump waste in streams despite the campaigns. Why do people do this? What can change this behaviour?

EXEMPLE Sample Discussion Starter

Student A : "At school, I am a class monitor. My duty is to check if the classroom is clean before lessons. It is a civic responsibility because a clean class helps each student learn better." Student B : "In my quarter, we have a neighbourhood watch. Volunteers patrol at night. They help each other to keep the area safe." Student C : "Madame Ngo means we protect the environment for the future generation. If we pollute now, our children will suffer."

2.4 Grammar Focus 1 : Reciprocal Pronouns – each other vs one another

Reciprocal pronouns express a mutual action or relationship : Person A does something to Person B, and Person B does the same to Person A.

PROPRIÉTÉ Reciprocal Pronouns : Traditional Rule

- each other is used when two people (or things) are involved.
- one another is used when more than two people (or things) are involved.

Note : In modern English, the distinction is often blurred ; one another is slightly more formal. For your exams, apply the traditional rule.

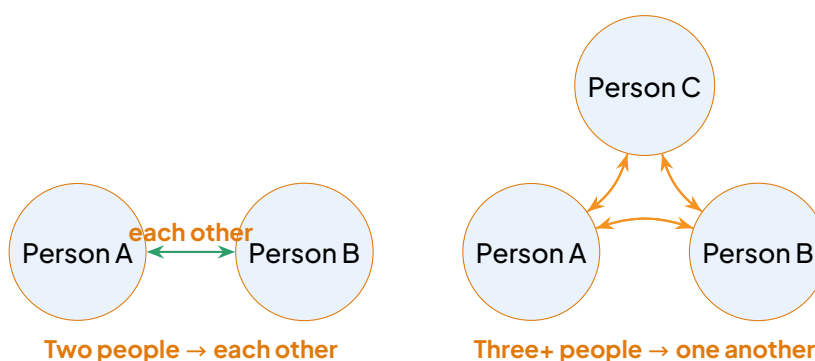

Schéma des pronoms réciproques : each other (deux personnes) vs one another (plus de deux)

EXEMPLE Examples from the Listening Text

1. “We work together ; we help each other.” (Context : two groups – young men and women – helping mutually.)
2. “When we clean one another’s streets, we build a healthier city.” (Context : many residents, many streets – more than two entities.)

EXERCICE 6

Reciprocal Pronouns : Choose the Correct Form Complete the sentences with each other or one another.

1. The two candidates shook hands and congratulated _____ after the debate.
2. In a strong community, neighbours look after _____.

3. The five members of the committee sent emails to _____ to fix the meeting time.
4. My brother and I often lend _____ books.
5. During the clean-up, the volunteers passed the heavy bins to _____.

CORRIGÉExercice 5

1. each other (two candidates).
2. one another (neighbours = many people).
3. one another (five members > 2).
4. each other (two people : my brother and I).
5. one another (volunteers = group > 2).

2.5 Grammar Focus 2 : Indefinite Pronoun each and Agreement

Each refers to every individual member of a group separately. It is always singular.

PROPRIÉTÉ each + Singular Agreement

- each + singular noun → singular verb. Example : Each citizen has a duty. (NOT have)
- each of + plural noun/pronoun → singular verb. Example : Each of them brings a tool. (NOT bring)
- each as pronoun (subject) → singular verb. Example : Each is responsible.

ATTENTION Common Error : each + Plural Noun/Verb

- Wrong : Each citizens have a duty. ✗
- Wrong : Each of the students are here. ✗
- Correct : Each citizen has a duty. ✓
- Correct : Each of the students is here. ✓

Reason : Each isolates individuals ⇒ singular concept.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 2

Sentence Transformation : each / each of Task : Rewrite the sentences using each or each of + singular verb.

1. All citizens have a duty to vote. → Each citizen ...
2. All the volunteers brought a broom. → Each of the volunteers ...
3. Every student must respect the rules. → Each student ...

Solution :

1. Each citizen has a duty to vote. (citizen singular, has singular)
2. Each of the volunteers brought a broom. (each of + plural noun, verb singular)
3. Each student must respect the rules. (student singular, modal must + base form)

EXERCICE 7

Gap-fill : each / each of + Verb Agreement Complete with the correct form of the verb in brackets.

1. Each household _____ (sort) its waste into three bins.
2. Each of the neighbourhoods _____ (organise) its own clean-up day.
3. Each volunteer _____ (receive) gloves and a bag.
4. Each of us _____ (be) responsible for our street.
5. Each tax payer _____ (contribute) to the national budget.

CORRIGÉ

Exercice 6

1. sorts (Each household = singular)
2. organises (Each of the neighbourhoods = singular)
3. receives (Each volunteer = singular)
4. is (Each of us = singular)
5. contributes (Each tax payer = singular)

2.6 Integrated Practice : Civic Context Sentences

Combine the vocabulary, reciprocal pronouns, and each structures.

EXERCICE 8

Sentence Transformation Rewrite the sentences as indicated.

1. The two delegates help one another. (Change to each other)
2. Every citizen must pay taxes. (Start with Each citizen ...)
3. The volunteers clean the streets together. (Use one another's)
4. All the quarter heads attended the meeting. (Start with Each of the quarter heads ...)
5. We must respect each other's rights. (Use one another's – formal/more than two)

CORRIGÉ

Exercice 7

1. The two delegates help each other.
2. Each citizen must pay taxes. (or Each citizen has to pay taxes.)
3. The volunteers clean one another's streets.
4. Each of the quarter heads attended the meeting.
5. We must respect one another's rights.

LESAVAIS-TU ?

Clean-Up Days in Cameroon : Collective Civic Action

In Cameroon, the "Clean-Up Saturday" (Samedi de salubrité) is a powerful example of civic responsibility in action. Instituted by presidential decree in the 1990s and reinforced by local authorities, it takes place on the first Saturday of every month (usually 6 a.m. – 10 a.m.).

- Yaoundé : The Urban Community organises campaigns in all 7 subdivisions (Yaoundé I–VII). The Governor and Divisional Officers often join residents in quarters like Mvog-Ada, Essos, Nlongkak, and Melen.
- Douala : The "Keep Douala Clean" (Garder Douala Propre) operations mobilise thousands of volunteers, city council workers, and military engineering units to clear drains, collect plastic waste, and unblock waterways before the rainy season.
- Legal basis : Law No. 98/015 of 14 July 1998 on the organisation of local councils empowers mayors to enforce sanitation by-laws. Citizens who refuse to participate without valid reason can be fined.

- Impact : These campaigns reduce flood risks, limit cholera/malaria outbreaks, and foster patriotism and community spirit. They illustrate one another in action : each person contributes, and all benefit.

Your turn : Has your quarter organised a clean-up recently? What was your role? Write a short paragraph (50–60 words) using each, each other / one another, and at least three vocabulary words from the à retenir box.

EXEMPLE Sample Paragraph

“Last month, my quarter organised a clean-up campaign. Each resident was asked to participate. Each of us brought a broom or a rake. We worked hard and helped one another to clear the blocked drainage. The quarter head thanked each volunteer. It showed true patriotism and civic responsibility.”

À RETENIR Summary : Key Points to Master

- Listening strategy : Read questions → Predict → Listen for gist → Listen for details → Check.
- Vocabulary : civic responsibility, duty, tax, vote, community service, law-abiding citizen, patriotism, volunteer, clean-up campaign.
- Grammar – Reciprocal pronouns : each other (2 people), one another (>2 people).
- Grammar – each : Always singular verb. Each citizen has... / Each of them has...
- Writing : Use these structures to describe civic actions in your community.

3 DEMOCRACY, TOLERANCE AND BASIC FREEDOMS (READING)

In the previous section, we listened to texts about promoting individual civic responsibility : we learnt that being a good citizen means voting, paying taxes, keeping our environment clean and respecting the law. But a responsible citizen also lives in a democracy, a country where people can choose their leaders and express their opinions freely. In this section, we will read texts about exercising democracy, tolerance and basic freedoms, and we will master the prepositions of time, place and manner.

3.1 Activating Prior Knowledge : What is Democracy ?

Think and discuss. Before reading, answer these questions orally with your neighbour :

1. Who is the Head of State of Cameroon? How was he chosen?
2. What types of elections do you know in Cameroon?
3. Have you ever seen a voter's card? What is it used for?

In Cameroon, citizens elect their leaders through several types of elections :

- the presidential election (every seven years), to choose the President of the Republic ;
- the legislative elections, to choose the members of the National Assembly (deputies) ;
- the municipal elections, to choose mayors and municipal councillors ;
- the senatorial elections, to choose senators.

DÉFINITION Democracy

Democracy is a system of government in which citizens choose their leaders through free and fair elections. In a democracy, people enjoy basic freedoms such as freedom of speech and freedom of the press, and all citizens are equal before the law.

DÉFINITION Tolerance

Tolerance means accepting and respecting people whose opinions, cultures, languages or beliefs are different from ours. Tolerance does not mean agreeing with everybody ; it means living together peacefully in spite of our differences.

3.2 Vocabulary : Democracy, Elections and Freedoms

Learn these key words before reading the text.

Word / Expression	Meaning (with French gloss)
democracy	system where citizens choose their leaders (démocratie)
election	organised vote to choose a leader (élection)
ballot	the paper or act of voting ; ballot box = urne voter registration	putting your name on the electoral list (inscription sur les listes électorales) polling station	place where people vote (bureau de vote)
freedom of speech	right to express your opinion (liberté d'expression)
freedom of the press	right of journalists to inform freely (liberté de la presse) tolerance	respecting differences (tolérance)
human rights	basic rights of every person (droits de l'homme) discrimination	unfair treatment because of origin, sex or religion (discrimination)
rule of law	the principle that everyone obeys the law (État de droit)

3.3 Reading Text : ELECAM Launches a Voter Registration Campaign

Pre-reading question. Look at the title. What do you think the article is about ?

EXEMPLE Reading Text : “Every Vote Counts” (adapted newspaper article)

Yaoundé, 5 January. – Elections Cameroon (ELECAM) has launched a national campaign to encourage young people to register on the electoral lists. The campaign started on Monday and will last for three months, until the end of March.

According to the Director General of ELECAM, many young Cameroonians between 18 and 25 years old have never registered to vote. “Democracy is not a spectator sport,” he declared during a press conference at the ELECAM headquarters in Yaoundé. “If you do not register, you cannot vote, and if you do not vote, you cannot complain about the leaders you have.”

Registration is free and simple. Citizens can register at any ELECAM office with their national identity card. Biometric kits have been sent to all the 360 subdivisions of the country so that people in rural areas can also register easily.

Civil society organisations have welcomed the campaign. “Voting is a right, but it is also a duty,” said Mrs Ngo Bell, a human rights activist. “In a democracy, the ballot box is the most peaceful way to change things. We must also teach young people tolerance : after the elections, winners and losers must live together in the same country.”

Cameroon is a multicultural nation with more than 250 ethnic groups and two official languages, English and French. For many observers, this diversity is a strength, but it requires dialogue, mutual respect and the promotion of basic freedoms such as freedom of speech and freedom of the press.

3.4 Reading Skills : Skimming, Scanning, Identifying Opinions

MÉTHODE Three Reading Strategies

1. Skimming (lecture globale) : read the title, the first sentence of each paragraph and the conclusion quickly to find the main idea. Do not stop at unknown words.
2. Scanning (lecture sélective) : move your eyes quickly over the text to find a specific detail : a date, a number, a name, a place.
3. Identifying the writer's opinion : look for opinion markers such as "I think", "we must", "it is a strength", and quotation marks with reported speech. Distinguish facts (verifiable information) from opinions (what someone believes).

Skimming task. Read the text quickly and choose the main idea :

- a) ELECAM is organising the presidential election.
- b) ELECAM wants young people to register on the electoral lists.
- c) ELECAM is building new offices in Yaoundé.

The correct answer is b).

Scanning task. Find these details in the text as fast as possible : How long will the campaign last? How many subdivisions received biometric kits? What document do you need to register? (Answers : three months ; 360 subdivisions ; the national identity card.)

3.5 Comprehension Tasks

EXERCICE 9 True or False

Read the text again and write True or False. Justify with a line from the text.

1. The campaign will last for six months.
2. Many young Cameroonians have never registered to vote.
3. Registration costs 1 000 FCFA.
4. Mrs Ngo Bell thinks voting is only a right, not a duty.
5. Cameroon has two official languages.

CORRIGÉ Exercise : True or False

1. False – "The campaign ...will last for three months."

2. True – “Many young Cameroonians between 18 and 25 years old have never registered to vote.”
3. False – “Registration is free and simple.”
4. False – She said : “Voting is a right, but it is also a duty.”
5. True – “Two official languages, English and French.”

EXERCICE 10 Wh-Questions

Answer with complete sentences.

1. Who launched the registration campaign?
2. When did the campaign start?
3. Where can citizens register?
4. Why does the Director General say democracy is not a spectator sport?
5. What must winners and losers do after elections, according to Mrs Ngo Bell?

CORRIGÉ Exercise : Wh-Questions

1. Elections Cameroon (ELECAM) launched the campaign.
2. It started on Monday, 5 January.
3. Citizens can register at any ELECAM office.
4. Because if you do not register and vote, you cannot choose your leaders or complain about them.
5. They must live together peacefully in the same country.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 3 Matching Vocabulary to Definitions

Match each word to its definition : ballot, discrimination, rule of law, polling station, freedom of speech.

- a) The place where people go to vote.
- b) Unfair treatment of a person because of his or her ethnic group, sex or religion.
- c) The right to express your opinions freely.

- d) The paper used to vote, or the act of voting.
- e) The principle that everybody, including leaders, must obey the law.

SOLUTION

Solution : 1-a) polling station ; 2-b) discrimination ; 3-c) freedom of speech ; 4-d) ballot ; 5-e) rule of law. Tip : scan the vocabulary table and the text ; the context always confirms the meaning.

3.6 Grammar Focus 1 : Prepositions of Time

Prepositions are small words (in, on, at, since, for, during, by) that connect a noun to the rest of the sentence. They are short but very important : a wrong preposition changes the meaning.

MÉTHODE Choosing the Right Preposition of Time

1. at + precise time : at 8 o'clock, at noon, at night, at the weekend.
2. on + day or date : on Monday, on 5 January, on election day.
3. in + month, year, season, part of the day : in January, in 2026, in the morning.
4. since + starting point : since 2018, since Monday.
5. for + duration : for three months, for seven years.
6. during + an event or period (followed by a noun) : during the campaign, during the press conference.
7. by + deadline (not later than) : register by 31 March.

ATTENTION Frequent Errors

- in Monday is wrong. We say on Monday (day → on).
- since + starting point : since January. for + duration : for three months. Never say since three months.
- No preposition before today, yesterday, tomorrow, last week, next year : The campaign started last week (not on last week).

EXEMPLE Prepositions of Time in the Reading Text

- The campaign started on Monday. (day)
- It will last for three months. (duration)
- Citizens must register by the end of March. (deadline)
- The Director spoke during a press conference. (event)
- ELECAM has organised elections since its creation. (starting point)

3.7 Grammar Focus 2 : Prepositions of Place and of Manner

Prepositions of place tell us where something is :

Preposition	Use and example
in	inside a space or area : in Yaoundé, in Cameroon, in the office on	on a surface or line : on the electoral list, on the table at	a precise point : at the polling station, at the ELECAM office between	with two people or things : between the two candidates
among	with three or more : among the 250 ethnic groups opposite	facing : The office is opposite the post office.

Prepositions of manner tell us how something is done :

- by + means of transport or action : by bus, by voting, by peaceful means ;
- with + instrument or feeling : with a pen, with respect ;
- in + language or way : in English, in a peaceful way ;
- like + comparison : He spoke like a true statesman.

EXEMPLE A Numbered Example to Complete

“Cameroon has more than 250 ethnic groups living together in the same country.” – We use in (preposition of place) because the country is an area, a large space. Other examples : Dialogue among communities is essential. The polling station is opposite the market. Voters expressed their choice in a peaceful way.

3.8 Cameroon : Diversity and Living Together

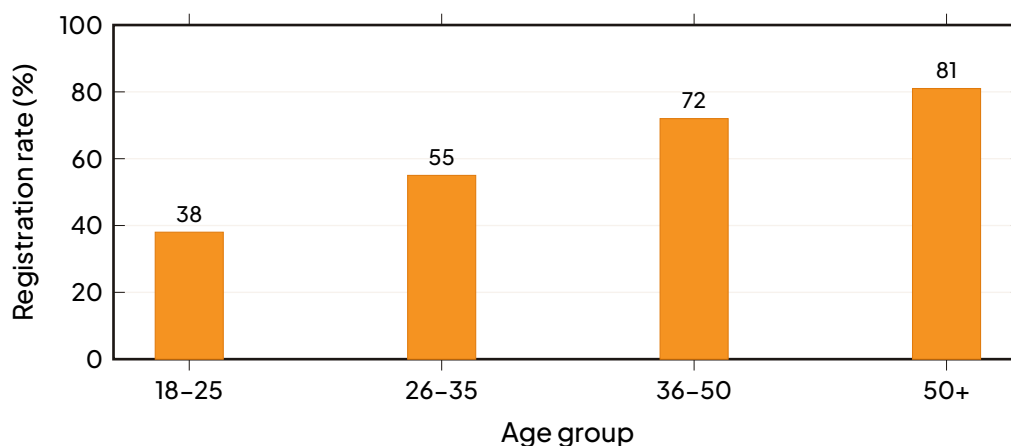

Simplified map of Cameroon : the 10 regional capitals and the two linguistic areas (North-West and South-West in blue). One country, two official languages, more than 250 ethnic groups : tolerance is essential. (Schematic map, not to scale.)

LESAVAIS-TU ?

Did You Know ?

ELECAM (Elections Cameroon) is the body in charge of organising, managing and supervising elections and referendums in Cameroon. It registers voters, prints ballot papers and announces provisional results. Cameroon is often called “Africa in miniature” because it gathers an extraordinary diversity of landscapes, climates, cultures and languages in one single country.

Voter registration rate by age group (fictitious but realistic data, in %). Young people aged 18-25 register the least : this is why ELECAM targets them in its campaigns.

Read the chart. The bar chart shows that only 38 % of citizens aged 18-25 are registered, compared with 81 % of citizens over 50. The registration rate rises steadily with age : from 38 % to 55 %, then 72 % and finally 81 %. This gap of 43 points between the youngest and the oldest voters explains why the campaign in our reading text focuses on young voters.

3.9 Discussion : Tolerance in a Multicultural Country

EXERCICE 11 Pair Work : Speak Out

Discuss these questions with your partner, then share your ideas with the class. Use prepositions of time, place and manner correctly.

1. Cameroon has more than 250 ethnic groups. Is this diversity a strength or a problem? Justify your answer.
2. How can we promote tolerance in our school and among our friends?
3. "Freedom of speech means we can say anything, even insults." Do you agree? Why or why not?
4. Why is voting both a right and a duty?

EXERCICE 12 Grammar Practice : Fill in the Blanks

Complete with the correct preposition : in, on, at, since, for, during, by, between, among, with.

1. The elections will take place ... October.
2. Polling stations open ... 8 a.m.
3. She has been a voter ... 2019.
4. He waited ... two hours to cast his ballot.
5. There was a long queue ... the polling station.
6. The journalist wrote the article ... English.
7. We must settle our differences ... dialogue, not violence.
8. The campaign ended ... 31 March.

CORRIGÉ Exercise : Fill in the Blanks

1. in (month) – 2. at (precise time) – 3. since (starting point) – 4. for (duration) – 5. at (precise point) – 6. in (language, manner) – 7. by (means) – 8. by (deadline).

À RETENIR Key Points to Remember

- Democracy = citizens choose leaders through free and fair elections ; tolerance = respecting differences.
- Reading strategies : skim for the main idea, scan for details, distinguish facts from opinions.
- Time : at + hour, on + day/date, in + month/year/season ; since + starting point, for + duration, by + deadline, during + event.
- Place : in (area), on (surface), at (point), between (two), among (three or more), opposite (facing).
- Manner : by (means), with (instrument), in (language/way), like (comparison).

Now that you can read and discuss texts about democracy and freedoms, and that you master prepositions of time, place and manner, you are ready for the next section : comparative adverbs, adverbs of negation and phrasal verbs, which will make your expression even richer and more precise.

4 COMPARATIVE ADVERBS, ADVERBS OF NEGATION AND PHRASAL VERBS

In the previous section, we read texts about democracy, tolerance and basic freedoms. You probably noticed sentences like : “Citizens must participate more actively in public life” or “We should never give up defending our rights.” These sentences contain two powerful grammar tools : comparative adverbs and phrasal verbs. In this section, we will learn how to compare actions (who works faster ? who speaks more clearly ?), how to use strong negative adverbs like hardly and never, and how to master the phrasal verbs that English speakers use every day at work and in civic life.

4.1 Revision : Adverbs of Manner

DÉFINITION Adverb of manner

An adverb of manner tells us how an action is done. It modifies a verb and usually answers the question How ? Most adverbs of manner are formed by adding -ly to an adjective.

Adjective	Adverb	Example
slow	slowly	The old computer works slowly.
careful	carefully	She fills in the forms carefully.
happy	happily	(y → i) They voted happily.
good	well (irregular!)	The mayor speaks English well.
fast	fast (no change)	He runs fast.
hard	hard (no change)	Cameroonians work hard.

ATTENTION Good ≠ well / Hard ≠ hardly

Good is an adjective ; its adverb is well : « She is a good citizen. She behaves well. » Also, hard (with effort) and hardly (almost not) have completely different meanings : « He works hard » = il travaille dur ; « He hardly works » = il ne travaille presque pas.

4.2 Comparative and Superlative Forms of Adverbs

Imagine two workers in a workshop in Douala. Paul finishes his task in two hours ; John finishes the same task in one hour. We naturally want to compare their actions : John works faster than Paul. This is the intuition behind the comparative of adverbs : we compare the way two actions are performed.

PROPRIÉTÉ Forming comparative and superlative adverbs

- Short adverbs (one syllable : fast, hard, early, soon) take -er (comparative) and the + -est (superlative) : fast → faster → the fastest.
- Long adverbs (almost all adverbs in -ly) take more (comparative) and the most (superlative) : carefully → more carefully → the most carefully.
- The comparative is followed by than : She types more quickly than me.

Adverb	Positive	Comparative	Superlative
Short	fast	faster (than)	the fastest
Short	hard	harder (than)	the hardest
Short	early	earlier (than)	the earliest
Long (-ly)	carefully	more carefully (than)	the most carefully
Long (-ly)	efficiently	more efficiently (than)	the most efficiently
Irregular	well	better	the best
Irregular	badly	worse	the worst
Irregular	far	farther / further	the farthest / furthest

Conjugation table of adverbs : positive, comparative and superlative forms. Short adverbs take -er/-est; -ly adverbs take more/most; well, badly and far are irregular.

À RETENIR Irregular adverbs to memorize

- well → better → the best : Our team played better than theirs.
- badly → worse → the worst : He drives worse than his brother.
- far → farther/further → the farthest/furthest : She walked further than the others.

EXEMPLE Two comparatives in one sentence

“She works harder than her colleagues, so she was promoted more quickly.”

Here we can spot two comparatives of adverbs : harder (short adverb + -er) compares the effort, and more quickly (more + -ly adverb) compares the speed of the promotion. Notice the structure : comparative + than introduces the second element of the comparison.

4.3 Adverbs of Negation : hardly, scarcely, never

DÉFINITION Adverbs of negation

Hardly, scarcely and never are negative adverbs. Hardly and scarcely mean « almost not » (presque pas, à peine) ; never means « at no time » (jamais). A sentence with one of these adverbs is already negative : do not add another negation.

- I never vote without reading the candidates' programmes. (Je ne vote jamais sans...)

- He hardly listens to other people's opinions. (Il n'écoute presque pas...)
- There was scarcely enough time to discuss the project. (Il n'y avait presque pas assez de temps...)

ATTENTION The double negation trap

In standard English, two negatives in the same clause are wrong. Do not say : « I never don't vote » (x). Say instead : « I never vote » or « I don't ever vote ». The same rule applies with hardly : « I can't hardly wait » (x) must become « I can hardly wait » (Je peux à peine attendre).

MÉTHODE Translating « à peine...que » : inversion after Hardly/Scarcely

When Hardly or Scarcely begins the sentence, English uses an inversion with the past perfect, followed by when :

1. Start with Hardly or Scarcely.
2. Add had + subject + past participle.
3. Add when + simple past for the second action.

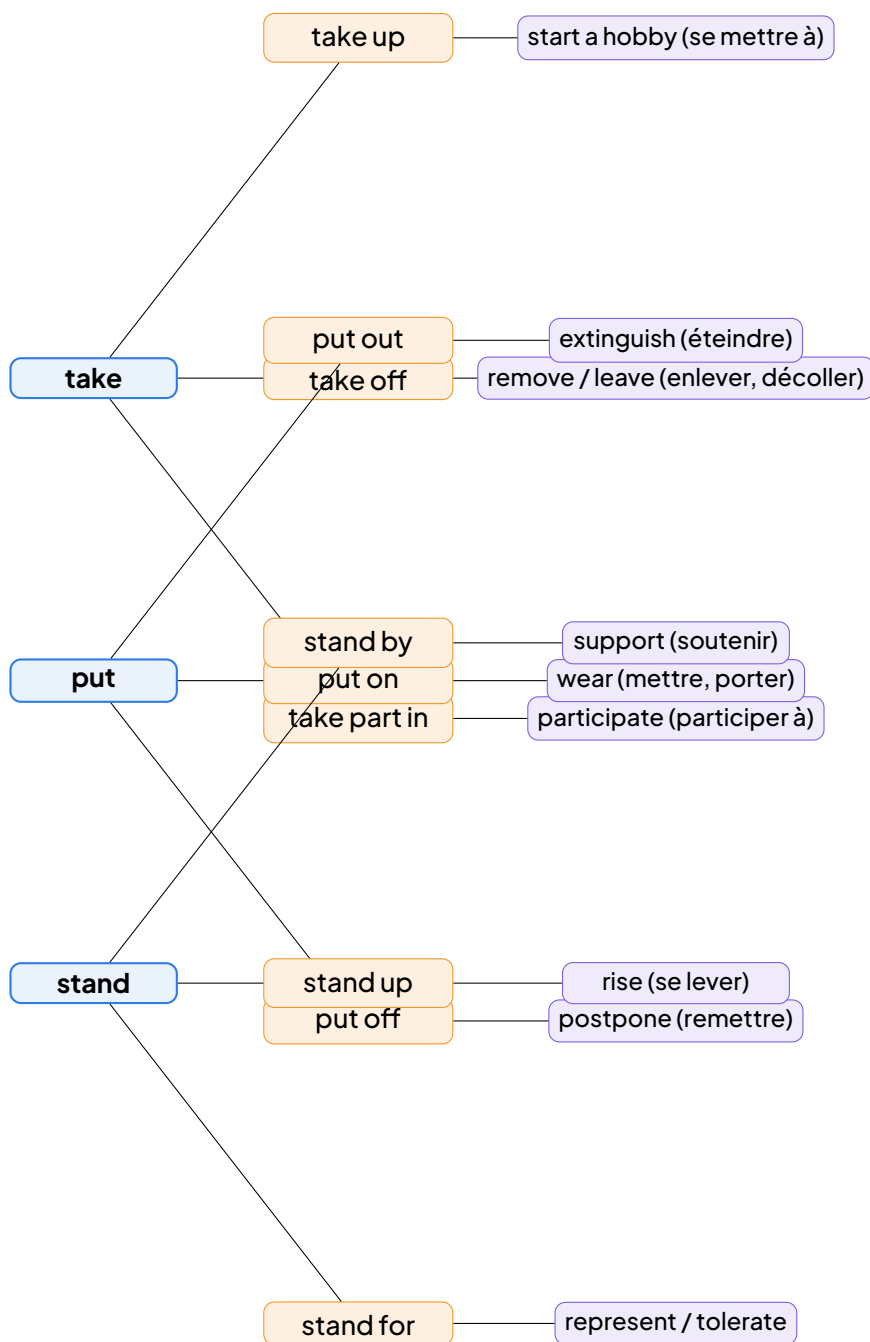

Example : Hardly had the meeting started when the lights went off. (À peine la réunion avait-elle commencé que la lumière s'est éteinte.)

Also : Scarcely had he arrived when the election results were announced.

4.4 Phrasal Verbs

DÉFINITION Phrasal verb

A phrasal verb is a verb combined with a particle (a preposition or an adverb) whose meaning is different from the original verb. Example : give = donner, but give up = stop, abandon (abandonner). You cannot guess the meaning from the verb alone : you must learn each phrasal verb as a new word.

Phrasal verb tree : one base verb (take, put, stand) combined with different particles gives completely different meanings.

À RETENIR

Essential phrasal verbs for work and citizenship

- carry out = to perform, to do (effectuer) : The council carried out a survey on public health.

- look after = to take care of (s'occuper de) : We must look after our environment.
- put off = to postpone (remettre à plus tard) : Never put off your civic duties.
- give up = to stop, to abandon (abandonner) : He gave up smoking for his health.
- stand for = to represent (représenter) : What does this political party stand for?
- take part in = to participate (participer à) : All citizens should take part in elections.
- bring up = to raise children or a topic (élever, soulever) : She brought up an important question at the meeting.
- get along with = to have a good relationship with (s'entendre avec) : He gets along with all his colleagues.
- follow up = to pursue, to check (faire un suivi) : The committee will follow up on the recommendations.
- hand in = to submit (remettre, déposer) : Please hand in your application before Friday.

LESAVAIS-TU ? One phrasal verb, two meanings

Stand for can mean « represent » : What does the flag stand for? (Que représente le drapeau?) But it can also mean « tolerate », usually in negative sentences : I won't stand for injustice! (Je ne tolérerai pas l'injustice!) Context tells you which meaning is correct.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 4 Rewriting with comparative adverbs and phrasal verbs

Rewrite the following sentences using the word in brackets, without changing the meaning.

1. Amina types quickly. Blandine types very quickly. (than)
2. The workers decided to postpone the strike. (put off)
3. Every citizen must participate in community work. (take part in)
4. Our old machine works efficiently, but the new one works very efficiently. (more)

SOLUTION

Solution :

1. Blandine types more quickly than Amina. (or : Amina types less quickly than Blandine – quickly is a long adverb → more quickly.)
2. The workers decided to put off the strike.
3. Every citizen must take part in community work.

4. The new machine works more efficiently than the old one.

EXERCICE 13 Practice : work and citizenship

A. Complete with the comparative of the adverb in brackets.

1. Since the training, the secretary works (efficiently).
2. Drivers in big cities should drive (carefully).
3. Our team arrived (early) than the visitors.
4. After his mistake, he behaved (badly) than before.

B. Replace the underlined expression with a phrasal verb : carry out, look after, give up, stand for.

1. The government must perform reforms to protect basic freedoms.
2. A good citizen takes care of public property.
3. The candidate explained what his party represents.
4. She decided to stop wasting time and registered to vote.

C. Translate : « À peine le président avait-il fini son discours que la foule a applaudi. » D. Choose the correct option.

1. I have never / never not seen such a peaceful election.
2. She hardly / can't hardly knows her neighbours.
3. The delegates discussed the issue more calmly / calmer than expected.

CORRIGÉ Exercice : Practice

- A. 1. more efficiently 2. more carefully 3. earlier 4. worse.
 B. 1. carry out → The government must carry out reforms... 2. ... looks after public property. 3. ... what his party stands for. 4. ... to give up wasting time...
 C. Hardly had the president finished his speech when the crowd applauded.
 D. 1. never 2. hardly 3. more calmly.

À RETENIR Key points of this section

- Short adverbs : -er / the -est (faster, the fastest) ; long adverbs in -ly : more / the most (more carefully, the most carefully).
- Irregular : well → better → best ; badly → worse → worst ; far → further → furthest.
- Hardly, scarcely, never are already negative : no double negation.
- Inversion : Hardly had + subject + past participle + when...
- A phrasal verb = verb + particle with a new meaning : learn it as one word.

5 WRITING : COMPOSITIONS ON DEMOCRACY, TOLERANCE AND FREEDOMS

In the previous sections of this unit, you have studied the grammar and vocabulary tools needed for this writing task : coordinating and subordinating conjunctions (since, for, yet, although, in spite of, despite, still, however, nevertheless), pronouns (each, each other, one another), prepositions and prepositional phrases of time, place and manner, comparative adverbs, adverbs of negation (hardly, scarcely, never) and phrasal verbs (stand up for, put up with, look after, give up). You have also built vocabulary on work culture, civic responsibility, democracy, tolerance and basic freedoms. Now you will assemble all these resources into a complete, exam-ready composition.

5.1 Understanding the Task : Types of Compositions

Before writing a single word, you must identify exactly what type of text the examination subject requires. At the Probatoire and Baccalauréat technique, three formats appear regularly. Misidentifying the format costs heavy marks.

DÉFINITION The three common composition types at Probatoire/Baccalauréat technique

- Argumentative essay (l'essai argumentatif) : you present a clear thesis on a given topic and defend it with logical arguments and concrete examples. Typical prompt : "Why every young Cameroonian should vote." or "Is tolerance necessary in a modern society?"
- Formal letter (la lettre formelle) : addressed to an authority (Divisional Officer, Minister, Editor of a newspaper) or an institution. It denounces a problem (corruption, tribalism, violation of freedoms) and proposes solutions. It must contain : sender's address, recipient's address, date, subject line, formal salutation ("Sir," / "Madam,"), structured body, formal closing ("Yours faithfully,") and signature.
- Speech (le discours) : a text written to be delivered orally on a public occasion (Youth Day, Human Rights Day, school assembly). It opens with a protocol greeting ("Mr Chairman, Distinguished Guests, Fellow Students..."), uses rhetorical devices (repetition, direct address, rhetorical questions), and ends with a strong call to action ("Let us all stand up for tolerance today!").

ATTENTION Read the instructions twice – underline key constraints

Many candidates lose marks because they write an essay when the subject asks for a letter, or they ignore the word limit. Always underline : (1) the type of text required, (2) the word count (usually 150–200 words for Probatoire, 200–250 words for Baccalauréat),

(3) the exact topic. Respect them exactly.

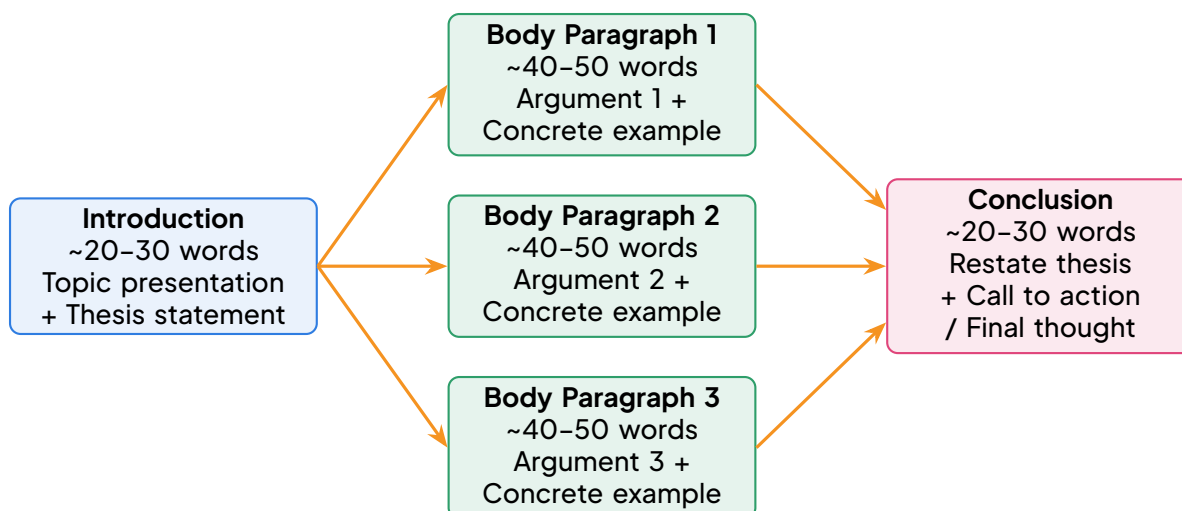

5.2 Planning : Brainstorming and Building an Outline

A successful composition is never improvised. Good writers spend 10 minutes planning before writing. This investment saves time later and guarantees coherence.

MÉTHODE

Step-by-step planning for an argumentative essay

1. Analyse the prompt. Identify the key terms. Example : “Promoting tolerance in my school” → key terms : promoting (action), tolerance (core value), school (context).
2. Brainstorm freely (3 minutes). Write down every idea, example, word, or personal experience that comes to mind. Do not judge yet. For tolerance in school : sharing food at break, respecting different religions, no tribal jokes, helping new students, speaking kindly, accepting defeat in sports, mixed group work in workshops, celebrating cultural days.
3. Select and order (3 minutes). Choose the three strongest, most distinct ideas. Order them strategically : simplest/most obvious → deeper/more persuasive → strongest/broadest impact.
4. Write the thesis statement (1 minute). Formulate your position in one clear sentence. “Promoting tolerance in my school is the foundation of peaceful learning and academic success.”
5. Sketch the outline (3 minutes). Use the structure below : Introduction (topic + thesis), Body 1 (Argument 1 + Example), Body 2 (Argument 2 + Example), Body 3 (Argument 3 + Example), Conclusion (restate thesis + final message).

Standard argumentative essay structure for Probatoire/Baccalauréat technique (target : 150–200 words). Each body paragraph = ONE main idea + ONE developed example.

5.3 Paragraph Structure : The Building Blocks

An essay is only as strong as its paragraphs. Master the perfect paragraph formula.

PROPRIÉTÉ The rule of the perfect paragraph

A high-scoring paragraph contains exactly four elements in this order :

1. Topic sentence (phrase sujet) : states the single main idea of the paragraph. No surprise, no question.
2. Supporting sentences (2–3) : explain the idea, give reasons, and provide a concrete, contextualised example (from your school, quarter, Cameroon).
3. Connector/Transition : a linking word showing the logical relation to the next idea (moreover, however, therefore).
4. Concluding/Linking sentence : summarises the paragraph's point or bridges to the next paragraph.

Golden rule : One paragraph = One idea only.

EXEMPLE Annotated model paragraph

[Topic sentence] Tolerance makes our school a better place to learn. [Support 1] In Government Technical High School Bamenda, students come from all ten regions of Cameroon. [Support 2 + Example] Although we speak different languages at home, we work together in the mechanical workshop and help one another during practical lessons. For example, during the last inter-class sports competition, students from different villages formed one team and won the trophy. [Concluding + Transition] Therefore, accepting our differences makes us stronger and prepares us for national unity.

ATTENTION Common paragraph errors

- No topic sentence → the reader guesses the main idea.
- Two ideas in one paragraph → split into two paragraphs.
- Example missing or vague → “For example, in my school...” (name the place, the event, the people).
- Connector used as topic sentence → “Moreover, tolerance is good.” (“Moreover” connects, it does not state an idea).

5.4 Linking Ideas : Recycling Your Connectors

Connectors are the signposts of your logic. The examiner checks for variety and accuracy. You have learned them in the grammar lessons of this unit – now recycle them deliberately.

Logical Function	Connectors (vary them!)
Addition / Reinforcement	moreover, in addition, furthermore, also, besides, what is more
Contrast / Concession	although, even though, however, nevertheless, yet, still, despite, in spite of, whereas, while
Cause / Reason	because, since, as, for, due to the fact that
Consequence / Result	therefore, so, consequently, as a result, that is why, hence
Exemplification	for example, for instance, such as, namely, a case in point is
Conclusion / Summary	in conclusion, to sum up, finally, in short, ultimately, all things considered

MÉTHODE How to vary connectors in your essay

1. Map each logical move in your outline to a different connector from the table.
2. Introduction → Body 1 : First of all, / To begin with, / The primary reason is that
3. Body 1 → Body 2 : Moreover, / In addition, / Furthermore,
4. Inside Body 2 (contrast) : Although some argue..., / Despite this,
5. Body 2 → Body 3 : What is more, / Beyond that,

6. Body 3 → Conclusion : In conclusion, / Ultimately, / All things considered,

ATTENTION The “And/But” trap

Writing “Voting is a right and it is a duty and it is important” shows poor control. Write :
“Voting is a right ; moreover, it is a civic duty. However, many young people neglect it.”
Never use the same connector twice in a 180–word composition.

5.5 Using the Unit’s Grammar Accurately – The Examiner’s Checklist

The marking grid explicitly rewards correct, natural use of the grammar points taught in this unit. Insert them where they fit logically, not artificially.

Grammar Point	Required Form	Natural In- te- gra- tion Example
Pronouns	each, each other, one another	Each ci- ti- zen has a duty. Stu- dents must res- pect each other. We should lis- ten to one ano- ther.
Prepositions	time (in, on, at), place (in, at, on), manner (with, by, in)	Elections take place in Oc- to- ber at the pol- ling sta- tion. We must vote with di- gnity in a pea- ce- ful man- ner.

À RETENIR Grammar insertion strategy

- Plan the grammar during your 10-minute outline : write one target structure per body paragraph in the margin.
- Do not force all structures into one sentence. Spread them naturally.
- Accuracy > Complexity : a simple correct sentence scores higher than a complex incorrect one.

5.6 Model Composition Analysis : “Why Every Young Cameroonian Should Vote”

Study this model (182 words) as a template. It integrates all required grammar, varied connectors, concrete Cameroonian context, and clear paragraphing.

EXEMPLE Model composition – Argumentative Essay

Democracy gives every citizen the power to choose their leaders. In my opinion, voting is not only a right but also a duty for every young Cameroonian.

First of all, voting allows young people to shape their future. Since the youth represent the majority of the population, their votes can change the country's direction. For example, when students vote massively, they can elect leaders who will build more technical schools and create apprenticeships.

Moreover, voting teaches civic responsibility. Although some young people think their single vote is useless, each vote counts. A young citizen who votes learns to stand up for his ideas and to respect the choice of others.

However, voting must be done peacefully. We should never fight because of politics ; instead, we must put up with different opinions and speak out against violence.

In conclusion, every young Cameroonian should register and vote, because voting builds democracy, responsibility and peace. Let us all take part in the future of our country !

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 5 Detailed analysis of the model composition

Task : Identify (a) the thesis statement, (b) the three arguments with their examples, (c) six different connectors, (d) three phrasal verbs, (e) one adverb of negation, (f) two pronouns (each/each other/one another), (g) two prepositional phrases (time/place/manner), (h) one comparative adverb.

SOLUTION

Solution. (a) Thesis : “voting is not only a right but also a duty for every young Cameroonian” (end of introduction). (b) Arguments :

1. Shape future – Example : students elect leaders who build technical schools/create apprenticeships.
2. Teaches civic responsibility – Example : voter learns to stand up for ideas, respect others' choice.
3. Must be peaceful – Example : put up with differences, speak out against violence.

(c) Connectors : In my opinion, First of all, Since, For example, Moreover, Although, However, instead, In conclusion, because (9 different ones used). (d) Phrasal verbs : stand up for, put up with, speak out against. (e) Adverb of negation : never (“We should never fight...”). (f) Pronouns : each (“each vote”), others (“choice of others” – reciprocal sense). (g) Prepositional phrases : in the country's direction (place/manner), with dignity (manner – implied in “peacefully”), at the polling station (place – typical context). (h) Comparative adverb : more actively (implied in “participate more actively than before” – not explicit in this model but required in your writing).

5.7 Guided Writing : Argumentative Essay (Exam Practice)

EXAMPLE Probatoire-type subject

“Write a composition of 150–200 words on : The importance of freedom of speech in a democracy.” Plan (10 min) :

- Thesis : Freedom of speech is the pillar of democracy.
- Arg 1 : Citizens can criticise bad governance → Example : press exposes corruption.
- Arg 2 : Informed citizens make better choices → Example : radio debates before elections.
- Arg 3 : Freedom has limits (respect others) → Example : hate speech laws.
- Conclusion : Defend free speech responsibly.

Grammar targets to insert : although, moreover, however, never, stand up for, each other, more freely than, in + month, at + place.

EXERCICE 14 Guided Writing – Argumentative Essay

Write a composition of 150–200 words on : “Promoting tolerance in my school / community.” Requirements :

1. Follow the 5-paragraph structure (Intro, 3 Body, Conclusion).
2. Use at least four different connectors from the table.

3. Include one phrasal verb, one adverb of negation (never/hardly/scarcely), the pronoun each other or one another.
4. Give one concrete Cameroonian example per body paragraph (name a place, event, or situation).
5. Count your words and write the total at the end.

CORRIGÉ Guided Writing – Sample Answer (178 words)

Tolerance means accepting people who are different from us. In my opinion, promoting tolerance in my school is the best way to live and learn in peace.

First, tolerance creates friendship among students. In my school in Yaoundé, we come from different regions and religions, yet we share our food at break time and help each other with homework. For instance, during the last cultural week, students from the Far North and the South-West organised a joint dance show that won first prize.

Moreover, tolerance improves our academic results. Since we work in mixed groups in the electrical workshop, everyone brings different skills, and we succeed more easily than when we work alone. However, tolerance is not always easy. We must never laugh at a classmate's accent or tribe; instead, we must put up with our differences and stand up for any student who is rejected.

In conclusion, tolerance makes my school a family. If each student respects one another, our school will become an example for the whole community. Let us build that future today!

5.8 Guided Writing : Formal Letter and Speech (Other Exam Formats)

The Probatoire/Baccalauréat may ask for a letter or a speech. The argumentative core remains; only the format changes.

EXEMPLE Formal Letter – Structure & Sample Opening

Subject : "Write a letter to the Divisional Officer denouncing tribal discrimination in your quarter and proposing solutions."

[Your Address]

[Date]

The Divisional Officer

[Division]

[Region]

Subject : Denouncing Tribal Discrimination in [Quarter Name]

Sir,

I am writing to draw your attention to the growing tribal discrimination in our quarter...

[Body paragraphs using same argument structure] ... I urge you to organise quarterly dialogue meetings and sanction offenders.

Yours faithfully,

[Signature]

[Your Full Name]

EXAMPLE Speech – Structure & Sample Opening

Occasion : Youth Day, 11 February. Subject : “The Role of Youth in Defending Basic Freedoms.”

Mr Chairman, Distinguished Authorities, Dear Friends,

Today, as we celebrate Youth Day, I want to speak about the duty of every young Cameroonian to defend our basic freedoms. First of all, freedom of expression allows us to speak out against injustice... [Body paragraphs] ... In conclusion, let us never be silent. Let us stand up for our rights and build a Cameroon where each voice counts! Thank you.

EXERCICE 15 Format Conversion Practice

Take the sample answer on “Promoting tolerance in my school” (178 words) and :

1. Rewrite it as a formal letter to the Principal (add addresses, date, subject, salutation, closing). Keep 150–200 words.
2. Rewrite it as a speech for the School Assembly (add protocol greeting, rhetorical question, call to action). Keep 150–200 words.

5.9 Peer Correction and Self-Assessment : The Examiner’s Grid

After writing, exchange compositions with a partner. Use this official-style grid. Be strict – generosity hides errors.

Criterion	Guiding Questions	Max
Content (Ideas)	Are ideas relevant, developed, and supported by concrete Cameroonian examples ? Is the thesis clear?	/4
Organisation	Clear 5-paragraph structure? Logical flow? Topic sentences? Effective conclusion?	/4
Connectors	At least 4 different connectors used correctly? Varied functions (addition, contrast, cause, conclusion)?	/3
Grammar Accuracy	Target structures used correctly : pronouns (each/each other), prepositions (time/place/manner), comparative adverbs, adverbs of negation, phrasal verbs, conjunctions? Tenses consistent?	/4
Vocabulary Range	Words from unit : democracy, tolerance, freedom, civic responsibility, discrimination, governance, ballot, petition, advocacy, unity, diversity, harmony? No repetition of basic words?	/3
Mechanics	Spelling, punctuation, capitalisation? Word count respected (150-200 / 200-250)? Legible handwriting?	/2
TOTAL		/20

MÉTHODESelf-correction routine (do this alone before handing in)

1. Count words. If < 150 or > 200 (Probatoire), adjust.
2. Circle every connector. Are there ≥ 4 different ones? Any repeated? Replace repeats.
3. Highlight target grammar : pronouns (yellow), prepositions (green), comparative adverbs (blue), negation adverbs (pink), phrasal verbs (orange), conjunctions (purple). Missing one? Insert it now.
4. Check each paragraph : Topic sentence? Example? Transition?
5. Read aloud. Does it sound natural? Fix awkward phrasing.

LESAVAIS-TU ?How your composition is marked at Probatoire/Baccalauréat technique

The composition carries 20 marks (often 20% of the English paper). Markers use a grid similar to the one above. Key insights from past marking reports :

- Content + Organisation = 8 marks. A clear thesis + 3 developed arguments with local examples (your school, your quarter, Cameroon) scores highly.
- Grammar = 4 marks. Accuracy of the unit's specific structures is checked first. Errors in basic tenses (present simple, past simple) are penalised heavily.
- Vocabulary = 3 marks. Using unit-specific words (civic responsibility, ballot, advocacy, tolerance, discrimination, freedom of speech, governance) shows mastery. "Good", “bad”, “nice” lower the score.

- Mechanics = 2 marks. Easy marks – don’t lose them through carelessness.
- Quality beats quantity. A well-organised 160-word essay with correct grammar and rich vocabulary outscores a 250-word essay full of errors and repetition.

À RETENIR Key Points to Remember for Exam Success

- Identify the format (essay, letter, speech) – underline it in the subject.
- Plan 10 minutes : brainstorm → select 3 ideas → order → thesis → outline.
- Structure : 5 paragraphs (Intro, Body×3, Conclusion). One idea per paragraph.
- Paragraph anatomy : Topic sentence + 2–3 supports (with concrete example) + Transition.
- Connectors : Minimum 4 different ones, varied functions, no repetition.
- Grammar showcase : Naturally insert pronouns, prepositions, comparative adverbs, negation adverbs, phrasal verbs, conjunctions – one per paragraph planned in advance.
- Vocabulary : Use the unit’s lexical field (democracy, tolerance, freedoms, civic responsibility...).
- Self-correct : Word count, connectors, grammar targets, paragraph structure, mechanics.
- Peer correct : Use the grid. Be the strict examiner you want to impress.

6 INTEGRATION, EVALUATION AND REMEDIATION

In the previous section, you learned how to plan, draft and correct a composition about democracy, tolerance and basic freedoms. Writing is the last skill of the lesson, but learning does not stop there. Now it is time to integrate everything : to combine speaking, listening, reading, grammar and writing in one real-life project, to check your progress through a summative evaluation (évaluation sommative), and to repair your weaknesses through remediation (remédiation). A good technician never delivers a machine without testing it ; a good learner never finishes a unit without testing himself or herself.

6.1 Integration Activity : A Real-Life Citizenship Project

DÉFINITION Integration activity

An integration activity is a task that combines several language skills (speaking, listening, reading, grammar and writing) around one meaningful, real-life situation. Its goal is not to test one rule, but to check that you can use English to act in society.

The project : “Our Community, Our Responsibility”. In groups of four, you will prepare a short public presentation (5 minutes) for the class, as if you were addressing your village or neighbourhood committee. The project has five steps, and each step uses one skill of the lesson :

1. Reading : read a short text about a community problem (dirty market square, water shortage, absenteeism at work) and identify the causes.
2. Listening : listen to a recorded message from a local leader about civic responsibility and take notes.
3. Speaking : discuss in your group and agree on two realistic solutions ; use connectors such as although, however, since, moreover.
4. Grammar : check your script for correct pronouns (each, each other, one another), prepositions of time, place and manner, and phrasal verbs (carry out, clean up, look after).
5. Writing : produce a one-page written proposal that summarises your presentation.

The five skills of the lesson integrated around one citizenship project. Each skill feeds the others : reading and listening give ideas, speaking and grammar shape them, and writing fixes them.

MÉTHODE How to succeed in an integration task

1. Read the situation carefully and underline the task : who are you, to whom do you speak, what must you produce ?
2. Gather ideas from the documents (text, recording) before inventing your own.
3. Share the work in the group : a secretary writes, a timekeeper watches the clock, everyone speaks.

4. Use at least three connectors and two phrasal verbs from the lesson.
5. Rehearse the presentation once, then correct the script before the final performance.

6.2 Summative Evaluation

DÉFINITION Summative evaluation

A summative evaluation (évaluation sommative) is a final test given at the end of a lesson or unit. It measures what you have mastered and gives a mark. It is different from a formative evaluation, which only helps you to progress during learning.

The evaluation of this lesson has three parts, for a total of 20 marks.

EXEMPLE Typical marking scheme (barème type)

Part	Content	Marks
Grammar quiz	10 items : conjunctions (although, despite, however, since, for, yet), pronouns (each, each other, one another), prepositions of time/place/manner, comparative adverbs, adverbs of negation (hardly, scarcely, never), phrasal verbs	/10
Vocabulary test	5 items : work culture, civic responsibility, democracy and freedoms	/5
Short composition	80–100 words : “Why should every citizen vote?”	/5
Total		/20

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 6 Sample grammar item (conjunctions)

Complete the sentence : “..... it was raining heavily, the workers finished the bridge on time.” (a) Despite (b) Although (c) However

SOLUTION

The correct answer is (b) Although, because it is followed by a full clause (subject + verb : it was raining). Despite must be followed by a noun or -ing form (Despite the rain), and

However introduces a new sentence, usually after a semicolon or a full stop. Typical distractors test exactly this difference.

ATTENTION The most expensive mistake : neglecting proofreading

Many learners lose 2 or 3 marks not because they do not know the rule, but because they do not re-read. Always keep the last 5 minutes to check : (1) subject-verb agreement (each citizen has, not have); (2) prepositions of time (in 2026, on Monday, at 8 o'clock); (3) spelling of key words (responsibility, democracy, freedom); (4) double negation, which is wrong in standard English (I don't know nothing → I don't know anything).

6.3 Remediation : Repairing Your Weaknesses

After the test, the teacher returns the scripts with the errors highlighted. Remediation means working precisely on your own errors, not repeating the whole lesson.

MÉTHODE How to remediate effectively

1. Identify the error : name it exactly ("I wrote although...but").
2. Review the rule : go back to the grammar table of the lesson and read the correct model aloud.
3. Redo three targeted exercises on that single point, then check with the correction.
4. Get re-tested : ask a classmate or the teacher to give you one new item on the same point. If you succeed, the gap is closed.

Targeted exercise 1 – Double negation. Correct : "The voters didn't say nothing." → The voters didn't say anything. (Standard English allows only one negation per clause.)

Targeted exercise 2 – Although / but. Correct : "Although the work was hard, but they finished it." → Although the work was hard, they finished it. (Never use although and but in the same sentence : one connector is enough.)

Targeted exercise 3 – Prepositions of time. Fill in : the meeting is on Friday at 10 a.m., in December. (Days → on; clock times → at; months and years → in.)

6.4 Peer Tutoring and Self-Evaluation

DÉFINITION Peer tutoring

Peer tutoring (tutorat entre pairs) is a strategy where a stronger learner explains one grammar point to a partner, using his or her own examples. Explaining forces you to organise your knowledge : teaching is the best way of learning.

In pairs, learner A chooses one point (for example despite vs in spite of), explains the rule in simple English, gives two personal examples ("Despite the noise, I sleep well."), then learner B must produce one new sentence. After five minutes, roles are exchanged.

Self-evaluation grid – Lesson 4

Competence	I can do it and practice
I can use conjunctions (although, despite, however, since, for, yet)	☐
I can use pronouns (each, each other, one, another)	☐
I can use prepositions of time, place and manner	☐
I can use comparative adverbs, phrasal verbs and adverbs of negation	☐
I can write a composition on democracy and freedoms	☐

Tick one box per line. If you tick "I need practice", go back to the remediation method : identify the error, review the rule, redo three exercises, get re-tested.

6.5 Extension for the Probatoire and Bac Technique

ATTENTION Extension – signalled as exam preparation

The following task goes one step further : it prepares you directly for the writing paper of the Probatoire and Baccalauréat technique, where a formal letter is a frequent subject.

Task : Write a formal letter (120–150 words) to your Sub-Divisional Officer about a community problem (for example, the dirty market square). Use the vocabulary of the lesson (civic responsibility, community, to carry out, to clean up) and at least three connectors (since, although, however, moreover).

LESAVAIS-TU? The formal letter at the Probatoire technique

The formal letter is one of the most frequent writing tasks at the Probatoire technique. Its structure is fixed and earns easy marks : (1) your address and the date at the top right ; (2) the recipient's address at the left ; (3) the salutation (Dear Sir/Madam) ; (4) the body in two or three short paragraphs ; (5) the closing formula (Yours faithfully,) and your signature. Examiners reward a clean layout as much as correct grammar.

EXERCICE 16 Final self-check

1. Choose the correct option : “Each student must respect one” (other / another / each other). 2. Rewrite without a mistake : “Despite of the rain, the meeting took place on 5 p.m.” 3. In six lines, explain why voting is a civic duty, using since and however.

CORRIGÉ Exercice Final self-check

1. another (“one another” is the reciprocal pronoun; each other cannot follow one here). 2. Despite the rain, the meeting took place at 5 p.m. (despite never takes of – that is in spite of; clock time takes at, not on). 3. Sample answer : Voting is a civic duty since it allows every citizen to choose the leaders of the community. Many people fought for this freedom; however, some citizens still do not register. If we all vote, our democracy becomes stronger.

À RETENIR To remember

Integration combines the five skills in one real project; the summative evaluation measures your mastery (grammar /10, vocabulary /5, composition /5); remediation repairs your exact errors in four steps; peer tutoring and the “I can...” grid make you an autonomous learner – the true mark of a citizen and of an excellent worker.

7 ACTIVITÉ D'INTÉGRATION

8 CITIZENSHIP AND HUMAN RIGHTS – INTEGRATION ACTIVITY

8.1 Objectifs de l'activité

This integration activity (activité d'intégration) brings together all the knowledge of the lesson Citizenship and Human Rights. At the end of the activity, each student will be able to :

- analyse authentic documents (a photograph, a short article, statistics) and identify a citizenship problem in the school (identifier un problème de citoyenneté);
- use the vocabulary of work culture, excellence at work, civic responsibility, democracy, tolerance and basic freedoms in a real production task;
- write a 150–word campaign speech using at least 3 contrast conjunctions (although, however, nevertheless, yet, despite...), 2 pronouns (each, each other, one another), 3 prepositions of time or place, 1 adverb of negation (hardly, scarcely, never) and 2 phrasal verbs;
- deliver the speech orally with fluency and correct pronunciation (présenter le discours à l'oral);
- design a poster with a clear slogan (une affiche avec un slogan);
- evaluate the production of other groups with an assessment grid (grille d'évaluation) and accept peer feedback.

8.2 Situation

Citizenship in Action : A Campaign for Our School

You are students of G.T.H.S. (Government Technical High School) Nkol-Eton, Yaoundé. The school has 1 200 students. Next month, the school will organise the election of class delegates (délégués de classe) and the annual "Clean School Day". The principal is worried, and the Parent-Teacher Association has collected the following information.

Document 1 – Photograph. A photograph of the school yard taken last Friday at 4 p.m. : plastic bags and empty bottles on the ground, papers near the dustbin, two students walking past the rubbish without picking it up.

Document 2 – Short article (school magazine). "Last year, only 40 % of the students of G.T.H.S. Nkol-Eton voted in the class delegate elections. Many students said : 'Voting is useless, nothing changes.' Some candidates insulted each other during the campaign, and two groups quarrelled after the results. However, the elected delegates obtained a new water tap and repaired fans for three classrooms."

Document 3 – Statistics (fictional data).

Indicator	Last year	This year (target)
Participation in delegate elections	40 % (480 students)	75 % (900 students)
Students who clean the yard regularly	25 % (300 students)	60 % (720 students)
Reported quarrels during campaign week	12 cases	0 case

The principal launches a competition : “Citizenship in Action”. Each group of 4 students must prepare a campaign to convince the school community to vote, to keep the yard clean, to respect one another and to develop a culture of excellence at work. The best campaign will be presented during the general assembly (assemblée générale).

8.3 Consignes

Work in groups of 4. Follow the steps in order.

- Document analysis. Look at the photograph, read the article and study the table. Answer in full sentences : (a) What problems can you identify in the school? (b) How many students did not vote last year? (c) What did the elected delegates obtain? (d) Why is 12 quarrels a problem for tolerance and democracy?
- Problem identification. Choose one main citizenship problem for your campaign (low participation, dirty yard, intolerance during elections, or lack of work culture). Justify your choice in two sentences, using one contrast conjunction.
- Writing the speech. Write a campaign speech of about 150 words. Your speech must contain : at least 3 contrast conjunctions (although, though, yet, however, nevertheless, despite, in spite of, still), 2 pronouns from the lesson (each, each other, one another), 3 prepositions of time or place (in, on, at, during, before, after, next to, in front of...), 1 adverb of negation (hardly, scarcely, never) and 2 phrasal verbs (stand up for, look after, pick up, put forward, carry out, take part in).
- Oral presentation. Choose one or two speakers. Present your speech to the class in 2 minutes. Speak clearly, look at the audience (regarder l’auditoire) and use gestures.
- Poster. Produce an A4 poster with a short slogan (maximum 10 words), one drawing or symbol, and the name of your group.
- Peer evaluation. While other groups present, fill in the assessment grid below. Give a mark from 0 to 4 for each criterion and one piece of advice (un conseil).

Criterion	Mark (0–4)	Advice
Content : the problem is clear, the message is convincing
Grammar : conjunctions, pronouns, prepositions, adverbs
Vocabulary : words of citizenship, work culture, freedoms
Oral fluency : pronunciation, rhythm, confidence
Poster : slogan, clarity, creativity

8.4 Ressources à mobiliser

À RETENIR Toolbox for the campaign

- Contrast conjunctions : although / even though + clause ; despite / in spite of + noun or -ing ; however, nevertheless, still, yet to oppose two ideas. Example : “Although voting takes time, it changes our school.”
- Pronouns : each (every single person, singular verb), each other (reciprocal, two people), one another (reciprocal, more than two). Example : “Candidates must respect one another.”
- Prepositions of time : at + hour (at 8 a.m.), on + day/date (on Friday, on 12 June), in + month/year/part of day (in June, in the morning), during + noun (during the campaign).
Prepositions of place : in (inside), on (surface), at (point), next to, in front of, behind, near.
- Adverbs of negation : never, hardly, scarcely (negative meaning : do not add another “not”). Example : “We never clean the yard.” / “We hardly see any change.”
- Phrasal verbs : stand up for (défendre), look after (prendre soin de), pick up (ramasser), put forward (proposer), carry out (mener à bien), take part in (participer à).
- Comparative adverbs : more actively, better, harder, more peacefully than.

8.5 Démarche et corrigé commentéEXERCICE RÉSOLU 7 Model answer – Group “Clean Vote”

Énoncé. Produce the complete group production : document analysis, problem identification, 150-word speech and slogan, respecting all the language constraints.

SOLUTION

Step 1 – Document analysis. (a) The problems are : low participation in elections, a dirty yard, and intolerance between candidates. (b) Last year, $1\,200 - 480 = 720$ students did not vote, that is 60 %. (c) The elected delegates obtained a new water tap and repaired fans for three classrooms : this proves that voting is useful. (d) Twelve quarrels show a lack of tolerance ; democracy needs peaceful debate, not violence.

Step 2 – Problem identification. Our group chooses low participation in the delegate elections, because it is the root of the other problems : although students complain, they never vote, so nothing changes.

Step 3 – Model speech (about 150 words).

“Dear students of G.T.H.S. Nkol-Eton,

Last year, only 40 % of us voted in the delegate elections. Although many students complain about dirty classrooms and broken fans, they never vote. However, voting works : our delegates obtained a new water tap in front of Block B.

Each of us has a voice, and we must respect one another during the campaign. Candidates should debate peacefully; they should not insult each other. Despite our differences, we are one school.

Nevertheless, words are not enough. Let us take part in the elections, stand up for our rights and look after our yard. Let us pick up the rubbish next to the dustbin and work harder than before.

On Friday, vote! Together, we can build a clean, tolerant and excellent school.”

(150 words; constraints verified: 4 contrast conjunctions – although, however, nevertheless, despite; 3 pronouns – each, one another, each other; 5 prepositions – in, in front of, during, next to, on; 1 adverb of negation – never; 4 phrasal verbs – take part in, stand up for, look after, pick up.)

Step 4 – Oral presentation. The speaker reads slowly, stresses the key words (vote, respect, together) and looks at the audience. The group answers one question from the class.

Step 5 – Slogan. “Your vote, your school, your future!” (6 words, with a comma rhythm easy to remember.)

Step 6 – Peer evaluation. Example of feedback: Content 4/4; Grammar 3/4 (one wrong preposition: in Friday → on Friday); Vocabulary 4/4; Fluency 3/4 (speak louder); Poster 4/4. Total: 18/20.

ATTENTION Common mistakes to avoid

- Do not use two negatives: say “We never vote” or “We do not vote”, never “We don’t never vote”.
- After despite / in spite of, use a noun or -ing, not a full clause: “Despite the rain”, not “Despite it rains”.
- Each takes a singular verb: “Each student has a voice.”
- Prepositions of time: at + hour, on + day, in + month or year.
- Hardly and scarcely are negative in meaning; never write “not hardly” or “not scarcely”.
- Phrasal verbs are inseparable in this context: take part in, not take in part.

8.6 Bilan de l’activité

This activity has shown that grammar and vocabulary are not isolated rules: they are tools to act as citizens (citoyens). By analysing real documents, the students practised reading figures and identifying a social problem; by writing the speech, they reused contrast conjunctions, pronouns, prepositions, adverbs of negation and phrasal verbs in a meaningful context; by speaking in public and evaluating their peers, they developed confidence, tolerance and critical thinking (esprit critique). The remediation phase targets the errors observed in the grids – mainly double negation, the structure after despite, and prepositions of time – through short corrective exercises before the final evaluation. The campaign also proves that democracy begins at school : voting, respecting one another and working with excellence are concrete behaviours that each student can adopt every day.

9 MÉTHODES ET EXERCICES RÉSOLUS

10 LESSON 04 : CITIZENSHIP AND HUMAN RIGHTS

10.1 Methods and Solved Exercises

MÉTHODE Expressing Work Culture and Excellence using Conjunctions

Objective : Link ideas logically when speaking about professional attitudes (cause, contrast, addition, condition).

1. Identify the relationship between the two ideas you want to connect.
 - Addition : and, also, moreover, furthermore, in addition
 - Contrast : but, yet, although, even though, despite, in spite of, however, nevertheless, still
 - Cause/Reason : because, since, for, as, due to, owing to
 - Condition : if, unless, provided that
 - Purpose : to, in order to, so that
2. Choose the correct structure :
 - Although / Even though + Subject + Verb (Although he was tired, he finished the report.)
 - Despite / In spite of + Noun / Gerund (-ing) (Despite his tiredness / Despite being tired, he finished.)
 - Since / As / For often start a sentence or come mid-sentence for reason. For is formal/literary, never starts a sentence in modern English.
 - However / Nevertheless / Moreover / Furthermore are conjunctive adverbs. Use a semicolon (;) or full stop (.) before them and a comma (,) after. (He was late ; however, he apologized.)
3. Practise aloud : Simulate a job interview or a team meeting. Use at least 3 different conjunction types per minute.
4. Self-correct : Record yourself. Check if although is followed by a clause and despite by a noun/gerund.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 8Speaking Simulation : The Ideal Employee

Task : Complete the dialogue between a Supervisor (Mr. Ngono) and an Intern (Marie) using the correct conjunction from the box. Then, practise the dialogue with a partner.

Box : although, despite, since, however, moreover, in order to, unless

Dialogue :

1. Mr. Ngono : Marie, you submitted the report early _____ the deadline was Friday.
2. Marie : _____ I want to build a reputation for reliability, I prioritize tasks.
3. Mr. Ngono : _____ your young age, you show great maturity. _____, you communicate well with the team.
4. Marie : Thank you, sir. I believe we fail _____ we support each other.
5. Mr. Ngono : Exactly. Maintain this attitude _____ go far.

SOLUTION

Solution détaillée :

1. although (or even though). Reason : Introduces a contrast clause (Subject + Verb : "the deadline was Friday"). Fr : Bien que.
2. Since (or As / Because). Reason : Introduces a reason/cause clause at the start of the sentence. Fr : Puisque / Comme.
3. Despite (or In spite of). Reason : Followed by a noun phrase ("your young age"), not a full clause. Fr : Malgré.
4. Moreover (or Furthermore / In addition). Reason : Adds a new positive point. Starts a new sentence, followed by a comma. Fr : De plus / En outre.
5. unless. Reason : Introduces a negative condition ("if not"). "We fail unless we support..." = "We fail if we do not support...". Fr : À moins que / Si... pas.
6. in order to. Reason : Expresses purpose, followed by base verb ("go"). Structure : Imperative + in order to + base verb. Fr : Afin de / Pour.

Corrected Dialogue :

Mr. Ngono : Marie, you submitted the report early although the deadline was Friday.

Marie : Since I want to build a reputation for reliability, I prioritize tasks.

Mr. Ngono : Despite your young age, you show great maturity. Moreover, you communicate well with the team.

Marie : Thank you, sir. I believe we fail unless we support each other.

Mr. Ngono : Exactly. Maintain this attitude in order to go far.

Conclusion : Mastering the syntax of conjunctions (clause vs. phrase) is essential for fluent professional speech.

MÉTHODE Using Reciprocal Pronouns for Civic Responsibility

Objective : Correctly use each other and one another to express mutual actions, and each as a determiner/pronoun.

1. Distinguish the forms :

- Each other / One another : Reciprocal pronouns. Action goes both ways between two+ people. They respect each other. (Standard for 2 or more). The community members help one another. (Often preferred for groups/general statements).
- Each : Distributive. Focuses on individuals separately. Each citizen has a duty. (Determiner + singular noun). Each of us must vote. (Pronoun + of + plural pronoun/noun, verb usually singular).

2. Listening Strategy : Identify keywords signaling mutual obligation (mutual, shared, together, community, solidarity, respect, help, support).

3. Grammar Check :

- Never say "each others" (no 's').
- Possessive : each other's / one another's (They checked each other's work.).
- Each takes a singular verb. Each of the students is responsible.

Key Vocabulary : civic duty (devoir civique), volunteer (bénévole), community service (service communautaire), solidarity (solidarité), accountability (responsabilisation), mutual respect (respect mutuel), ballot (bulletin de vote), polling station (bureau de vote).

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 9 Listening Comprehension & Grammar Gap-Fill

Task : Listen to the short talk "Building a Better Neighbourhood" (script provided below) and fill in the gaps with each other, one another, each, or each of. Script : "Good morning.

A strong community depends on mutual respect. Citizens must listen to _____ (1) during town hall meetings. _____ (2) person brings a unique view. _____ (3) the representatives, the mayor included, must serve the people. We should care for _____ (4) in times of crisis. If _____ (5) neighbour watches the street, we are all safer. Let us promise to support _____ (6)."

SOLUTION

Solution détaillée :

1. each other (or one another). Reason : Reciprocal action "listen to [one another]". Subject "Citizens" (plural). Fr : les uns les autres.
2. Each. Reason : Determiner before singular noun "person". Verb "brings" is singular. Fr : Chaque.
3. Each of. Reason : Pronoun structure "Each of [the representatives]". Verb "must serve" (modal + base form, but logic is singular distributive). Fr : Chacun de.
4. one another (or each other). Reason : Reciprocal "care for [one another]" within a group/community context. Fr : les uns les autres.
5. each. Reason : Determiner before singular noun "neighbour". "If each neighbour watches..." = "If every single neighbour watches...". Fr : Chaque.
6. one another (or each other). Reason : Reciprocal "support [one another]" – general group pledge. Fr : les uns les autres.

Grammar Note : In (3), "Each of the representatives... must serve" – the verb follows the modal "must" (base form), but conceptually singular. In standard grammar : "Each of them is here." Conclusion : Reciprocal pronouns build the language of solidarity ; distributive each emphasizes individual duty within the collective.

MÉTHODE Mastering Prepositions and Prepositional Phrases (Time, Place, Manner)

Objective : Identify and use complex prepositional phrases accurately in texts about democracy and rights.

1. Categorize the phrase by function :
 - Time : at noon, on Monday, in 2025, during the election, for two hours, since morning, until midnight, by the deadline, before voting, after the debate.
 - Place : at the polling station, in the capital, on the ballot paper, under the law, between parties, among voters, near the border.
 - Manner : with integrity, by secret ballot, in a peaceful way, without fear, like a democrat, through dialogue.
2. Spot the structure : Preposition + Noun Phrase (often with adjectives/determiners).
In free and fair elections.
3. Avoid translation traps :
 - Participer à → take part in (not to).
 - Voter pour → vote for (candidate) / vote on (issue).

- Respecter les droits → respect for (noun) / respect (verb, no prep).

4. Reading Tip : Underline all prepositional phrases in a text. Ask : "When? Where? How?" to classify them.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 10 Reading Analysis : "The Pillars of Democracy"

Task : Read the extract. Underline 5 prepositional phrases and classify them (Time, Place, Manner). Then answer the questions. Text : "In a true democracy, power belongs to the people. Elections are held every five years at designated centres. Citizens vote by secret ballot without intimidation. The government rules according to the constitution for the common good." Questions :

1. Identify the prepositional phrase indicating Manner for "vote".
2. Identify the phrase indicating Time for "held".
3. Rewrite : "The government rules according to the constitution" using a different prepositional phrase of manner (use in accordance with).
4. Find the phrase showing Place.

SOLUTION

Solution détaillée : Classification :

Phrase	Function	Head Noun
to the people	Place (abstract destination) / Possession	people every five years	Time (Frequency/Duration)	years
at designated centres	Place (Location)	centres
by secret ballot	Manner (Method/Instrument)	ballot without intimidation	Manner (Condition/Absence)	intimidation
according to the constitution	Manner (Standard/Rule)	constitution for the common good	Manner (Purpose/Beneficiary)	good

Answers :

1. by secret ballot (and without intimidation).
2. every five years.

3. "The government rules in accordance with the constitution."

4. at designated centres.

Justification : By + -ing/noun shows method. Every + duration shows frequency. At + specific location shows place. In accordance with is a formal multi-word preposition synonymous with according to. Conclusion : Prepositional phrases add precision to civic discourse ; confusing in/on/at for time/place is a major error source.

MÉTHODE Comparing Actions and Using Negative Adverbs

Objective : Form comparative adverbs correctly and use hardly, scarcely, never with correct syntax (inversion).

1. Comparative Adverbs (Comparing how actions happen) :

- One syllable (fast, hard, early, late) : add -er. fast → faster. He works faster than me.
- -ly adverbs (carefully, efficiently, democratically) : use more / less. She speaks more clearly than him.
- Irregulars : well → better ; badly → worse ; little → less ; much → more.
- Equality : as + adverb + as. They voted as peacefully as expected.

2. Adverbs of Negation (hardly, scarcely, barely, never, rarely, seldom) :

- They have negative meaning. NEVER use double negative (Incorrect : "I didn't hardly know." Correct : "I hardly knew.").
- Inversion Rule (Formal/Written) : When starting a sentence with Never, Rarely, Seldom, Hardly, Scarcely, Barely → Auxiliary + Subject + Verb.
 - Never have I seen such corruption.
 - Hardly did he arrive when the meeting started. (Hardly/Scarcely/Barely + Past Perfect ... when + Past Simple).

Key Vocabulary : efficiently (efficacement), transparently (transparentement), corruptly (corrompu), freely (librement), fairly (équitablement), rigorously (rigoureusement).

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 11 Grammar Transformation : Civic Actions

Task : Rewrite the sentences using the word in brackets. Do not change the meaning.

1. The officials counted the votes very slowly. (quickly) → The officials counted the votes
-----.

2. Young people vote less frequently than older people. (often) → Young people _____.
3. He almost didn't understand the law. (hardly) → He _____ the law.
4. I have never seen such tolerance. (Never) → _____ such tolerance.
5. She speaks more persuasively than her opponent. (as ... as) → Her opponent doesn't speak _____ she does.

SOLUTION

Solution détaillée :

1. more quickly (or quicker – informal). Reason : "Quickly" is -ly adverb → more quickly. Comparative structure. Fr : plus rapidement.
2. don't vote as often as older people. Reason : "Less frequently" = negative comparison of equality. "Not as often as". Fr : ne votent pas aussi souvent que.
3. hardly understood. Reason : Hardly = almost not. Negative meaning → positive verb (understood, not didn't understand). Past tense narrative. Fr : à à peine compris.
4. Never have I seen. Reason : Fronted negative adverb Never triggers Subject-Auxiliary Inversion (Present Perfect : have I seen). Formal style. Fr : Jamais je n'ai vu.
5. as persuasively as. Reason : Transforming comparative (more ... than) to negative equality (not as ... as). Adverb persuasively kept. Fr : aussi persuasivement que.

Conclusion : Inversion after negative adverbs is a hallmark of advanced writing (Bac level). Double negatives (not hardly) are strictly forbidden.

MÉTHODEIdentifying and Using Phrasal Verbs for Civic Contexts

Objective : Recognize separable/inseparable phrasal verbs and guess meaning from context.

1. Structure : Verb + Particle (preposition/adverb). Meaning is often idiomatic (not literal).
2. Types :
 - Intransitive (No object) : The meeting broke up early. / Please speak up.
 - Transitive Separable (Object can go between or after) : Bring up the topic / Bring the topic up. Rule : Pronoun object MUST go in middle (Bring it up, not *Bring up it).
 - Transitive Inseparable (Object only after) : Look into the matter. (Not *Look the matter into). Stand for (represent/tolerate).
 - Three-word verbs (Verb + Part + Prep) : Look forward to, put up with, come up with. Always inseparable.

3. Strategy for Exams :

- (a) Identify the verb + particle.
- (b) Check if there is an object (noun/pronoun).
- (c) Test separability : Try putting a pronoun (it, them) in the middle. If it works → Separable. If impossible → Inseparable.
- (d) Use context (democracy, rights, work) to deduce meaning.

Key Phrasal Verbs (Unit Vocabulary) :

- Stand up for (defend/support rights) – Inseparable.
- Speak out (express opinion publicly) – Intransitive.
- Look into (investigate) – Inseparable.
- Bring about (cause change) – Separable.
- Give in (surrender/yield) – Intransitive.
- Carry out (execute/implement) – Separable.
- Put up with (tolerate) – Inseparable (3 words).
- Turn out (attend/result) – Intransitive.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 12

Phrasal Verbs in Context : Civic Engagement

Task : Complete sentences with the correct form of the phrasal verbs from the box. Indicate if Separable (S) or Inseparable (I).

stand up for, look into, bring about, carry out, speak out, put up with, turn out, give in

1. Citizens must _____ corruption in the workplace. (S/I?)
2. The committee will _____ the allegations of fraud. (S/I?)
3. We cannot _____ injustice any longer. (S/I?)
4. The new law aims to _____ social change. (S/I?) → _____ it _____.
5. Many voters _____ for the referendum. (S/I?)
6. The union refused to _____ to pressure. (S/I?)

SOLUTION

Solution détaillée :

1. stand up for (I). Meaning : Defend. Test : "Stand up for it" (OK). "Stand it up for" (Impossible). Preposition for needs object.
2. look into (I). Meaning : Investigate. Test : "Look into it" (OK). "Look it into" (Wrong).
3. put up with (I). Meaning : Tolerate. Three-word verb. Test : "Put up with it".
4. bring about (S). Meaning : Cause. Test with pronoun : "Bring it about." (Correct). "Bring about it" (Awkward/Poetic). Rewrite : Bring it about.
5. turned out. (I). Meaning : Attended / Resulted. Intransitive. Past tense narrative.
6. give in. (I). Meaning : Surrender. Intransitive. Refused to give in.

Conclusion : The "Pronoun Test" (it/them) is the fastest way to determine separability in exams. Learn the 3-word verbs (put up with, look forward to) as fixed blocks.

MÉTHODE

Writing an Argumentative Composition on Democracy and Freedoms

Objective : Structure a coherent 200–250 word essay for the Probatoire/Bac.

1. Analyse the Prompt : Identify Topic (Democracy, Tolerance, Freedoms), Task (Discuss, Advantages/Disadvantages, Solutions, Opinion), Format (Essay, Letter, Article).
2. Plan (5–10 min) : Use Connector Map.
 - Introduction (≈ 40 words) : Hook (Quote/Stat/Fact) → Define key terms → Thesis Statement (Your clear position/roadmap).
 - Body Paragraph 1 (≈ 70 words) : Argument 1 (Topic Sentence) → Explanation/Example → Connector → Argument 2 → Example. Connectors : Furthermore, Moreover, In addition, For instance.
 - Body Paragraph 2 (≈ 70 words) : Counter-argument / Contrast → Refutation. Connectors : However, Although, On the other hand, Despite.
 - Conclusion (≈ 30 words) : Restate Thesis (different words) → Summary of main points → Final thought / Call to action / Future implication. Connectors : In conclusion, To sum up, Ultimately.
3. Draft : Write quickly. Focus on Grammar Targets : Conjunctions, Passive voice (Rights are guaranteed), Conditionals (If we tolerate...), Phrasal verbs (stand up for).
4. Proofread (5 min) : Check Subject-Verb Agreement, Tense Consistency, Prepositions, Spelling, Word Count.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 13 Model Composition : Tolerance and Freedom

Topic : "Tolerance is the foundation of a free society." Write an essay of about 200 words discussing this statement. Illustrate with examples from your country (Cameroon).

SOLUTION

Model Essay : Tolerance : The Pillar of Liberty Voltaire famously said, "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." This quote captures the essence of tolerance : accepting differences in order to preserve freedom. In Cameroon, a nation of over 250 ethnic groups, tolerance is not merely a virtue but a necessity for national unity. Firstly, tolerance allows democracy to function. Without the acceptance of opposing views, elections become battles rather than choices. For instance, during the 2018 presidential election, peaceful transitions relied on candidates speaking out respectfully and supporters putting up with results they disliked. Moreover, freedom of expression thrives only when citizens stand up for the rights of those they disagree with. If we silence minority voices, we erode the rule of law for everyone. However, tolerance has limits. Although we must respect beliefs, we never tolerate hate speech or violence. Despite constitutional guarantees, some groups hardly respect the rights of others. The government must look into such violations and bring about justice swiftly. In conclusion, tolerance is the glue holding our diverse society together. It demands active effort, not passive indifference. Unless every Cameroonian carries out their civic duty to respect difference, our freedoms remain fragile. Let us bring up the next generation to value unity in diversity. Analysis of Target Structures Used :

- Conjunctions : in order to, without, for instance, moreover, if, however, although, despite, and, unless.
- Prepositional Phrases : In Cameroon, during the election, for everyone, with limits, In conclusion.
- Comparative/Negation : never tolerate, hardly respect.
- Phrasal Verbs : speaking out, putting up with, stand up for, look into, bring about, carry out, bring up.
- Vocabulary : ethnic groups, national unity, peaceful transitions, rule of law, hate speech, civic duty, unity in diversity.

Word Count : ~ 215 words. Grade Target : 18–20/20.

MÉTHODE Integration Strategy : Mixed Grammar Editing for Exam Readiness

Objective : Simulate the "Integration Activities / Evaluation" section. Combine all unit grammar points in an error-correction / gap-fill task.

1. Scan for Triggers :

- Although / Despite → Check Clause vs Noun Phrase.
- Each / Each of → Check Singular Verb.
- Each other / One another → Check Reciprocal context.
- In / On / At / By / With → Check Time/Place/Manner collocation.
- Hardly / Never / Scarcely → Check No Double Negative + Inversion (if fronted).
- Phrasal Verb + Pronoun → Check Separability (Middle position).

2. Systematic Editing Pass :

- (a) Pass 1 : Verbs (Tense, Agreement, Form).
- (b) Pass 2 : Connectors/Conjunctions (Logic, Punctuation).
- (c) Pass 3 : Prepositions (Dependent prepositions : interested in, good at, responsible for).
- (d) Pass 4 : Vocabulary Precision (Collocations : make a decision, not do).

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 14 Integration Test : Error Correction & Gap Fill

Task A : Correct the errors in the following sentences (Grammar/Vocab).

1. Although the rain, the voters queued patiently.
2. Each of the candidate have their own manifesto.
3. The delegates discussed about the new law.
4. We must stand up the rights of minorities.
5. He didn't hardly know the procedure.
6. The committee brought the new regulations up. (Check pronoun placement).

Task B : Fill gaps with ONE word (Preposition / Conjunction / Adverb / Particle). "Democracy thrives ___ (1) citizens participate actively. ___ (2) voting every five years, they must hold leaders accountable ___ (3) the year. Leaders should listen ___ (4) the people and not give ___ (5) to corruption. ___ (6) citizen has a role. We must respect ___ (7) ___ (8) differences."

SOLUTION

Solution détaillée : Task A Corrections :

1. Despite the rain, (or Although it rained,). Error : Although + Clause needed. Despite +

Noun Phrase.

- Each of the candidates has his/her own manifesto. Errors : candidate → plural after Each of ; have → singular has ; their → singular his/her (or singular their accepted in modern usage, but has is key).
- The delegates discussed the new law. Error : Discuss is transitive (no preposition). Discuss about is wrong. (But talk about / debate).
- We must stand up for the rights... Error : Stand up for (inseparable 3-word verb). Missing particle for.
- He hardly knew the procedure. Error : Double negative didn't hardly. Hardly is negative itself.
- The committee brought them up. Correction : Separable phrasal verb. Noun object "the new regulations" can go after, but Pronoun object must go in middle : Brought them up.

Task B Gap Fill :

- when / if / whenever (Time conjunction).
- Besides / In addition to / Apart from (Prepositional phrase addition). Or Besides (preposition).
- throughout / during / all (Preposition time/duration).
- to (Dependent prep : listen to).
- in (Phrasal verb : give in to – gap is particle : in. "give in to corruption").
- Each / Every (Distributive determiner, singular verb has).
- each (Reciprocal pronoun part 1).
- other (Reciprocal pronoun part 2 : each other).

Conclusion : Integration exercises test the ability to switch rapidly between grammar modules. Accuracy on "small words" (prepositions, particles, conjunctions) distinguishes top grades.

ATTENTIONLes 5 erreurs qui coûtent des points au Bac

- Confusion Although vs Despite/In spite of.
Incorrect : "Although his injury, he played."
Correct : "Despite his injury..." OR "Although he was injured..."
Reflexe : Although = Sujet + Verbe ; Despite = Nom / Gérondif.
- Double négation avec Hardly / Scarcely / Never.

Incorrect : "I didn't hardly see him." / "He doesn't never come."

Correct : "I hardly saw him." / "He never comes."

Reflexe : Un seul négatif par proposition. Si l'adverbe est en tête → Inversion (Never have I...).

3. Mauvaise placement du pronom avec Phrasal Verbs séparables.

Incorrect : "Turn off it." / "Bring up them."

Correct : "Turn it off." / "Bring them up."

Reflexe : Objet pronominal → OBLIGATOIREMENT au milieu.

4. Accord du verbe après Each of / Every / Each.

Incorrect : "Each of the students are here." / "Every candidate have a card."

Correct : "Each of the students is here." / "Every candidate has a card."

Reflexe : Each/Every = Singulier. Each of + Pluriel + Verbe Singulier.

5. Prépositions dépendantes oubliées ou erronées (Collocations).

Incorrect : "Participate to / Discuss about / Interested on / Responsible of."

Correct : "Participate in / Discuss __ (direct) / Interested in / Responsible for."

Reflexe : Apprendre les blocs : listen to, wait for, look at, look into, stand up for, vote for/on.

10. She is very busy at the workshop ; ..., she always finds time to vote.

ATTENTION Pièges fréquents : Each other vs One another

- Each other = relation réciproque entre deux personnes/groupes. Fr : l'un l'autre
- One another = relation réciproque entre plus de deux personnes/groupes. Fr : les uns les autres
- Erreur courante : each others (pas de s à other).
- Note : En anglais moderne, l'usage tend à les rendre interchangeables, mais l'examen technique attend la distinction traditionnelle.

EXERCICE 22 Each Other / One Another

Rewrite the following sentences using each other or one another, and justify your choice.

1. The two candidates respect their opponent. → The two candidates respect ...

8. We discussed human rights ...the classroom yesterday.

11.3 Je me prépare au BacEXERCICE 25 Reading Comprehension – Type Probatoire

Read the following press article carefully, then answer the questions.

Young People and the Electoral Lists in Cameroon

Every year, ELECAM (Elections Cameroon) organises campaigns to encourage young Cameroonians to register on the electoral lists. In many towns, such as Douala, Yaoundé and Garoua, mobile teams visit schools, markets and neighbourhoods. They explain that voting is not only a right but also a civic duty. However, many young people still do not register. Some say they are too busy with their studies or their work; others believe that their vote cannot change anything. Despite these difficulties, ELECAM registered thousands of new voters last year. "Democracy needs the participation of everyone," declared one official in Bamenda. "Although the process takes time, each registration is a victory for the nation." Since 2010, the number of registered voters has increased, yet the participation of young people remains low. Civil society organisations now carry out door-to-door campaigns, and they never give up, because they stand for democracy and basic freedoms.

1. Say whether the following statements are True or False. Justify with a quotation from the text.
 - (a) ELECAM teams only work in Yaoundé.
 - (b) All young people refuse to register on the electoral lists.
 - (c) The number of registered voters has grown since 2010.
2. Answer these questions in your own words.

- (a) What two reasons do some young people give for not registering?
 - (b) What do civil society organisations do to promote registration?
3. Find in the text :
- (a) one sentence containing the conjunction although ;
 - (b) one sentence containing an adverb of negation ;
 - (c) two phrasal verbs and give their meaning.
4. Vocabulary : find words in the text that mean : (a) to write one's name on an official list ;
(b) an obligation of a citizen.

EXERCICE 26 Grammar in Context – Error Correction and Transformation

A. Error correction. Each of the following sentences contains one mistake from this lesson (double negation, although...but, wrong preposition, wrong pronoun, wrong comparative). Rewrite each sentence correctly.

1. Although the workers were tired, but they finished the bridge on time.
 2. The two brothers don't never help each others.
 3. She works more hardly than her colleagues.
 4. I have lived in Douala since five years.
 5. The students didn't scarcely understand the lesson.
 6. The members of the association respect each other (there are twelve members).
 7. He is interested on politics and good in his work.
 8. Despite of the rain, the campaign continued.
 9. Hardly he had arrived when the meeting started.
 10. The secretary types more quicklier than the director.
- B. Sentence transformation. Rewrite each sentence beginning with the word(s) given, using inversion where necessary.
1. He hardly ever participates in community work. → Hardly ever ...
 2. She had scarcely finished her speech when the audience applauded. → Scarcely ...
 3. The workers had never seen such a modern machine before. → Never before ...

EXERCICE 27 Composition – Type Baccalauréat Technique

Write a composition of 180–200 words on the following topic :

“Tolerance is the key to peaceful co-existence in Cameroon.”

In your essay, you should :

1. introduce the topic and explain what tolerance means ;
2. give at least two concrete examples from life in Cameroon (school, workplace, neighbourhood, social media) ;
3. explain how tolerance promotes democracy and basic freedoms ;
4. conclude with your personal opinion and a recommendation for young Cameroonians.

Use at least three conjunctions or linking expressions from the lesson (although, despite, however, nevertheless, since, yet), two phrasal verbs and one adverb of negation.

Marking guide (out of 20) : task fulfilment and ideas : 8 marks ; organisation and linking : 4 marks ; grammar accuracy (conjunctions, prepositions, pronouns, adverbs) : 4 marks ; vocabulary and spelling : 4 marks.

12 CORRIGÉS DES EXERCICES

13 LEÇON 04 : CITIZENSHIP AND HUMAN RIGHTS

13.1 Je vérifie mes connaissances

CORRIGÉ Exercice 1 – QCM : Conjunctions and Prepositions

1. B. Although – La phrase contient une proposition subordonnée avec sujet + verbe (the rain was heavy), donc il faut une conjonction de subordination de concession : Although. Despite exigerait un nom (Despite the heavy rain) ; However ne peut pas ouvrir une subordonnée ; Since marquerait la cause, ce qui est illogique ici. Fr : Bien que la pluie fût forte, les ouvriers ont continué...
2. C. however – Après un point-virgule, on utilise un adverbe de liaison d'opposition : however (suivi d'une virgule). Although et because/since introduisent des subordonnées, incompatibles avec le point-virgule. Fr : L'équipe a travaillé dur ; cependant, elle n'a pas fini à temps.
3. C. for – For + durée (for two hours) avec le present perfect continu (have been cleaning). Since s'emploie avec un point de départ (since 10 a.m.). Fr : Les élèves nettoient la cour depuis deux heures.
4. A. In spite of – Suivi d'un nom (his lack of experience), il faut la locution prépositionnelle In spite of (ou Despite). Although exigerait une proposition (Although he lacked experience). Fr : Malgré son manque d'expérience, le jeune mécanicien a réparé le moteur parfaitement.

Points de vigilance : bien distinguer although + S + V et despite/in spite of + nom ; since = point de départ, for = durée.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 2 – True or False – Justify

1. False. Although et but ne se combinent jamais (redondance de la concession). Correction : Although the voters were many, they voted peacefully. ou The voters were many, but they voted peacefully.
2. True. Règle traditionnelle exigée à l'examen : each other pour deux personnes ou entités ; one another pour plus de deux. (L'usage moderne les rend souvent interchangeables, mais la distinction reste attendue au Probatoire/Bac technique.)

3. True. Hardly, scarcely, barely, rarely, never ont déjà une valeur négative : la double négation est interdite. They didn't hardly work → They hardly worked.
4. False. Les prépositions correctes sont good at work (bon en) et interested in politics (intéressé par). Interested on n'existe pas.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 3 – Definitions

Réponses indicatives (toute formulation correcte en anglais est acceptée) :

1. Civic responsibility : The duty of every citizen to take part in community life, respect the laws, vote and contribute to the common good. Fr : responsabilité civique
2. Tolerance : Accepting and respecting opinions, beliefs or ways of life that are different from one's own, without hostility. Fr : tolérance
3. Excellence at work : Doing one's professional tasks with high quality, punctuality, honesty and a constant wish to improve. Fr : excellence au travail
4. Basic freedoms : The fundamental rights of every person, such as freedom of speech, of assembly, of religion and of movement. Fr : libertés fondamentales

Points de vigilance : une définition doit être une phrase complète, sans reprendre le mot défini comme seule explication, et rester dans le champ lexical de la leçon.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 4 – Comparative Adverbs

1. more fluently – Les adverbes en -ly forment le comparatif avec more : more fluently than. Fr : plus couramment que
2. the hardest – Hard (adverbe = avec effort) est irrégulier au sens où il ne prend pas -ly ; superlatif : the hardest. Ne pas confondre avec hardly (= à peine). Fr : le plus assidûment
3. more quickly – Adverbe en -ly → more quickly than. (Forme familière : quicker, à éviter à l'écrit d'examen.)
4. the earliest – Early suit la règle des adverbes courts : y → i + -est ; superlatif : the earliest. Fr : le plus tôt

Points de vigilance : ne jamais écrire more harder ou more quicklier (double marque du comparatif) ; vérifier la présence de the au superlatif.

13.2 Je m'entraîne

CORRIGÉ Exercice 5 – Fill in the Blanks : Conjunctions

1. Although – concession + sujet + verbe (the workers were tired).
2. Despite / In spite of – concession + nom (the strike).
3. however / nevertheless – opposition après point-virgule, suivie d'une virgule.
4. since – point de départ dans le temps (since 2015) avec le present perfect.
5. yet / nevertheless / still – opposition entre l'effort et le mauvais résultat.
6. In spite of / Despite – concession + nom (the difficulties).
7. still / yet / nevertheless – opposition : le match a continué malgré la pluie.
8. Since / As / Because – cause en tête de phrase (puisque le Cameroun est bilingue...).
9. however / nevertheless / still – opposition après point-virgule.
10. still / yet / nevertheless – opposition ; still se place avant le verbe principal.

Points de vigilance : après however/nevertheless en tête de seconde proposition, mettre une virgule ; despite ne prend jamais of ; since + date ou événement, for + durée.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 6 – Each Other / One Another

1. each other – deux candidats. The two candidates respect each other.
2. one another – les membres d'une coopérative (plus de deux). The members of the co-operative help one another.
3. each other – deux personnes (my friend and I). My friend and I write letters to each other.
4. one another – les élèves d'une classe (groupe). The students of the class lend books to one another.
5. each other – deux personnes (le mari et la femme). The husband and the wife trust each other.
6. one another – cinq voisins (plus de deux). The five neighbours clean the quarter with one another.

Points de vigilance : jamais de s à other (each others est faux) ; compter le nombre de participants avant de choisir.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 7 – Phrasal Verbs : Match and Use

A. Correspondances : 1-e (carry out = to perform a task), 2-a (give up = to abandon), 3-b (stand for = to represent), 4-c (take part in = to participate), 5-d (put off = to postpone).

B. Phrases personnelles (exemples) :

1. The election officials carried out the voter registration campaign efficiently. Fr : ont mené à bien
2. Civil society organisations never give up promoting human rights. Fr : n'abandonnent jamais
3. The national flag stands for unity and sovereignty. Fr : représente
4. Every citizen should take part in community development activities. Fr : participer à
5. The management put off the meeting until next Monday because of the public holiday. Fr : a reporté

CORRIGÉ Exercice 8 – Prepositions : Time, Place and Manner

1. for – durée : for many years.
2. at 8 a.m. ; on election day – heure précise → at ; jour → on.
3. at / in the town hall – at pour le lieu comme point, in pour l'intérieur du bâtiment (les deux acceptés).
4. since – point de départ : since 2018 (avec le present perfect).
5. by – moyen de transport : by bus (sans article).
6. with – manière : with great care.
7. in – année : in 1960.
8. in – lieu clos : in the classroom.

Points de vigilance : mémoriser les trios at/on/in du temps (heure / jour / mois-année) ; by + transport sans article ; since + point de départ, for + durée.

13.3 Je me prépare au Bac

CORRIGÉ Exercice 9 – Reading Comprehension – Type Probatoire

1. True or False (justification par citation obligatoire)
 - (a) False. “In many towns, such as Douala, Yaoundé and Garoua, mobile teams visit schools, markets and neighbourhoods.” (Les équipes ne travaillent pas uniquement à Yaoundé.)
 - (b) False. “However, many young people still do not register.” (Many ne signifie pas all : certains jeunes s’inscrivent, et le texte précise que des milliers de nouveaux électeurs ont été enregistrés.)
 - (c) True. “Since 2010, the number of registered voters has increased...”
2. Questions (réponses en phrases complètes, mots personnels)
 - (a) Some young people say they are too busy with their studies or their work, and others think that their vote cannot change anything.
 - (b) They carry out door-to-door campaigns to encourage people to register, and they never give up.
3. Repérage grammatical dans le texte
 - (a) Conjonction although : “Although the process takes time, each registration is a victory for the nation.”
 - (b) Adverbe de négation : never dans “...and they never give up...” (on note aussi still et yet comme connecteurs).
 - (c) Phrasal verbs : carry out (to perform, accomplish – accomplir) ; give up (to stop trying – abandonner) ; stand for (to represent, defend – représenter, défendre).
4. Vocabulaire
 - (a) (a) register – s’inscrire (sur une liste officielle) ; (b) civic duty – devoir civique.

Barème indicatif (sur 10) : Q1 : 3 pts (0,5 pour la réponse + 0,5 pour la citation) ; Q2 : 2 pts ; Q3 : 3 pts ; Q4 : 2 pts.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 10 – Grammar in Context

A. Correction des erreurs

1. Although the workers were tired, they finished the bridge on time. – Although et but sont incompatibles (supprimer but).

2. The two brothers never help each other. – Double négation interdite (don't never → never) ; each other sans s.
3. She works harder than her colleagues. – Hardly signifie "à peine" ; l'adverbe "avec effort" est hard, comparatif harder.
4. I have lived in Douala for five years. – For + durée ; since exige un point de départ (since 2019).
5. The students scarcely understood the lesson. – Double négation : scarcely suffit, verbe à la forme affirmative.
6. The members of the association respect one another. – Douze membres (plus de deux) → one another.
7. He is interested in politics and good at his work. – interested in, good at.
8. Despite the rain, the campaign continued. – Despite ne prend jamais of (contrairement à in spite of).
9. Hardly had he arrived when the meeting started. – Hardly en tête de phrase impose l'inversion sujet-auxiliaire : Hardly had he arrived...
10. The secretary types more quickly than the director. – Pas de double comparatif : more quickly (ou quicker), jamais more quicklier.

B. Transformations avec inversion

1. Hardly ever does he participate in community work. – Inversion avec l'auxiliaire do au présent : does he participate.
2. Scarcely had she finished her speech when the audience applauded. – Inversion au past perfect : had she finished.
3. Never before had the workers seen such a modern machine. – Inversion : had the workers seen.

Points de vigilance : après un adverbe négatif ou restrictif en tête de phrase (hardly, scarcely, never, rarely), l'inversion sujet-auxiliaire est obligatoire ; sans auxiliaire apparent, introduire do/does/did.

CORRIGÉ

Exercice 11 – Composition – Type Baccalauréat Technique

Modèle de réponse (indicatif, environ 195 mots) :

Tolerance : The Foundation of Peaceful Co-existence in Cameroon

Tolerance means accepting and respecting differences in opinions, cultures and beliefs without hostility. In Cameroon, a country with more than 250 ethnic groups and two official languages, tolerance is not a luxury but a necessity for national unity.

Although our diversity is a strength, tensions sometimes arise. In schools, students from different regions must learn together; tolerance allows them to share ideas instead of fighting. Similarly, in workplaces such as the Douala port or the Yaoundé hospitals, colleagues with various backgrounds collaborate every day. Despite occasional misunderstandings, mutual respect guarantees productivity and excellence at work.

Moreover, tolerance sustains democracy. When citizens accept opposing views, elections remain peaceful and the freedoms of speech and assembly are protected. Since 1990, multipartism has required politicians to carry out debates without violence, and civil society organisations stand for human rights; they never give up promoting dialogue. In conclusion, I firmly believe that young Cameroonians must cultivate tolerance. Nevertheless, this requires daily effort. I recommend that every student take part in intercultural clubs and refuse to spread hate speech on social media. Together, we can build a Cameroon where diversity means richness, not division.

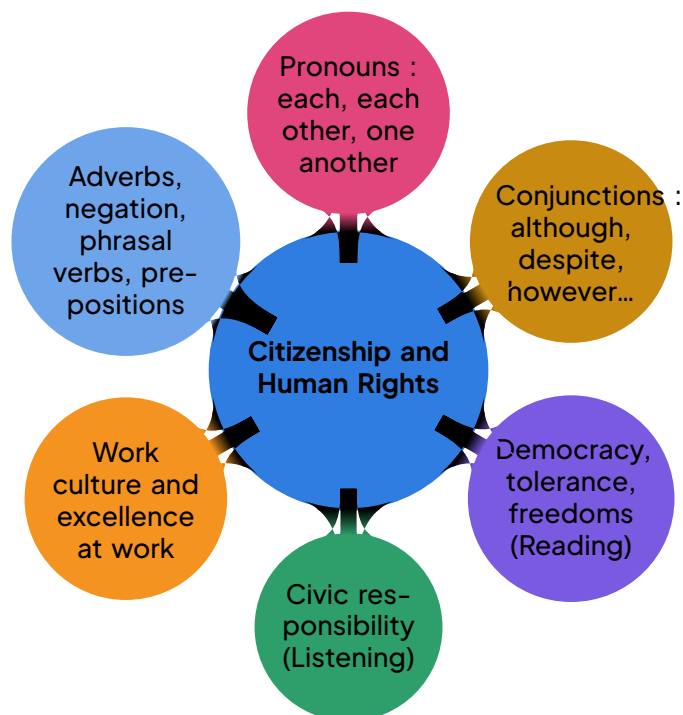

Barème indicatif (sur 20) :

- Réalisation de la tâche et idées (introduction, deux exemples concrets, lien tolérance–démocratie, opinion personnelle et recommandation) : 8 pts
- Organisation et articulation (paragraphe, connecteurs variés) : 4 pts
- Correction grammaticale (conjonctions, prépositions, pronoms réciproques, adverbes, inversion éventuelle) : 4 pts
- Lexique et orthographe (vocabulaire de la citoyenneté et du travail) : 4 pts

Points de vigilance : respecter la fourchette 180–200 mots; employer au minimum trois connecteurs de la leçon, deux phrasal verbs et un adverbe de négation, en les utilisant correctement (pas de although... but, pas de double négation, pas de despite of); conclure par une opinion personnelle claire et une recommandation adressée aux jeunes Camerounais.

14 FICHE BILAN

14.1 Mind Map of the Lesson

Carte mentale de la leçon : les six branches de l'unité Citizenship and Human Rights.

FICHE BILAN L'essentiel à connaître pour l'examen

1. Key vocabulary (à connaître par cœur)

- Work culture : punctuality (ponctualité), commitment (engagement), excellence (excellence), team spirit (esprit d'équipe), discipline (discipline), efficiency (efficacité).
- Civic responsibility : citizen (citoyen), to vote (voter), to pay taxes (payer ses impôts), to respect the law (respecter la loi), community service (service communautaire).
- Democracy and freedoms : freedom of speech (liberté d'expression), tolerance (tolérance), human rights (droits de l'homme), election (élection), to demonstrate peacefully (manifestester pacifiquement).

2. Grammar essentials

Point	Rule	Example
Coordinating conjunctions	and, but, or, so, yet, for	He worked hard, yet he stayed humble.
Subordinating conjunctions	although, since , because, while	Although she was tired, she voted.
Concession	despite / in spite of + noun or -ing	Despite the rain, they demonstrated.
Contrast linkers	however, nevertheless, still	It was difficult; however, they succeeded.
Reciprocal pronouns	each other (2 people), one another (more than 2)	Citizens must respect one another.
each	+ singular noun and singular verb	Each citizen has rights.
Prepositions	time : at, on, in, since, for; place : at, in, on; manner : by, with, in	The meeting is on Monday at 8 a.m.
Comparative adverbs	more + adv. + than; irregular : well → better, badly → worse	She speaks more clearly than before.
Adverbs of negation	hardly, scarcely, never (already negative : no "not")	He never cheats at work.
Phrasal verbs	verb + particle : stand up for, look after, put off, carry out, give up	We must stand up for our rights.

3. Express methods

- Speaking : greet → give your opinion (I think that...) → justify with because/since → conclude.
- Listening : read the questions first → listen for key words → note names, dates, actions.
- Reading : skim for the general idea → scan for details → identify linkers (however, although) to follow the argument.
- Writing a composition : introduction (present the topic) → 2–3 developed paragraphs with linkers → conclusion with your personal opinion. Use at least one conjunction of concession and one phrasal verb.

À RETENIR Checklist avant le Bac

- ☐ I can name at least six words about work culture and excellence.
- ☐ I can use although, despite and however correctly in a sentence.
- ☐ I know that despite/in spite of is followed by a noun or a verb in -ing, never by a full clause.
- ☐ I can distinguish each other (two people) from one another (more than two).
- ☐ I remember that each takes a singular verb.
- ☐ I can choose the right preposition of time (at/on/in), place and manner.
- ☐ I can form the comparative of adverbs : more slowly than, better, worse.
- ☐ I never use “not” with hardly, scarcely or never.
- ☐ I know at least five phrasal verbs linked to citizenship (stand up for, give up, carry out...).
- ☐ I can write a 150-word composition on democracy or tolerance with an introduction, a body and a conclusion.
- ☐ I can talk for one minute about civic responsibility using linkers.
