ANGLAIS – CLASSE DE TERMINALE TECHNIQUE

LEÇON N04

CITIZENSHIP AND HUMAN RIGHTS

DURÉE CONSEILLÉE : 13 SÉANCES (FICHE DE PROGRESSION HARMONISÉE)

DANS CETTE LEÇON

Cette leçon permet aux élèves de Terminale technique d'échanger des informations sur les campagnes électorales scolaires, les sondages, les formations à la démocratie et le volontariat pour l'égalité des sexes. Elle mobilise les questions rapportées, l'ordre des mots, les phrasal verbs, la concordance des temps et les passifs impersonnels, aboutissant à la rédaction d'une composition sur le volontariat citoyen au Cameroun.

- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais utiliser le vocabulaire lié aux campagnes électorales et au vote des leaders scolaires.
- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais rapporter correctement une question (reported questions) dans un dialogue.
- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais comprendre un texte audio sur les formations à la démocratie et en dégager les idées essentielles.
- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais respecter l'ordre des mots dans une phrase anglaise déclarative, interrogative et exclamative.
- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais lire et exploiter un texte sur le volontariat pour la promotion de l'égalité des sexes.
- À la fin de cette leçon, je sais employer les phrasal verbs dans des expressions simples de but.

1 SPEAKING & VOCABULARY : CAMPAIGNING AND VOTING FOR SCHOOL LEADERS

Pendant les élections des délégués de classe au lycée technique de Nkongsamba, Amina, candidate au poste de class prefect, doit présenter son programme en anglais devant toute la classe. Un camarade lui demande : “What did you promise the voters yesterday?” et elle hésite à rapporter la question correctement. Plus tard, elle découvre une affiche annonçant un training course on democracy organisé par Elections Cameroon (ELECAM) et une campagne de volontariat pour la promotion de l'égalité des sexes dans son quartier. Comment parler, comprendre et écrire sur la citoyenneté et les droits humains en anglais correct ? C'est tout l'enjeu de cette leçon.

1.1 Setting the Scene : School Elections in Cameroon

Dans les lycées techniques du Cameroun, l'élection des délégués (class prefects), du head boy et de la head girl est un moment fort de la vie citoyenne. C'est une simulation grandeur nature du processus démocratique : les élèves apprennent à choisir leurs représentants, à examiner des programmes (manifestos), à voter à bulletin secret et à accepter les résultats. Maîtriser le vocabulaire et les expressions de ce domaine vous permet non seulement de réussir vos examens (Probatoire, Baccalauréat technique), mais aussi de participer activement à la vie de votre établissement et, plus tard, aux élections nationales organisées par ELECAM.

1.2 Key Vocabulary : Campaigning and Voting

Voici les mots et expressions essentiels, classés par étape du processus électoral. Apprenez-les avec leur équivalent français et essayez de les utiliser dans des phrases complètes.

English Term	Definition / Context	Glossaire français
to campaign	To work actively to get votes.	faire campagne candidate	A person standing for election.	candidat(e)
manifesto	A written declaration of policies and promises.	programme électoral, profession de foi slogan	A short, striking phrase used in campaign.	slogan, devise poster	A large printed notice for publicity.	affiche
to canvass (for votes)	To ask people directly for their support.	solliciter des voix, faire du porte-à-porte electorate	All the people entitled to vote.	corps électoral, électorat polling day	The day when voting takes place.	jour du scrutin, jour de vote ballot paper	The paper on which voters mark their choice.	bulletin de vote ballot box	The sealed box where votes are placed.	urne
to cast a vote	To formally deposit one's ballot.	voter, déposer son bulletin polling station	The place where voting occurs.	bureau de vote
results	The official outcome of the election.	résultats to win / lose an election	To be elected / not elected.	gagner / perdre une élection

DÉFINITION Vocabulaire clé : Poll, Survey, Manifesto

- A poll / A survey = une enquête d'opinion. On interroge un échantillon (sample) de personnes (respondents) pour connaître leurs intentions de vote ou leurs opinions. Les résultats sont souvent donnés en pourcentages (results in percentage).
- A manifesto = le programme électoral d'un candidat. C'est un document écrit où il/elle explique ce qu'il/elle fera s'il/elle est élu(e) : "My manifesto promises clean water in the dormitories and better library hours."

EXEMPLE Exemple chiffré : Sondage au GTHS Yaoundé

Lors d'un sondage (opinion poll) mené auprès de 200 élèves (sample size = 200) au GTHS Yaoundé, 120 élèves (respondents) ont déclaré qu'ils voteraient pour une fille au poste de head girl.

- Calcul : $\frac{120}{200} \times 100 = 60\%$.
- Phrase type : "According to the survey, 60% of the respondents said they would vote for a female head girl."

LESAVAIS-TU ? ELECAM : Le garant des élections au Cameroun

Au Cameroun, ELECAM (Elections Cameroon) est l'organisme indépendant chargé d'organiser, de gérer et de superviser toutes les opérations électorales (présidentielles, législatives, municipales, mais aussi la formation à la citoyenneté). Lors des training courses on democracy, des agents d'ELECAM expliquent le rôle de la carte d'électeur, le déroulement du scrutin et l'importance du vote secret. Participer à ces formations est un excellent atout pour votre dossier d'élève citoyen !

1.3 Vocabulary for Polls and Surveys (Sondages)

Au-delà du vote lui-même, les élèves mènent souvent des surveys ou polls dans la classe pour tester la popularité des candidats avant le jour J.

English Term	Usage	Glossaire français
poll / survey	General terms for asking opinions.	sondage, enquête
questionnaire	The set of written questions.	questionnaire
respondent	The person answering.	personne interrogée, répondant
sample	The group surveyed (representative).	échantillon
opinion poll	Survey on voting intentions.	sondage d'opinion to take part in a survey	To answer the questions.	participer à une enquête
results in percentage	Data shown as %.	résultats en pourcentage

1.4 Useful Expressions for Exchanging Information

Pour échanger des informations (fonction Speaking du programme), utilisez ces modèles de phrases. Notez la structure : Question word + Auxiliary + Subject + Verb.

MÉTHODE Présenter les résultats d'un sondage

Pour annoncer des résultats de manière formelle, suivez cette structure en 3 étapes :

1. Source : According to the survey / poll / questionnaire... (D'après l'enquête...)

2. Chiffre : ...X% of respondents / students / the sample... (...X% des répondants / élèves / de l'échantillon...)

3. Contenu : ...said that / declared that / think that + clause. (...ont dit que / pensent que + proposition.)

Exemple : "According to our class poll, 45% of students think that Candidate A has the best manifesto."

Expression	Contexte d'utilisation
Who are you voting for?	Question directe à un camarade (closed question → rising intonation).
What does your manifesto promise?	Question à un candidat (open question → falling intonation).
I'm voting for [Name] because...	Justifier son choix.
According to the survey, 60% of students...	Annoncer un résultat de sondage (voir Méthode).
The polling station opens at 8 a.m.	Donner une info pratique (jour J).
Please cast your vote secretly.	Instruction pour le vote.
The results will be proclaimed at 2 p.m.	Annoncer la proclamation.

1.5 Pronunciation & Intonation : Rising vs Falling

L'intonation change le sens communicatif de la question. C'est crucial pour l'oral (Probatoire/Baccalauréat technique).

PROPRIÉTÉ Règles d'intonation des questions

- Questions fermées (Yes/No Questions) : Intonation montante (↗) à la fin.
"Are you a candidate?" ↗ "Will you vote for him?" ↗
- Questions ouvertes (Wh- Questions) : Intonation descendante (↘) à la fin.
"What is your manifesto?" ↘ "Who did you vote for?" ↘ "When is polling day?" ↘

ATTENTION Piège classique : Vote FOR

En anglais, le verbe vote est intransitif quand il est suivi d'une personne. On dit toujours : to vote FOR somebody.

- ✓ "I will vote for Amina."
- ✗ "I will vote Amina." (Incorrect! Cela signifie « je vote Amina » comme si c'était une loi).

De même : to campaign FOR someone, to canvass FOR votes.

1.6 Guided Role-Plays (Jeux de rôles guidés)

Entraînez-vous à l'oral en binôme ou en groupe de trois. Changez les rôles à chaque fois.

EXEMPLE Role-play 1 : Interviewing a Candidate

Contexte : Un journaliste du journal scolaire interviewe un(e) candidat(e) au poste de head boy/head girl.

- Journalist : "Good morning. What is your name and what position are you running for?"
- Candidate : "I am Paul, and I am running for Head Boy."
- Journalist : "What are the three main points of your manifesto?"
- Candidate : "First, improving the canteen menu. Second, creating a study room. Third, organizing sports tournaments."
- Journalist : "How will you canvass for votes?"
- Candidate : "I will put up posters and talk to students during breaks."
- Journalist : "Thank you. Good luck on polling day!"

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 1 Role-play 2 : Presenting a Manifesto (Simulation orale)

Consigne : Vous êtes candidat(e). Présentez votre manifesto en 1 minute devant la classe. Utilisez au moins 5 mots du vocabulaire ci-dessus.

SOLUTION

Proposition de réponse (Script) : "Dear friends, dear electorate, I am Grace, your candidate for Class Prefect. My manifesto is built on three pillars. First, campaign for a cleaner workshop environment. Second, set up a peer-tutoring campaign for difficult subjects like Mathematics. Third, ensure every student has a voice : I will organize a monthly survey to collect your ideas. On polling day, I ask you to cast your vote for experience and dedication. Vote for Grace! Thank you."

Analyse : Le texte utilise manifesto, campaign (nom et verbe), electorate, polling day, cast a vote, vote for, survey. L'intonation est descendante sur les Wh-questions implicites ("What is my manifesto?") et montante sur l'appel final ("Vote for Grace?" ↗).

EXEMPLE Role-play 3 : Announcing Class Poll Results

Contexte : Le délégué sortant annonce les résultats d'un sondage d'opinion (opinion poll) réalisé la veille auprès de 40 élèves (sample).

- Speaker : "Good morning everyone. According to the survey we conducted yesterday, 45% of respondents said they will vote for Candidate A. 35% support Candidate B, and 20% are still undecided. The polling station will open tomorrow at 8 a.m. Please bring your student ID."

1.7 Visualizing the Electoral Process

Comprendre la chronologie aide à structurer votre discours. Voici le déroulement standard d'un scrutin scolaire.

(Campaigning → Polling Day → Counting → Proclamation).

Maintenant, observons les résultats fictifs du sondage mentionné dans le Role-play 3.

1.8 Practice Exercises (Exercices d'application)

EXERCICE 1 Vocabulary & Speaking Practice

Exercise 1 : Vocabulary Matching. Match the English terms (1–8) with their French definitions (a–h).

- | | |

- Did you read the manifesto?

Exercise 4 : Role-play Preparation (Pair Work). Student A : You are a candidate for Head Girl. Prepare a 1-minute speech using at least 6 vocabulary words from the tables above. Student B : You are a journalist. Prepare 4 questions (mix of open and closed) to interview Student A. Perform the interview in front of the class.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 1 à 3

Exercise 1 : 1-b, 2-c, 3-a, 4-e, 5-d, 6-h, 7-f, 8-g.

Exercise 2 :

3. Will the results be announced today? ↗ (Closed/Yes-No)
4. What time does the polling station close? ↘ (Open/Wh-)
5. Did you read the manifesto? ↗ (Closed/Yes-No)

Exercise 4 : (Production libre. Vérifiez l'utilisation correcte de vote FOR, manifesto, polling day, ballot box, canvass, slogan, electorate et l'intonation des questions).

À RETENIR Résumé de la Section 1

- Vocabulaire clé : campaign, candidate, manifesto, slogan, canvass, electorate, polling day, ballot paper, ballot box, cast a vote, polling station, poll, survey, respondent, sample, percentage.
- Structure pour résultats : "According to the survey, [%] of respondents said that..."
- Grammaire orale : Vote FOR someone (pas vote someone).
- Phonologie : Questions fermées ↗ (montante) ; Questions ouvertes (Wh-) ↘ (descendante).
- Contexte Cameroun : ELECAM organise les élections et les formations à la démocratie.

ATTENTION Transition vers la Section 2 : Reported Questions

Remarquez la question du camarade d'Amina dans l'introduction : "What did you promise the voters yesterday?". Pour la rapporter plus tard, Amina devra utiliser le discours rapporté (reported speech) : "He asked me what I had promised the voters the day before." La Section 2 (Grammar Focus 1) traitera en détail les règles de transformation des questions directes en questions indirectes (changements de temps, pronoms, adverbes de temps, ordre des mots).

2 GRAMMAR FOCUS 1 : REPORTED QUESTIONS

In the previous section, you practised speaking about campaigning (faire campagne) and voting (voter) for school leaders. During a campaign, journalists interview candidates, students ask questions, and later everybody reports what was said : "The candidate asked me if I would vote for her." This is exactly the grammar point of this section : reported questions (les questions rapportées / le discours indirect interrogatif). Mastering it will allow you to report interviews, polls and surveys accurately — a classic task at the Probatoire and Baccalauréat technique.

2.1 What is reported speech ? A quick reminder

DÉFINITION Reported speech

Reported speech (also called indirect speech) is used to tell someone what another person said, without quoting the exact words. When we report, we usually change three things :

- the tenses (they move one step back : this is the backshift) ;
- the pronouns and possessives (I → he/she, my → his/her) ;
- the time and place markers (now → then, today → that day, here → there, tomorrow → the next day).

Direct speech	Reported speech	Change present simple : I vote	past simple : she voted	backshift present continuous : I am campaigning	past continuous : she was campaigning	backshift past simple / present perfect : I voted / I have voted	past perfect : she had voted	backshift will : I will win	would : she would win	modal backshift can : I can lead	could : she could lead	modal backshift

EXEMPLE From the campaign

Direct : "I am ready for the election," says Manka.

Reported : Manka says (that) she is ready for the election. (no backshift if the reporting verb is in the present)

Reported : Manka said (that) she was ready for the election. (backshift with a past reporting verb)

2.2 Reporting yes/no questions : if and whether

Imagine the scene : during the school election campaign, a journalist from the school radio asks a candidate : "Are you a candidate?" Later, a student reports this question to a friend. He cannot keep the question form ; he must transform it into a statement.

PROPRIÉTÉ Yes/no reported questions

A direct question that expects the answer yes or no is reported with if or whether (si), followed by the normal order subject + verb :

"Are you a candidate?" → He asked me if/whether I was a candidate.

There is no inversion, no auxiliary do/does/did, and no question mark in the reported question.

EXEMPLE Practice with campaign questions

- "Do you support the new candidate?" → She asked me if I supported the new candidate.

- “Did you take part in the poll?” (participer au sondage) → The journalist asked whether I had taken part in the poll.
- “Will you vote tomorrow?” → He asked me if I would vote the next day.

ATTENTION The disappearing question mark

A very frequent mistake is to keep the question mark or the inversion in the reported question. Remember : a reported question is not a question any more, it is a declarative sentence (une phrase déclarative).

Wrong : He asked me if was I a candidate ?

Correct : He asked me if I was a candidate.

2.3 Reporting wh-questions

Wh-questions begin with an interrogative word : who, what, where, when, why, how, which, whose. In reported speech, we keep the wh-word as the link word, and we apply the same rules : subject + verb order, backshift, no question mark.

PROPRIÉTÉ Wh- reported questions

“Who will you vote for?” → She asked me who I would vote for.

Structure : reporting verb + (person) + wh-word + subject + verb (backshifted).

EXEMPLE More examples from the survey

- “Where do you mark your vote?” (cocher/voter) → He asked me where I marked my vote.
- “Why did you join the campaign team?” → They asked her why she had joined the campaign team.
- “How many students will take part in the survey?” → She wanted to know how many students would take part in the survey.

PROPRIÉTÉ No inversion, no do/does/did

In a reported question, the auxiliary do/does/did disappears completely and the subject comes before the verb : He asked where I lived (and not where did I live). The verb then carries the tense alone : did you live → I had lived / I lived depending on the backshift.

2.4 Reporting verbs

The most common reporting verb for questions is to ask. But English offers several useful alternatives :

Reporting verb	Use and example to ask (someone)	general verb : She asked me if I was registered.
to wonder	the speaker asks himself/herself : I wondered why he had refused to vote.
to want to know	expresses curiosity : He wanted to know who the candidates were.
to enquire	formal (se renseigner) : She enquired whether the poll was open.

Note : with to wonder, we do not mention the person asked ; with to ask, we usually do (asked me / asked her).

2.5 Bonus for the Bac : reported orders and requests

Questions are not the only sentences we report. Orders, commands and requests (les ordres et les demandes) follow a different pattern : tell / order / warn / advise / ask + object + to-infinitive (or not to + infinitive for the negative).

PROPRIÉTÉ Reported orders and requests

“Vote for me!” → He told me to vote for him.

“Don’t cheat during the election.” → She warned me not to cheat during the election.

Structure : reporting verb + object + (not) to + base verb.

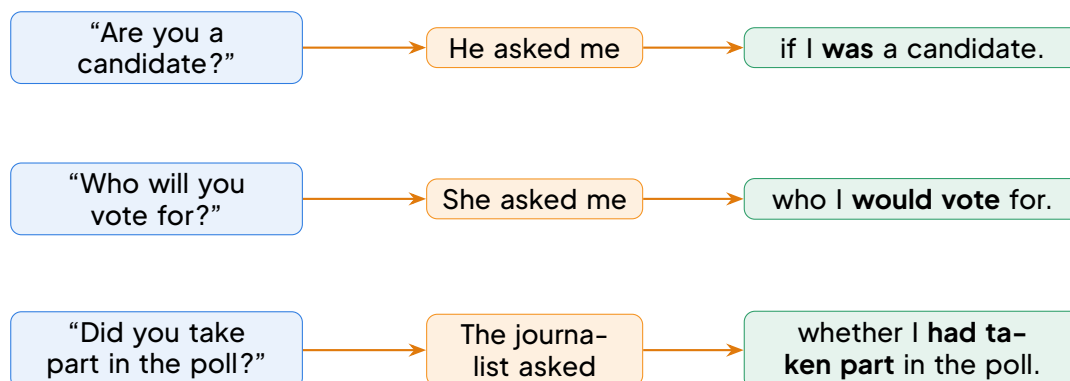

EXEMPLE Campaign instructions

- “Please count the ballot papers (bulletins de vote) carefully.” → The president asked the scrutineers (scrutateurs) to count the ballot papers carefully.
- “Don’t shout in the polling station (bureau de vote).” → The supervisor ordered the students not to shout in the polling station.

Direct question

Reporting verb

Reported question

Transformation table : a direct question (blue) is introduced by a reporting verb (orange) and becomes a reported question (green) with subject + verb order, backshift, and no question mark.

2.6 Method : how to report a question in four steps

MÉTHODE Reporting a question

1. Identify the type of question : does it expect yes/no, or does it begin with a wh-word?
2. Choose the link word : use if/whether for yes/no questions; keep the wh-word for wh-questions.
3. Apply the backshift : move the tense one step back (present → past, past/perfect → past perfect, will → would), and adapt pronouns and time markers.
4. Restore the statement order : subject + verb, no do/does/did, no inversion, and replace the question mark with a full stop.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 2 Reporting an interview with a school candidate

Énoncé. During the school election campaign, a journalist interviewed the candidate Amina. Report her questions using the verbs in brackets.

1. “Are you ready for the debate?” (she asked Amina)
2. “Why do you want to be head girl?” (déléguee chef / présidente des élèves) (she asked her)
3. “How many students support your programme?” (she wanted to know)
4. “Will you organise a training course on democracy?” (she enquired)
5. “Don’t forget to register (inscrire sur les listes électorales) the voters.” (she advised)

Amina)

SOLUTION

Solution détaillée.

1. Yes/no question → if/whether ; present are → past was ; order subject + verb : She asked Amina if/whether she was ready for the debate.
2. Wh-question → keep why ; present do you want → past she wanted ; no auxiliary do : She asked her why she wanted to be head girl.
3. Wh-question → keep how many ; present support → past supported : She wanted to know how many students supported her programme.
4. Yes/no question with will → would : She enquired whether Amina would organise a training course on democracy.
5. Negative order → advised + object + not to + verb : She advised Amina not to forget to register the voters.

ATTENTION Frequent errors to avoid

- Keeping the inversion : He asked me where did I vote. → Correct : He asked me where I voted.
- Keeping do/does/did : She asked if did I take part. → Correct : She asked if I took part.
- Keeping the question mark : a reported question ends with a full stop.
- Forgetting the backshift after a past reporting verb : He asked if I will vote → He asked if I would vote.

LESAVAIS-TU ? Reported speech at the Bac technique

At the Probatoire and Baccalauréat technique in Cameroon, the transformation from direct to indirect speech is a recurrent exercise in the Grammar section. You are often given three to five direct questions about civic life — elections, polls, surveys, human rights campaigns — and asked to report them. Examiners check four points : the correct link word (if/whether or the wh-word), the backshift, the subject-verb order, and the final full stop. Each point earns marks, so apply the four-step method systematically!

À RETENIR Key points

- Yes/no questions are reported with if or whether ; wh-questions keep their interrogative word.

- A reported question has the order subject + verb : no inversion, no do/does/did, no question mark.
- Apply the backshift after a past reporting verb, and adapt pronouns and time markers.
- Common reporting verbs : ask, wonder, want to know, enquire.
- Orders and requests : tell/warn/advise/ask + object + (not) to + verb.

EXERCICE 2 Practice : report the poll

Report these sentences from a school survey. Use the reporting verbs given.

1. "Have you ever voted in a school election?" (the interviewer asked me)
2. "When will the results be published?" (the students wondered)
3. "Who is your favourite candidate?" (she asked him)
4. "Do you believe in gender equality?" (the journalist enquired)
5. "Don't spoil (annuler / invalider) your ballot paper (bulletin de vote)." (the official warned the voters)

CORRIGÉ Exercice 1

1. The interviewer asked me if/whether I had ever voted in a school election. (present perfect → past perfect)
2. The students wondered when the results would be published. (will → would ; statement order)
3. She asked him who his favourite candidate was. (your → his ; no inversion)
4. The journalist enquired whether I believed in gender equality. (do you believe → I believed ; do disappears)
5. The official warned the voters not to spoil their ballot papers. (negative order : not to + verb)

3 LISTENING & VOCABULARY : TRAINING COURSES ON DEMOCRACY

In the previous section, we revised reported questions : we learnt how to report what someone asked, for example "The facilitator asked us whether we had ever voted." Keep this tool in mind, because at the end of this section you will use reported questions and reported statements to reformulate what you hear. Now we move from speaking about elections to listening : you will listen to a text about a training workshop on democracy organised in Douala, learn the vocabulary of training activities, and practise professional listening techniques.

3.1 Why listen to texts about democracy training ?

In Cameroon, many organisations — NGOs, ELECAM (Elections Cameroon), youth associations, churches — organise training courses on civic education. As future technicians and citizens, you may attend such courses, or even facilitate them. Understanding spoken English in this context is a real-life skill tested at the Probatoire and the Baccalauréat technique.

DÉFINITION Key definitions

Civic education is the training of citizens about their rights and duties (formation aux droits et devoirs du citoyen). Rule of law (l'État de droit) means that everyone, including leaders, must obey the law, and that laws are applied fairly by independent courts.

3.2 Vocabulary : words and expressions for training activities

Read the following table aloud with your teacher. The French glosses will help you memorise the words. Note the use of articles for countable nouns.

English	Meaning / French gloss
a training course	a series of lessons to learn a skill (une formation)
a workshop	a practical training session where participants work in groups (un atelier)
a seminar	a meeting for discussion on a special topic (un séminaire)
the facilitator	the person who leads the training (l'animateur / le formateur)
a participant	a person who attends the training (un participant)
a module	one unit or part of a course (un module)
a certificate	an official document given at the end of a course (une attestation, un certificat)
civic education	training about citizens' rights and duties (éducation civique) democratic values	ideas like freedom, equality and justice (valeurs démocratiques) good governance	managing public affairs honestly and transparently (bonne gouvernance) tolerance	accepting people who are different (la tolérance)
rule of law	the principle that the law applies to everybody (l'État de droit) to attend / to take part in	to be present at an activity (assister à / participer à) to raise awareness	to inform people about a problem (sensibiliser)

ATTENTION Common mistakes

Do not confuse training (formation pratique) and teaching (enseignement scolaire). A technician follows a training course ; a pupil receives teaching. Also, a training course is followed by the preposition on (or in) : say a course on democracy or a course in democracy, never a course of democracy. In formal writing, prefer on or in over about. Finally, training is uncountable : no plural trainings.

3.3 Grammar focus : Word order (SVOMPT)

The programme requires revising word order in English sentences. Unlike French, English has a very strict order. Mastering it is essential for both writing and speaking clearly during the exam.

PROPRIÉTÉ The SVOMPT rule

A standard English declarative sentence follows the order : Subject + Verb + Object + Manner + Place + Time.

Element	Question	Example
S (Subject)	Who?	The facilitator
V (Verb)	What action?	explained
O (Object)	What/Whom?	the module
M (Manner)	How?	clearly
P (Place)	Where?	in the hall
T (Time)	When?	yesterday

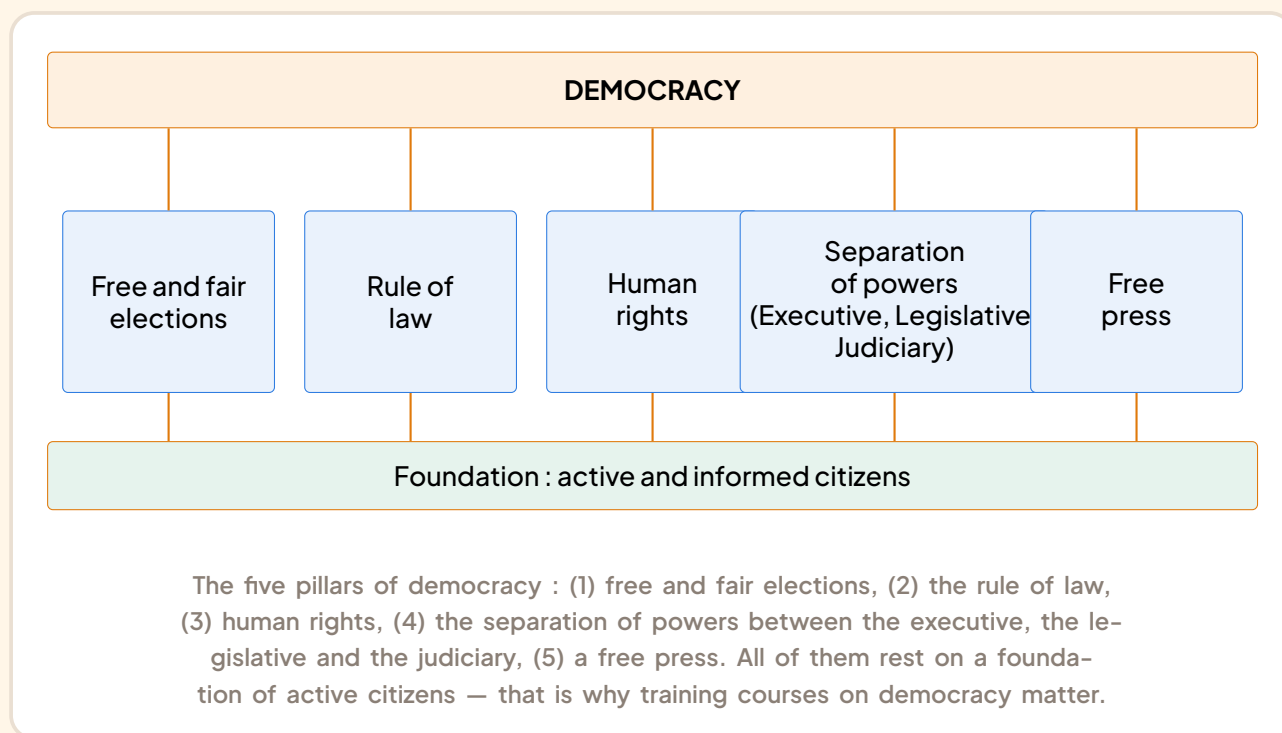

Full sentence : The facilitator explained the module clearly in the hall yesterday.

ATTENTION Word order in reported questions

Never keep the question form in a reported question. Say She asked us what we had learnt, not She asked us what had we learnt. After asked, use the normal SVOMPT order : subject + verb.

3.4 The pillars of democracy

Before listening, observe the diagram below. It presents the five pillars of democracy (les piliers de la démocratie) that the facilitator in our listening text will mention. A democracy is like a building : if one pillar is weak, the whole building can fall.

LESAVAIS-TU ? Did you know ?

The Cameroonian Constitution of 1996 affirms in its preamble the attachment of the Cameroonian people to the fundamental rights of the human person, as expressed in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. ELECAM (Elections Cameroon) is the body in charge of organising and supervising elections, and it regularly runs voter education campaigns for young people.

3.5 Listening techniques : how to understand a spoken text

Listening to English is not about understanding every single word. Even native speakers do not catch everything. Good listeners use strategies.

MÉTHODE Before, during and after listening

1. Before listening : read the questions or the task carefully and anticipate the vocabulary. If the text is about a workshop, expect words like facilitator, module, certificate, participants.
2. First listening (global listening / gist) : listen for the general meaning only. Answer : Who is speaking ? Where ? What is the topic ?
3. Second listening (selective listening) : listen for precise details : dates, places, numbers of participants, names of organisations.

4. Note-taking : write key words, not full sentences. Example : Douala — 3 days — 80 participants — ELECAM — certificates.
5. After listening : use your notes to reformulate the content orally, with reported speech : The facilitator explained that... He asked the participants whether...

3.6 Guided listening : a workshop on citizenship in Douala

Your teacher will read the following text twice (or play the recording). Close your books during the first listening ; open them only for the note-taking grid during the second listening.

EXAMPLE Listening script (teacher's version)

"Good morning, dear listeners. This is the report of our civic education workshop which took place at the Youth Centre in Bonanjo, Douala, from the 12th to the 14th of March. The training course was organised by the NGO Youth for Democracy, in partnership with ELECAM. Eighty participants — students, apprentices and young workers — attended the three-day seminar. The facilitator, Mrs Etoundi, divided the course into four modules : democratic values, the rule of law, good governance, and tolerance in a multicultural society. On the second day, participants simulated an election campaign and voted for class delegates. At the end of the workshop, every participant received a certificate. Mrs Etoundi encouraged the young people to register on the electoral lists and to vote peacefully. She explained that democracy needs active and informed citizens. She asked the participants whether they were ready to share what they had learnt in their schools and neighbourhoods."

Note-taking grid (fill it in during the second listening) :

Question	Your notes (key words only)
Where did the workshop take place?
When (dates)?
Who organised it?
How many participants?
How many modules? Which ones?
What did participants receive at the end?

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 3 Comprehension questions on the listening text

Answer these questions in full sentences.

1. Where and when did the workshop take place?
2. How many young people attended the seminar?

3. What were the four modules of the course?
4. What did Mrs Etoundi encourage the participants to do?

SOLUTION

Suggested answers :

1. The workshop took place at the Youth Centre in Bonanjo, Douala, from the 12th to the 14th of March.
2. Eighty participants attended the seminar : students, apprentices and young workers.
3. The four modules were democratic values, the rule of law, good governance, and tolerance in a multicultural society.
4. She encouraged them to register on the electoral lists, to vote peacefully, and to share what they had learnt in their schools and neighbourhoods.

EXEMPLE A concrete figure

In 2023, a workshop in Bafoussam trained 150 youth leaders on electoral participation. After the training, most of them organised awareness-raising sessions in their own communities. This shows that one training course can multiply its impact : trained people train other people.

3.7 After listening : reformulating with reported speech

Now use your notes to report what was said. This is where the previous section on reported questions becomes useful. Remember the rules : the tense usually moves one step back (present simple → past simple), and reported questions use statement word order (SVOMPT) with if/whether for yes-no questions.

Direct speech (what was said)	Reported speech (what you say)
"Democracy needs active citizens."	The facilitator explained that democracy needed active citizens.
"Are you ready to share what you have learnt?"	She asked the participants whether they were ready to share what they had learnt.
"Register on the electoral lists!"	She encouraged them to register on the electoral lists.
"What did you learn during the workshop?"	She asked us what we had learnt during the workshop.

3.8 Short debate : Why should young Cameroonians attend training courses on democracy?

Work in two groups. Group A defends the idea, Group B asks critical questions. Use the expressions below to speak politely and build your arguments.

- Giving an opinion : In my opinion... / I believe that... / As far as I am concerned...
- Agreeing : I totally agree with you. / That is exactly what I think.
- Disagreeing politely : I see your point, but... / I am afraid I disagree because...
- Concluding : To sum up, training courses on democracy help young people to...

Possible arguments : training courses teach us our rights and duties ; they prepare us to vote responsibly ; they promote tolerance and peace in our communities ; they give us certificates that can help our careers ; they train future leaders who respect the rule of law and good governance.

EXERCICE 3 Practice

Exercise 1 — Vocabulary. Complete the sentences with : facilitator, certificate, module, tolerance, rule of law, workshop.

1. At the end of the course, each participant received a ... signed by ELECAM.
2. The ... asked the participants to work in groups of five.
3. The first ... of the training was about democratic values.
4. In a democracy, the ... means that even ministers must respect the law.
5. Living together in peace requires ... towards other cultures and religions.
6. Our school organised a two-day ... on civic education.

Exercise 2 — Reported speech. Report these sentences from the listening text.

1. "The workshop took place in Douala," the journalist said.
2. "Did you receive your certificates?" the facilitator asked the participants.
3. "Why is the rule of law important?" she asked the class.

Exercise 3 — Word order. Reorder the words to make correct sentences (SVOMPT).

1. explained / the facilitator / clearly / the rules / yesterday
2. attended / eighty participants / the seminar / in Douala / last week
3. received / a certificate / every participant / at the end

Exercise 4 — Debate preparation. Write three sentences giving your opinion on this question : Should civic education be compulsory in all technical schools in Cameroon? Use In my opinion, because and to sum up.

CORRIGÉ Exercises 1, 2 and 3

Exercise 1 : 1. certificate ; 2. facilitator ; 3. module ; 4. rule of law ; 5. tolerance ; 6. workshop.

Exercise 2 : 1. The journalist said that the workshop had taken place in Douala. 2. The facilitator asked the participants whether (if) they had received their certificates. 3. She asked the class why the rule of law was important.

Exercise 3 : 1. The facilitator explained the rules clearly yesterday. 2. Eighty participants attended the seminar in Douala last week. 3. Every participant received a certificate at the end.

À RETENIR What to remember

A training course on democracy includes modules, a facilitator, participants and a certificate at the end. English word order is strict : Subject + Verb + Object + Manner + Place + Time (SVOMPT). To understand a listening text : read the questions first, listen for the gist, then listen selectively for dates, places and numbers, and take notes with key words only. To reformulate, use reported speech : The facilitator explained that... / She asked us whether... The five pillars of democracy are free and fair elections, the rule of law, human rights, the separation of powers and a free press — and they all rest on active, informed citizens like you.

4 GRAMMAR FOCUS 2 : WORD ORDER

In the previous section, you listened to texts about training courses on democracy (fr : formations sur la démocratie) and enriched your vocabulary with words like workshop (fr : atelier), facilitator (fr : formateur/animateur), civic education (fr : éducation civique) and training session (fr : session de formation). You probably noticed something while listening : English sentences follow a very strict architecture. A facilitator does not say “Explained the trainer the rules clearly”. He says : “The trainer explained the rules clearly.” Word order is not a detail in English — it is the grammar. This section gives you the complete toolkit to build correct, natural English sentences, an essential skill for the written paper of the Probatoire and Baccalauréat technique.

4.1 Why word order matters : English is a fixed-order language

Read these two groups of words. Only one is an English sentence :

1. The students elected the president yesterday.
2. Elected the president the students yesterday.

Sentence 2 is impossible in English, even though all the words are correct. Why? Because English words carry almost no endings (no conjugation marks, no agreement) that could tell you who does what. The position of each word does that job. In French, you can sometimes move elements around for style (Hier, les élèves ont élu le président / Les élèves ont élu hier le président). In English, moving a word usually changes the meaning or destroys the sentence.

PROPRIÉTÉ English : a fixed-order language

English is a fixed word order language (fr : langue à ordre fixe) : the grammatical function of a word (subject, object, etc.) is shown by its position, not by endings. Two direct consequences :

- The subject almost always comes before the verb, and the object comes after it : The voters (S) chose (V) the candidate (O).
- Contrary to French, the adjective always precedes the noun and never agrees with it : a free election, free elections (never elections frees).

ATTENTION The adjective before the noun

Francophone students often write a box wooden or a candidate Cameroonian under the influence of French (une boîte en bois, un candidat camerounais). In English, the adjective always stands before the noun : a wooden box, a Cameroonian candidate. There is no exception at your level.

4.2 The canonical sentence pattern : S-V-O-Manner-Place-Time

4.3 Building the rule from observation

Look at these sentences taken from our unit on democracy training. Read them aloud and observe the order of the underlined blocks :

- The trainees (stagiaires) practised a mock election (élection simulée) actively in the hall on Monday.
- Our class organised a debate calmly in the library last week.
- The facilitator explained the voting procedure clearly at the training centre this morning.

In every sentence, the blocks appear in exactly the same order : who does it, then the action, then what, then how, then where, then when. This is not a coincidence : it is the canonical (standard) order of the English sentence.

DÉFINITION The canonical order : S-V-O-M-P-T

A standard affirmative English sentence follows the pattern :

Subject + Verb + Object + Manner + Place + Time

- Manner (comment ?) answers how ? — carefully, actively, calmly.
- Place (où ?) answers where ? — in the hall, at the training centre.
- Time (quand ?) answers when ? — yesterday, on Monday, last week.

French often prefers the order Place-Manner-Time ; English prefers Manner-Place-Time. Remember the sequence : How ? Where ? When ?

EXAMPLE Analysing a full sentence

The participants listened carefully to the facilitator in the hall yesterday.

Block	Words
Subject	The participants
Verb	listened
Manner	carefully
Place (prepositional phrases)	to the facilitator, in the hall
Time	yesterday

The sentence follows the S-V-Manner-Place-Time pattern perfectly. Note that the object of the verb listen is a prepositional phrase (to the facilitator), which is placed before the place adjunct (in the hall).

The participants

SUBJECTVERB*OBJECT*MANNER*PLACE*TIME

who? / what?

action

who? / what?

when?

The canonical English sentence pattern S-V-O-Manner-Place-Time, illustrated with the example sentence "The participants listened to the lesson carefully in the hall yesterday." Each coloured block answers one question : who? – action – what? – how? – where? – when?

ATTENTION Time and place at the beginning

You may put the time (or place) expression at the beginning of the sentence for emphasis, followed by a comma : Yesterday, the participants listened carefully to the facilitator. But you may never place time or place between the verb and its object : The participants listened yesterday to the facilitator is wrong or very awkward. Rule : never separate the verb from its object.

4.4 The position of frequency adverbs

Adverbs of frequency (always, usually, often, sometimes, rarely, never) do not go to the end of the sentence. They have their own reserved seats.

PROPRIÉTÉ Position of frequency adverbs

1. Before the main verb (ordinary verbs) : She always attends the workshops. / Voters often ask questions.
2. After the verb be : She is always punctual. / The elections were never violent.
3. After the first auxiliary (when there is one) : He has never missed a training session. / They will always respect the results.

Note : sometimes and usually can also open the sentence : Sometimes, the trainer organises a quiz.

ATTENTION The classic Francophone mistake

Do not calque the French order Je vais souvent à l'école. The sentence I go often to school is wrong. Say : I often go to school. The adverb of frequency sticks to the verb, just before it (or just after be) : We never cheat during elections, Our facilitator is always patient.

4.5 The order of adjectives before a noun : OSASCOM

When several adjectives describe the same noun, English does not place them randomly. Native speakers follow a hidden but very stable order. Compare :

- a small old wooden ballot box (natural)
- a wooden old small ballot box (impossible)

MÉTHODE Memorise OSASCOM

To order adjectives before a noun, use the acronym OSASCOM :

1. O – Opinion (ton avis) : beautiful, fair, useful, honest
2. S – Size (taille) : big, small, long
3. A – Age (âge) : old, new, young
4. S – Shape (forme) : round, square, rectangular
5. C – Colour (couleur) : red, white, green
6. O – Origin (origine) : Cameroonian, African, French
7. M – Material (matière) : wooden, plastic, metal

Then comes the noun. Example : a small (size) old (age) Cameroonian (origin) wooden (material) ballot box. In practice, avoid using more than two or three adjectives at once.

EXEMPLE Applying OSASCOM

- a beautiful (opinion) new (age) white (colour) ballot box
- an honest (opinion) young (age) Cameroonian (origin) candidate
- a large (size) rectangular (shape) metal (material) suggestion box

4.6 Word order in questions4.7 The basic pattern : auxiliary + subject + verb

In a question, English moves the auxiliary before the subject. If the sentence has no auxiliary, English creates one : do / does / did.

PROPRIÉTÉ Question word order

1. Yes/No questions : Auxiliary + Subject + Verb + ... ?
Did the students elect their class leader? / Have you ever attended a democracy workshop?
2. Wh- questions : Wh-word + Auxiliary + Subject + Verb + ... ?
When did the training course start? / What does "citizenship" mean?
3. Subject questions : when the Wh-word is the subject, there is no auxiliary and no inversion : Who won the election? (not Who did win), How many students attended the course?

ATTENTION No inversion in indirect-style word order

After the auxiliary, the verb returns to its base form : Did you vote (not Did you voted). And never invert when the question word is the subject : Who called the meeting? is correct ; Who did call the meeting? is not.

4.8 Questions ending with a preposition

In English, the preposition of a phrasal or prepositional verb stays at the end of the question ; it cannot move to the front in everyday English.

EXEMPLE Final prepositions

- Who did you vote for? (Pour qui as-tu voté?)
- What are you talking about?
- Which course are you interested in?
- Who did she campaign with?

Formal written English allows For whom did you vote?, but at your level, prefer the natural form with the final preposition.

4.9 Inversion after restrictive adverbs (Bac complément)

For elegant, emphatic writing — a real bonus at the Baccalauréat — English inverts the subject and the auxiliary when the sentence begins with a restrictive or negative adverbial expression : never, rarely, seldom, hardly, no sooner, not only, only then, under no circumstances.

PROPRIÉTÉ Inversion after initial restrictive adverbs

Structure : Restrictive adverb + auxiliary + subject + verb.

- Never have I seen such a fair election.
- Rarely do young people take part in polls with so much enthusiasm.
- Not only did the facilitator explain the rules, but he also organised a mock vote.
- Under no circumstances should voters be intimidated.

If there is no auxiliary, add do/does/did : Seldom does he miss a training session.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 4 Reordering jumbled sentences

Put the words in the correct order to make sentences about our unit.

1. attended / the students / a workshop / actively / yesterday / at the youth centre
2. is / our facilitator / punctual / always
3. ballot / a / bought / wooden / they / old / box / small
4. for / did / who / vote / you / ?
5. seen / never / I / have / transparent / such / a / poll

SOLUTION

Solution.

1. The students attended a workshop actively at the youth centre yesterday. (S-V-O-)

Manner-Place-Time)

2. Our facilitator is always punctual. (frequency adverb after be)
3. They bought a small old wooden ballot box. (OSASCOM : size – age – material)
4. Who did you vote for? (auxiliary + subject + verb, final preposition)
5. Never have I seen such a transparent poll. (inversion after initial never)

LESAVAIS-TU ? No verb, no sentence !

In English, a group of words without a conjugated verb is not a sentence : it is a fragment (fr : fragment de phrase), and it is considered a mistake in writing. The students in the hall yesterday. is a fragment — nothing happens in it ! Add a verb and it becomes a sentence : The students were in the hall yesterday. This is why English learners are taught : “No verb, no sentence.” Always check that every sentence you write in your composition contains at least one conjugated verb.

À RETENIR Word order : the five golden rules

1. Affirmative sentence : Subject + Verb + Object + Manner + Place + Time — never separate the verb from its object.
2. Frequency adverbs : before the main verb, after be or the first auxiliary.
3. Several adjectives : follow OSASCOM (Opinion, Size, Age, Shape, Colour, Origin, Material) + noun.
4. Questions : auxiliary + subject + verb ; prepositions stay at the end (Who did you vote for?) ; no auxiliary when the Wh-word is the subject (Who won?).
5. Emphasis : after an initial restrictive adverb (never, rarely, not only...), invert auxiliary and subject : Never have I seen...

EXERCICE 4 Practice : campaigns, training and surveys

A. Put the words in order.

1. the candidates / spoke / convincingly / during the campaign / yesterday
2. often / we / part / take / in surveys
3. a / organised / they / new / interesting / training course

4. about / what / talking / is / the facilitator / ?
5. have / rarely / I / met / a / dedicated / so / volunteer

B. Correct the mistakes. One sentence is correct.

1. She goes always to the polling station early.
2. They elected yesterday their new class president.
3. The trainer explained clearly the rules in the hall this morning.
4. Who did vote for the motion?

C. Writing. Using S-V-O-M-P-T, write three sentences about a democracy training course you attended (or imagine one). Underline each block with a different colour or label it.

CORRIGÉ Exercice : Practice

A.

1. The candidates spoke convincingly during the campaign yesterday.
2. We often take part in surveys.
3. They organised an interesting new training course. (opinion before age)
4. What is the facilitator talking about?
5. Rarely have I met such a dedicated volunteer.

B.

1. She always goes to the polling station early. (adverb before the main verb)
2. They elected their new class president yesterday. (verb and object stay together)
3. Correct.
4. Who voted for the motion? (subject question : no auxiliary, no inversion)

C. Example answer : Our class (S) attended (V) a civic education workshop (O) actively (M) at the community centre (P) last Saturday (T). Check that every sentence has one conjugated verb and respects the block order.

You now master the architecture of the English sentence. In the next section, Reading & Vocabulary : Volunteering in gender equality promotion, you will meet these structures inside authentic texts — watch how often the S-V-O-M-P-T pattern and the frequency adverbs appear!

5 READING & VOCABULARY : VOLUNTEERING IN GENDER EQUALITY PROMOTION

In the previous section, we revised word order in sentences, a key skill for writing clear and correct English. Now, we move from sentence structure to text comprehension and thematic vocabulary. We will read about a powerful form of citizenship : volunteering to promote gender equality. This topic connects directly to Human Rights (Article 3 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights) and to the reality of many young Cameroonians engaged in community service.

5.1 Key Vocabulary : Volunteering and Gender Equality

Before reading the text, let us master the essential words and expressions. Notice the French glosses for key terms.

DÉFINITION

Core Vocabulary – Volunteering & Gender

English Term	Definition / Context	Glossaire (Français)
Volunteer (n.)	A person who works without pay.	Bénévole, volontaire
To volunteer (v.)	To offer to do something freely.	Faire du bénévolat, se porter volontaire
NGO (n.)	Non-Governmental Organisation.	ONG (Organisation Non Gouvernementale)
Community service (n.)	Unpaid work to help a community.	Service communautaire, travail d'intérêt général
Gender equality (n.)	Equal rights, chances, duties for women and men.	Égalité des sexes / genres
Empowerment (n.)	Giving power/confidence to someone.	Autonomisation, renforcement des capacités
Discrimination (n.)	Unfair treatment based on	Discrimination

ATTENTION Grammar Trap : Noun vs Verb / Adjective vs Adverb

Do not confuse these forms :

- A volunteer (Noun, un bénévole) vs To volunteer (Verb, faire du bénévolat).
- Voluntary (Adjective, bénévole, volontaire) : Voluntary work.
- Voluntarily (Adverb, volontairement) : He left voluntarily.

Test yourself : "She is a _____ at the Red Cross." (volunteer) / "They _____ every summer." (volunteer) / "It was a _____ decision." (voluntary).

5.2 Reading Strategies : Skimming, Scanning, and Connectors

When you face a text in an exam (Probatoire/Bac), do not read every word slowly three times. Use strategies :

MÉTHODE Three-Step Reading Strategy

Step 1 : Skimming (General Idea) – Read the title, the first sentence of each paragraph, and the last sentence. Ask : "What is the main topic ? Who ? Where ? Why ?" Step 2 : Scanning (Specific Info) – Look for keywords from the questions (numbers, names, dates, specific verbs). Move your eyes fast ; do not read every word. Step 3 : Detailed Reading (Logic & Connectors) – Read fully to answer True/False Justified or Open Questions. Spot logical connectors (linking words) to understand the argument :

- Addition : Furthermore, Moreover, In addition, Also.
- Contrast : However, Although, On the other hand, Despite.
- Cause/Effect : Therefore, Consequently, As a result, Because of.
- Example : For instance, such as, including.

5.3 Reading Text : "Voices of Change in the Far North"

Read the following text. Apply the method : Skim first (30 seconds), then scan for details.

EXEMPLE Reading Text : Voices of Change in the Far North

Title : Voices of Change in the Far North

[1] In the dusty streets of Maroua, capital of the Far North Region, a group of young volunteers walks from compound to compound under a scorching sun. They belong to "Youth for Equality", a local NGO supported by the MINPROFF (Ministry of Women's Empowerment and the Family). Their mission is simple but difficult : advocate for Girls' education in communities where early marriage and poverty keep daughters at home.

[2] Furthermore, cultural norms often dictate that a girl's place is in the kitchen, not the classroom. However, the volunteers – both young men and women – use a powerful tool : dialogue. They sit with traditional chiefs and parents, explaining that an educated girl becomes an empowered woman who contributes to the family income and community development. "We do not fight tradition," says Aïcha, 22, a volunteer and university student. "We show that gender equality benefits everyone."

[3] For instance, during the last awareness campaign in June 2024, 300 volunteers reached over 5,000 households in the Diamaré division. They organised focus groups, radio talks in Fulfulde and French, and school visits. As a result, local authorities reported a 15% increase in girls' enrolment in targeted primary schools for the 2024–2025 academic year.

[4] Despite these gains, discrimination persists. Some families still hide their daughters when volunteers arrive. Therefore, the NGO now trains "community relays" – respected local men and women – to continue the work after the volunteers leave. This ensures empowerment is sustainable. These relays become role models, proving that volunteering is not just community service; it is a fight for fundamental human rights.

5.4 Comprehension Activities

EXERCICE 5 Comprehension Questions

A. True or False? Justify by quoting the exact line(s) from the text.

1. The volunteers in Maroua are paid employees of the government.
2. Cultural norms in the Far North fully support girls' education.
3. Aïcha believes gender equality is only good for women.
4. The June 2024 campaign involved 300 volunteers.
5. The campaign used only French to communicate.

6. The NGO trains "community relays" to make the action sustainable.

B. Open Questions (Answer in your own words, using complete sentences).

1. What is the name of the NGO mentioned in the text and which ministry supports it?
2. List three specific activities organised during the awareness campaign.
3. According to the text, what was the concrete result of the campaign on school enrolment?
4. Why does the NGO train "community relays"?
5. Find in the text a sentence showing that volunteering is linked to human rights.

C. Vocabulary Equivalences (Match the word from the text to its definition).

1. Advocate (l. 4)
2. Empowerment (l. 14)
3. Scorching (l. 2)
4. Sustainable (l. 15)
5. Compound (l. 2)

a) Very hot. b) To speak in favour of. c) A family enclosure/household. d) Giving power/autonomy. e) Lasting, able to continue.

CORRIGÉ Exercice Comprehension

A. True / False Justified

1. False. Line 3 : "They belong to 'Youth for Equality', a local NGO..." / Line 4 : "Their mission is simple..." . They are volunteers, not paid government employees.
2. False. Line 7 : "cultural norms often dictate that a girl's place is in the kitchen, not the classroom."
3. False. Line 9 : "We show that gender equality benefits everyone."
4. True. Line 11 : "during the last awareness campaign in June 2024, 300 volunteers reached..."
5. False. Line 12 : "radio talks in Fulfulde and French".
6. True. Line 15 : "the NGO now trains 'community relays' ... to continue the work after the volunteers leave. This ensures empowerment is sustainable."

B. Open Questions (Sample Answers)

1. The NGO is "Youth for Equality". It is supported by the MINPROFF (Ministry of Women's Empowerment and the Family).
2. Focus groups, radio talks (in Fulfulde and French), and school visits.
3. A 15% increase in girls' enrolment in targeted primary schools for the 2024-2025 academic year.
4. To continue the work after the volunteers leave and ensure empowerment is sustainable.
5. Line 17 : "...proving that volunteering is not just community service ; it is a fight for fundamental human rights."

C. Vocabulary Equivalences 1 – b (Advocate = To speak in favour of). 2 – d (Empowerment = Giving power/autonomy). 3 – a (Scorching = Very hot). 4 – e (Sustainable = Lasting). 5 – c (Compound = Family enclosure/household).

5.5 Focus on Logical Connectors (Text Analysis)

The text uses connectors to build a coherent argument. Identifying them helps you understand the logic of the writer.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 5 Analyzing Connectors

Task : Identify the connector in each sentence below and explain its function (Contrast, Addition, Consequence, Example).

1. "Furthermore, cultural norms often dictate..." (Paragraph 2)
2. "However, the volunteers... use a powerful tool : dialogue." (Paragraph 2)
3. "For instance, during the last awareness campaign..." (Paragraph 3)
4. "As a result, local authorities reported a 15% increase..." (Paragraph 3)
5. "Despite these gains, discrimination persists." (Paragraph 4)
6. "Therefore, the NGO now trains community relays..." (Paragraph 4)

Solution :

1. Furthermore – Addition. Adds a second problem (cultural norms) to the first (poverty/early marriage mentioned in Para 1).
2. However – Contrast. Opposes the negative context (norms) to the positive action (volunteers using dialogue).
3. For instance – Example. Introduces a concrete illustration of the work described generally before.
4. As a result – Consequence. Shows the effect (enrolment increase) of the cause (campaign activities).
5. Despite – Concession/Contrast. Introduces a persisting problem even though there were gains.
6. Therefore – Consequence/Conclusion. Introduces the strategic response (training relays) to the persisting problem.

5.6 Illustration 1 : Comparative Enrollment Data (pgfplots)

Data visualization helps understand the context of the text. The chart below shows fictional but realistic data inspired by INS (Institut National de la Statistique) trends for the 2023–2024 school year. It highlights the gender gap the volunteers are fighting.

À RETENIRReading the Chart

- Far North : Boys 62% vs Girls 48% (Gap : 14 points). This is the zone of the text.
- North / Adamawa / East : Significant gaps (10-12 points).
- Centre / Littoral / West : Near parity (Gap < 3 points). Urban advantage.
- Analysis : Volunteering is most critical where the gap is widest (Far North, North).

5.7 Illustration 2 : Volunteer Action Zones Map (TikZ)

The text mentions Maroua (Far North). Volunteering happens nationwide. This simplified map locates three key intervention zones.

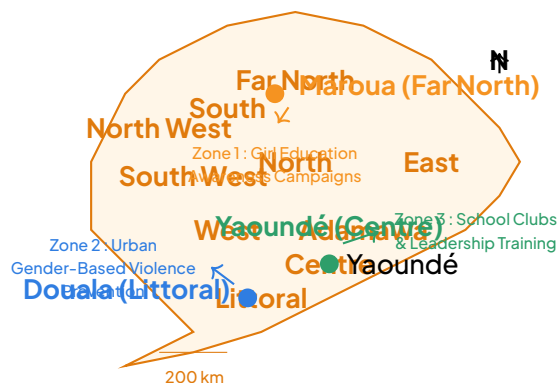

Figure 2 : Simplified Map of Cameroon showing Three Volunteer Intervention Zones. Zone 1 (Far North) matches the reading text. Zones 2 & 3 show other typical NGO activities.

5.8 Discussion : Youth as Agents of Change

The text shows young people (Aïcha, 22) leading change. In your context (Technical High School), you are also agents of change.

EXERCICE 6 Oral / Written Discussion

Work in pairs or small groups. Discuss and take notes.

1. At School : How can boys and girls in Terminale promote gender equality in your technical workshops (atelier), classrooms, or student government (bureau des élèves)?
2. In the Community : What volunteering activities could your class organise during holidays to support Girls' education or fight discrimination?
3. Role Models : Who is a role model for you (famous or local) regarding gender equality? Why?

Report : Choose a spokesperson to present 3 concrete ideas to the class. Use vocabulary : advocate, raise awareness, empower, volunteer, NGO, community service.

5.9 Link with Human Rights : Article 3 UDHR

Volunteering for gender equality is not just charity : it is defending a legal right.

LESAVAIS-TU ? Cultural & Legal Context : Cameroon & Human Rights

Article 3 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948) :

"Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person."

Article 26 (Education) :

"Everyone has the right to education... Education shall be directed to the full development of the human personality and to the strengthening of respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms."

Cameroon Specifics :

- Cameroon ratified CEDAW (Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women) in 1994.
- The Constitution (Preamble) guarantees equality of rights for all citizens.
- MINPROFF (Ministère de la Promotion de la Femme et de la Famille) is the dedicated ministry created in 2004 (Decree 2004/320). It designs national policies for gender mainstreaming.
- National Gender Policy (2011–2020, revised) aims to eliminate disparities in education, health, and economic participation.

Connection : When you volunteer for an awareness campaign, you are helping the State implement its international and national legal obligations. You are a human rights defender.

5.10 Writing Preparation : Composition on Volunteering

This reading prepares you for the Writing task (Section 6 of the lesson plan) : "Write a composition about volunteering in gender equality promotion activities." You will need :

- Vocabulary from this section (advocate, empowerment, NGO, awareness campaign...).
- Grammar : Phrasal verbs (e.g., bring about change, carry out a campaign, reach out to communities), Sequence of tenses (reporting past events) Impersonal passives (e.g., It is reported that..., Volunteers are needed...).
- Structure Introduction (Context/Hook) → Body Paragraphs (Actions, Challenges, Results, Connectors) → Conclusion (Call to action / Personal commitment).

EXEMPLE Writing Plan Outline

Topic : "Volunteering for Gender Equality : A Duty for Youth."

1. Intro : Define gender equality (Human Right). State the problem (gap in Far North). Thesis : Youth volunteering bridges the gap.
2. Body 1 (Action) : Describe activities (campaigns, dialogue with chiefs, radio). Use phrasal verbs : carry out, reach out to, speak out.
3. Body 2 (Impact/Results) : Cite evidence (enrolment increase). Use impersonal passive : It has been observed that... / A rise was recorded.... Use sequence of tenses for reported speech.
4. Body 3 (Challenges/Sustainability) : Mention persistence of discrimination. Solution : Training relays/role models. Use connectors : However, Therefore, Consequently.

5. Conclusion : Summary. Personal pledge : "As a technical student, I will..."

5.11 Summary Checklist

À RETENIR Key Takeaways for Section 5

- Grammar Links : Connectors (Furthermore, However, As a result, Despite, Therefore) organize the argument.
- Citizenship : Volunteering = Active Citizenship = Human Rights Defence (UDHR Art. 3, 26 ; CEDAW ; MINPROFF).

6 GRAMMAR FOCUS 3 & WRITING : PHRASAL VERBS, SEQUENCE OF TENSES, IMPERSONAL PASSIVES

In the previous section, we read texts about volunteers who promote gender equality in their communities. We met sentences like "She joined the NGO to promote girls' education" and "It is reported that more girls now go to school." These sentences contain three powerful grammar tools : phrasal verbs used to express purpose, the sequence of tenses and the impersonal passive. In this final section, we will master these three tools and then use them to write a full composition about volunteering in gender equality promotion activities — exactly the kind of writing task you will meet at the Probatoire and the Baccalauréat technique.

6.1 Phrasal verbs in simple expressions of purpose

What is a phrasal verb ?

Look at these two sentences :

- The volunteers carried heavy boxes. (carried = transported)
- The volunteers carried out a campaign. (carried out = conducted, organised)

The verb carry changes its meaning completely when we add the particle out. This is the key intuition : a phrasal verb is a team of words whose meaning is different from the meaning of the verb alone.

DÉFINITION Phrasal verb

A phrasal verb is a verb combined with a particle (an adverb or a preposition) whose global meaning is different from the meaning of the simple verb. Examples : carry out (conduct), set up (create), give out (distribute).

Key phrasal verbs for citizenship and volunteering

Here are the phrasal verbs you must know for this unit. Learn them with their meanings and one example sentence each.

Phrasal verb	Meaning	Example sentence
carry out	conduct, do	They carried out a campaign in schools.
set up	create, establish	We set up a girls' club in our school.
look after	take care of	She looks after vulnerable children.
give out	distribute	They gave out leaflets at the market.
bring about	cause, produce	Education brings about real change.
stand up for	defend	We must stand up for women's rights.

Six essential phrasal verbs for talking about volunteering and citizenship. Note also take part in (participate in) : Many students take part in awareness activities.

ATTENTION Separable or inseparable ?

Some phrasal verbs can be separated by an object (give out leaflets / give leaflets out / give them out), but with look after, the particle never separates from the verb before a pronoun : She looks after them and never looks them after. The same rule applies to stand up for and take part in : We stand up for them, We take part in it.

Expressing purpose : to, in order to, so as to

Why do people volunteer? To answer, English uses the infinitive of purpose.

À RETENIR Expressing purpose

To say why someone does something, use :

- to + infinitive : She joined the NGO to promote girls' education.
- in order to + infinitive (more formal) : They set up a club in order to fight discrimination.
- so as to + infinitive (formal) : He gave out leaflets so as to inform the public.

Negative purpose : in order not to / so as not to : She spoke quietly so as not to frighten the children.

EXEMPLE Phrasal verbs + purpose together

The students set up a gender equality club in order to bring about change in their school. They gave out leaflets to inform parents, and they carried out a survey to understand why some girls drop out of school.

6.2 Sequence of tenses

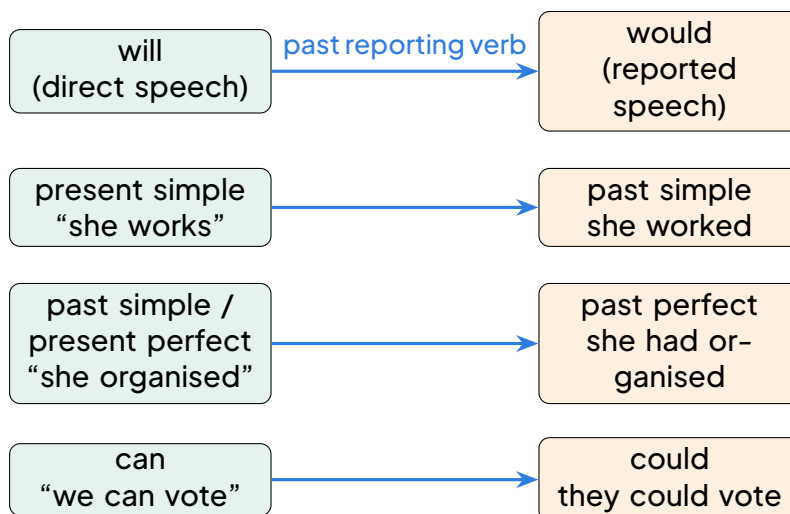

The intuition

Imagine Amina says on Monday : "I will volunteer at the centre." On Friday, you report her words : Amina said she would volunteer at the centre. When the reporting verb is in the past (said), the verbs inside the reported sentence "step back" into the past. This is the sequence of tenses (la concordance des temps).

PROPRIÉTÉ Sequence of tenses after a past reporting verb

When the introductory verb is in the past (said, told, explained, believed), the tenses in the subordinate clause shift back :

- present simple → past simple : "I work hard" → She said she worked hard.
- will → would : "I will volunteer" → She said she would volunteer.
- can → could : "We can help" → He said they could help.
- present perfect / past simple → past perfect : "We have organised a campaign" → They said they had organised a campaign.

The sequence of tenses : after a reporting verb in the past, every tense "steps back" one step into the past.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 6 Applying the sequence of tenses

Report this sentence : The coordinator said : "Our volunteers have set up three clubs and they will train more girls next year."

SOLUTION

Step 1 — Identify the reporting verb : said (past). So all tenses shift back.

Step 2 — have set up (present perfect) → had set up (past perfect); will train → would train.

Solution : The coordinator said that their volunteers had set up three clubs and that they would train more girls the following year.

ATTENTION When the tense does NOT change

If the reported sentence expresses a permanent truth or a fact that is still true, the tense can stay the same : The teacher said that girls have the same rights as boys. Also, if the reporting verb is in the present (she says), there is no shift at all : She says she will volunteer.

6.3 Impersonal passives

The intuition

Journalists and official reports often avoid saying who says or believes something. Instead of "People say that volunteers change lives," they write "It is said that volunteers change lives." This structure sounds more objective and more formal — perfect for reports, news and exam essays.

DÉFINITION Impersonal passive

An impersonal passive reports what people in general say, believe, know or report, without naming them. The most common verbs are : say, believe, report, know, think, expect.

MÉTHODE Building an impersonal passive : two possible structures

Starting from : People say that volunteers change lives.

1. Structure 1 — It + is said + that + clause : It is said that volunteers change lives.
 2. Structure 2 — Subject + is said + to-infinitive : Volunteers are said to change lives.
- In structure 2, the subject of the that-clause becomes the subject of the passive sentence, and the verb becomes a to-infinitive.

EXEMPLE Impersonal passives in context

It is reported that more girls are enrolled in schools in the Far North thanks to awareness campaigns.

It is believed that education brings about lasting change.

Volunteers are known to look after vulnerable people in many communities.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 7 Active → impersonal passive

Transform : People believe that the campaign has changed attitudes.

SOLUTION

Structure 1 : It is believed that the campaign has changed attitudes.

Structure 2 : The campaign is believed to have changed attitudes. (Note : the action happened before the belief, so we use the perfect infinitive to have changed.)

6.4 Writing : a composition on volunteering in gender equality promotion

Task and plan

Exam task : Write a composition of 250–300 words on the following topic : "Volunteering in gender equality promotion activities in my community."

MÉTHODE Building your composition in four steps

1. Brainstorm : list ideas — activities (campaigns, clubs, leaflets, door-to-door visits), people (students, NGOs, traditional leaders), results (more girls in school, changed attitudes).
2. Plan : introduction (present the situation and the topic), development in 2–3 paragraphs (activities / people involved / results and difficulties), conclusion (your opinion and hopes).
3. Write : link your paragraphs with connectors : firstly, moreover, however, as a result, in conclusion. Reuse the grammar of this lesson : phrasal verbs, purpose with to/in order to, sequence of tenses, impersonal passives.
4. Check : word count (250–300), verb tenses, spelling, punctuation.

Model composition

EXAMPLE Model answer (about 280 words)

Volunteering in gender equality promotion in my community

In my community, many people still believe that boys are more important than girls. However, things are slowly changing, thanks to the work of volunteers. It is said that volunteering can bring about real change, and I have seen this with my own eyes.

Firstly, young volunteers in my town have set up a gender equality club in order to fight discrimination. Every Saturday, they carry out awareness campaigns in schools and markets. They give out leaflets to inform parents about the importance of sending girls to school. Moreover, some volunteers look after girls who have dropped out of school and help them to return to the classroom.

The results are encouraging. It is reported that more girls are now enrolled in our schools than five years ago. Last year, our club organised a public debate, and many traditional leaders attended it. The organiser said that the leaders had promised to stand up for girls' rights. She added that they would support future campaigns.

However, there are still difficulties. Some families refuse to listen, and volunteers are sometimes discouraged. Nevertheless, I believe that we must not give up. Education is the key to development, and girls have the same right to education as boys.

In conclusion, volunteering in gender equality promotion is a noble activity that transforms lives. I am proud to take part in it, and I encourage every young Cameroonian to join us, so as to build a fairer society for all.

ATTENTION Exam marking criteria

At the Probatoire and the Baccalauréat technique, your composition is marked on four criteria : content (relevant ideas), organisation (clear paragraphs, connectors), vocabulary (rich, correct words from the unit) and grammatical accuracy (correct tenses, phrasal verbs, passives). A beautiful idea with many grammar mistakes loses marks : always leave five minutes to proofread.

LESAVAIS-TU ? Did you know ?

In Cameroon, many NGOs and school clubs promote gender equality through volunteering. Programmes supporting girls' education, especially in the Far North, North and Adamawa regions, have helped thousands of girls stay in school. International days such as the International Day of the Girl Child (11 October) are marked by awareness campaigns organised largely by young volunteers — a perfect topic for your exam essays !

7 ACTIVITÉ D'INTÉGRATION

8 CITIZENSHIP AND HUMAN RIGHTS

8.1 Objectifs de l'activité

- Mobiliser l'ensemble des savoirs de la leçon Citizenship and human rights : vocabulaire électoral et de volontariat, questions rapportées, ordre des mots, phrasal verbs, concordance des temps, passifs impersonnels.
- Produire une tâche complexe authentique combinant production orale (présentation de sondage) et production écrite (rapport d'enquête, composition personnelle).
- Développer des compétences transversales : travail collaboratif, enquête de terrain, traitement de données chiffrées, argumentation citoyenne.
- S'auto-évaluer et évaluer ses pairs à l'aide d'une grille critériée commune (contenu, organisation, vocabulaire, grammaire).

8.2 Situation

Contexte : Le Lycée Technique de New Bell (Douala) organise l'élection de ses nouveaux délégués de classe pour l'année scolaire 2026–2027. L'administration encourage les élèves à mener une campagne citoyenne responsable, fondée sur l'écoute des attentes réelles de la communauté scolaire.

Votre mission : En groupes de 4 élèves, vous pilotez le projet « My school, my voice ». Vous devez :

1. Concevoir un mini-sondage de 5 questions fermées (choix multiples ou échelle de Likert) portant sur les qualités attendues d'un délégué, les priorités d'action (hygiène, discipline, activités culturelles, orientation, égalité filles-garçons) et le mode de scrutin souhaité.
2. Interroger 20 élèves du lycée (hors votre classe) sur une période de deux jours.
3. Présenter les résultats sous forme de diagramme en barres (une barre par modalité de réponse par question) et les commenter oralement en 3 minutes devant la classe (« According to our survey, 55% of respondents consider honesty as the top quality... »).
4. Rédiger collectivement un rapport écrit d'une page (environ 150 mots) rapportant les réponses significatives à l'aide de questions rapportées (« One student said that... Another asked whether... »).
5. Rédiger individuellement une composition de 250 à 300 mots intitulée « How I would volunteer to promote gender equality in my school ». Le texte doit impérativement contenir :
 - au moins 4 phrasal verbs (ex. stand up for, team up with, set up, carry out, speak out, look into, run for);

- au moins 2 passifs impersonnels (ex. It is believed that... Students are encouraged to... It has been decided that...);
- une concordance des temps correcte tout au long du récit (passé simple / passé continu / plus-que-parfait / futur dans le passé).

Une grille d'évaluation commune (4 critères × 5 points = 20 points) guide la correction et la remédiation.

8.3 Consignes

1. Étape 1 — Conception du sondage (20 min) : En groupe, rédigez 5 questions claires, neutres et exploitables statistiquement. Validez-les avec l'enseignant avant diffusion. (Vocabulaire : poll survey respondent ballot manifesto gender equality)

3. Étape 3 — Traitement et présentation orale (30 min en classe) : Compilez les 20 réponses par question. Construisez un diagramme en barres (papier ou tableur). Préparez un commentaire oral structuré : introduction (objectif, échantillon), résultats principaux (pourcentages), analyse brève, conclusion. Utilisez l'ordre des mots correct (SVOMPT) et le vocabulaire électoral.
4. Étape 4 — Rapport écrit d'enquête (groupe, 30 min) : Rédigez le rapport en transformant les citations directes en questions rapportées (wh-questions et yes/no questions). Respectez la concordance des temps (present → past, will → would, can → could).

3	How should the vote be organised? A) Secret ballot B) Show of hands C) Online poll D) Consensus
4	Should gender parity be respected in the student council? A) Yes, absolutely B) Preferably C) Not necessary D) No opinion
5	Would you volunteer for a gender-equality club? A) Yes, certainly B) Maybe C) Probably not D) Never

Étape 2 — Données brutes compilées (20 répondants)

Question	Option A	Option B	Option C	Option D	Total
1 (Quality)	11	3	4	2	20
2 (Priority)	5	6	3	6	20
3 (Vote method)	14	2	3	1	20
4 (Gender parity)	12	5	2	1	20
5 (Volunteering)	8	7	3	2	20

Étape 3 — Commentaire oral modèle (3 min) « Good morning everyone. Our group conducted a survey among 20 students of Lycée Technique de New Bell about the upcoming election of class delegates. According to our survey, 55% of respondents consider honesty as the top quality for a delegate, while only 15% chose popularity. Regarding priorities, the votes are split : 30% for discipline, 30% for gender equality, 25% for hygiene, and 15% for cultural activities. Interestingly, 70% prefer a secret ballot, which shows a strong attachment to democratic principles. On gender parity, 60% say it is absolutely necessary and 25% say preferably. Finally, 40% would certainly volunteer for a gender-equality club and 35% maybe. To conclude, students want honest delegates, democratic voting, and are ready to engage for equality. Thank you. »

Étape 4 — Rapport écrit d'enquête (groupe) — Questions rapportées One student said that honesty was the most important quality because delegates manage money. Another asked whether the election would be transparent. A third respondent wanted to know what the delegate would do for gender equality. Several students stated that they would vote only if the ballot was secret. Many added that gender parity had to be respected in the council. One girl explained that she could volunteer if the club was well organised. The group concluded that the majority were ready to stand up for equality.

Étape 5 — Composition individuelle modèle (298 mots) Title : How I would volunteer to promote gender equality in my school

If I were elected as a volunteer coordinator for gender equality, I would immediately set up a mixed committee of boys and girls. It is believed that real change starts when students team up with each other across gender lines. Last year, I noticed that girls were often ignored during class debates. It has been decided that this year, a « Girls' Voice » week will be organised every term.

First, I would speak out against stereotypes in morning assemblies. I would also look into the reasons why few girls run for leadership positions. A survey carried out last month showed that 60% of girls lacked confidence. Therefore, I would team up with the school counsellor to carry out confidence-building workshops.

Second, I would stand up for equal access to technical workshops. In our section (Électrotechnique), girls are encouraged to handle tools exactly like boys. It is expected that this practice will inspire younger students. I would also set up a mentoring system where senior girls guide junior ones.

Finally, I would write a termly report for the administration. It is said that accountability ensures sustainability. By the end of my mandate, I hope the school will have become a model of parity in Douala.

Vérification des contraintes :

- Erreur fréquente 2 : Mauvaise formation du passif impersonnel (*It is believed students are... sans that ; *Students are believed to are...). → Tableau de substitution It is said / thought / expected / decided / reported that... + Subject + is/are said / thought / expected + to-inf.
- Erreur fréquente 3 : Confusion phrasal verb / verbe + préposition (*stand for au lieu de stand up for). → Liste à apprendre par cœur + exercices de complétion.
- Erreur fréquente 4 : Diagramme en barres mal étiqueté (pas de titre, pas d'échelle, pas d'unité %). → Modèle imposé pour la prochaine évaluation.

LE SAVAIS-TU ?Ancrage camerounais

Au Cameroun, la loi n°2017/013 du 12 juillet 2017 relative au code électoral et les textes régissant la vie scolaire dans les établissements publics (décret n°2001/041 et arrêtés d'application) prévoient la participation des élèves par l'élection de délégués. Le MINEDUB et le MINESEC encouragent la mise en place de Clubs Genre dans les lycées techniques pour lutter contre les stéréotypes dans les filières industrielles (Électrotechnique, Mécanique, BTP) où les filles restent minoritaires (~15–20% des effectifs). Le projet « My school, my voice » s'inscrit dans cette dynamique citoyenne nationale.

voting day. Then swap roles.

10.2 Grammar Focus 1 : Reported Questions

MÉTHODE Reporting Questions Correctly

To transform a direct question into a reported question (question au style indirect), follow these steps :

1. Choose a reporting verb : asked, wanted to know, wondered, enquired.
2. If the question is a yes/no question, introduce it with if or whether.
3. If it is a wh-question, keep the question word (what, where, why, how...).
4. Change the question order into statement order : subject + verb. Never keep the inversion.
5. Backshift the tense : present simple → past simple ; present continuous → past continuous ; present perfect / past simple → past perfect ; will → would ; can → could.
6. Adapt time and place expressions : now → then ; today → that day ; tomorrow → the next day ; here → there.
7. Remove the question mark : a reported question ends with a full stop.

10.4 Grammar Focus 2 : Word Order

MÉTHODE Getting the Word Order Right in English Sentences

English word order is much stricter than French word order. To build a correct sentence :

1. Start with the subject, then the verb, then the object/complement : S + V + O.
2. Place adverbs of frequency (always, often, never, usually) before the main verb but after the verb to be : She often votes. / She is always punctual.
3. Place adjectives before nouns : a free election, never “an election free” in basic sentences.
4. Order of complements at the end : Manner – Place – Time (MPT) : They voted calmly at school on Monday.
5. In questions, use inversion with the auxiliary : Do you vote ? / Did they campaign ?
6. In reported questions and indirect speech, no inversion : He asked where the polling station was.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 10 Word Order – Bac-Type Exercise

Task. Reorder the words to make correct sentences.

1. always / the students / attend / democracy workshops / on Fridays
2. asked / the trainer / where / was / the polling station

SOLUTION

Solution.

1. Adverb of frequency always goes before the main verb attend ; time expression at the end :
The students always attend democracy workshops on Fridays.
2. Reported question : no inversion, subject the polling station before verb was :
The trainer asked where the polling station was.
3. Adjective successful before the noun campaign ; adverb very modifies the adjective ; time at the end :
They organised a very successful campaign last week.

Conclusion : respect S + V + O, put frequency adverbs before the main verb, adjectives before nouns, and never invert in reported questions.

10.6 Grammar Focus 3 : Phrasal Verbs, Sequence of Tenses, Impersonal PassivesMÉTHODE Using Phrasal Verbs to Express Purpose

Phrasal verbs (verbes à particule) are frequent in texts about volunteering. To use them well :

1. Learn the verb with its particle as one unit : carry out (mener à bien), set up (créer, mettre en place), take part in (participer à), look after (s'occuper de), give up (abandonner), stand for (représenter, défendre), sign up (s'inscrire), reach out (tendre la main, contacter).
2. To express purpose, use to + infinitive or in order to / so as to + infinitive : Volunteers set up clubs to promote gender equality.
3. With a separable phrasal verb, a short object can go between verb and particle : They carried the project out. A pronoun must go in the middle : They carried it out (never "carried out it").
4. With an inseparable phrasal verb (verb + preposition), the object always follows : She takes part in the campaign.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 11
Phrasal Verbs and Purpose – Bac–Type Exercise

Task. Complete with the correct phrasal verb from the box and add a purpose clause.

The volunteers carried out a survey to know the needs of the community.
3. Give up means "abandonner", after must not the base form is used :
Even when the work is difficult, we must not give up.

Conclusion : the particle changes the meaning of the verb ; purpose is expressed with to + infinitive.

4. Volunteersyounger students during the campaign.

CORRIGÉ Exercice Phrasal Verbs

1. took part in
2. stands for
3. sign up
4. look after

MÉTHODE Mastering the Sequence of Tenses

When the main verb is in the past, the verbs in the subordinate clauses usually shift backwards :

1. Identify the tense of the reporting/main verb. If it is in the past (said, explained, believed), apply the backshift.
2. Present simple → past simple : “Women work hard” → He said women worked hard.
3. Present continuous → past continuous : is training → was training.
4. Present perfect and past simple → past perfect : has voted / voted → had voted.
5. will → would ; can → could ; must → had to.
6. Exception : a general truth or a fact still true can stay in the present : The trainer said that every citizen has the right to vote.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 12 Sequence of Tenses – Bac-Type Exercise

Task. Put the verbs in brackets in the correct tense.

1. The coordinator announced that the training session (start) ...the following Monday.
2. She explained that the volunteers (already / visit) ...three villages.
3. He told us that gender equality (be) ...a human right.

SOLUTION

Solution.

1. Main verb announced (past) → will becomes would :
The coordinator announced that the training session would start the following Monday.
2. The action happened before the announcement → past perfect :
She explained that the volunteers had already visited three villages.
3. General truth, still true → present simple is accepted (backshift also possible) :
He told us that gender equality is (or was) a human right.

Conclusion : after a past reporting verb, shift tenses one step back, except for permanent truths.

EXERCICE 16 Sequence of Tenses – Practice

Put the verbs in brackets in the correct tense.

CORRIGÉ Exercice Sequence of Tenses

1. were (or are – general truth)
2. had dropped out
3. could
4. protected (or protects – general truth)

MÉTHODE Forming Impersonal Passives

The impersonal passive (passif impersonnel) is used in formal reports and news about elections or rights. Two constructions exist :

1. It + passive verb + that-clause : It is said that the elections were free.
2. Subject + passive verb + to-infinitive : The elections are said to have been free.
3. Use verbs of saying and thinking : say, believe, think, report, expect, claim, know.
4. If the reported action is earlier, use the perfect infinitive to have + past participle : She is believed to have voted.
5. If the reported action is simultaneous or future, use the simple infinitive to + base : He is expected to win.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 13 Impersonal Passives – Bac-Type Exercise

1. People say that the campaign was peaceful. → It ...
2. Journalists report that many women voted in the election. → Many women ...

SOLUTION

Solution.

1. Construction 1 with It is said that :
It is said that the campaign was peaceful.
2. Construction 2 ; the voting happened before the report → perfect infinitive :
Many women are reported to have voted in the election.
3. Construction 2 with expect + simple infinitive :
The new school leader is expected to defend students' rights.

Conclusion : choose It is said that... or subject + is said + to-infinitive ; use the perfect infinitive for earlier actions.

10.7 Writing : Composition on Volunteering for Gender EqualityMÉTHODE Writing a Composition on Volunteering for Gender Equality

For the Bac essay (about 150–200 words), follow this plan :

1. Read the topic carefully and identify the task : describe an activity, give your opinion, or propose solutions.
2. Brainstorm vocabulary from the unit : volunteer, raise awareness, equal rights, campaign, empower girls, training course.
3. Introduction (2–3 sentences) : present the topic and its importance in your community.
4. Body (2 paragraphs) : describe concrete actions (door-to-door campaigns, girls' clubs, surveys) using phrasal verbs and purpose clauses; give results and your opinion.
5. Conclusion (2 sentences) : summarise and give a recommendation or a hope for the future.
6. Link your ideas with connectors : first, moreover, however, as a result, in conclusion.
7. Proofread : check sequence of tenses, word order, subject-verb agreement, and spelling.

EXERCICE RÉSOLU 14 Guided Composition – Bac-Type Exercise

Task. Your English club took part in a volunteering activity to promote gender equality in your neighbourhood. Write a composition of about 120 words describing the activity and its results.

SOLUTION

Solution (model answer).

Last month, the English club of our school carried out a volunteering campaign to promote gender equality in our neighbourhood.

First, we set up a small team and organised door-to-door visits in order to raise awareness about girls' education. Moreover, we took part in a training session on human rights, where we learned that every child has the right to go to school. During the campaign, we distributed posters and answered the questions of parents.

As a result, many families promised to send their daughters to school. It is believed that our action changed mentalities. In conclusion, volunteering is a powerful way to build a fairer society, and I encourage every student to take part in such activities.

Marking points : clear plan (introduction, body, conclusion) ; phrasal verbs (carried out, set up, took part in) ; purpose clause (in order to raise) ; impersonal passive (it is believed that) ; connectors ; correct tenses.

EXERCICE 18 Writing Practice – Bac-Type

Choose ONE topic and write 150–200 words.

1. Describe a volunteering experience you had (or imagine one) to promote gender equality in your school. Explain what you did and what changed.
2. "Volunteering is the best way to learn citizenship." Do you agree? Give reasons and examples.
3. Write a formal letter to the Mayor proposing a youth volunteer programme for gender equality in your municipality.

10.8 Integration Activities / Evaluation / RemediationÀ RETENIR Key Points for the Bac

- Reported questions : no inversion, backshift tenses, use if/whether for yes/no questions.
- Word order : S+V+O ; frequency adverbs before main verb (after be) ; adjectives before nouns ; Manner-Place-Time.

- Phrasal verbs : separable vs inseparable ; pronoun goes in middle of separable verbs ; express purpose with to/in order to.
- Sequence of tenses : backshift after past reporting verbs ; exception for general truths.
- Impersonal passive : It is said that... OR Subject + is said + to-infinitive ; perfect infinitive for earlier actions.
- Writing : structured paragraphs, connectors, unit vocabulary, varied grammar.

ATTENTION The 5 Mistakes That Cost Marks at the Bac

1. Keeping the inversion in reported questions. Never write "She asked where was the polling station" ; write She asked where the polling station was. Statement order is compulsory.
2. Forgetting the backshift of tenses. After said, asked, explained, will must become would, have voted becomes had voted. Only permanent truths may stay in the present.
3. Wrong position of frequency adverbs. Write Students always attend the course, not "Students attend always the course" ; but She is always motivated (after to be).
4. Misplacing the pronoun with separable phrasal verbs. Write They carried it out, never "They carried out it".
5. Faulty impersonal passive. Do not write "It is said the elections to be free". Use either It is said that the elections were free or The elections are said to have been free – never mix the two structures.

EXPÉRIENCE Integration Activity : Mock Election Project

Objective : Apply all unit skills in a simulated school election.

1. Week 1 (Speaking/Vocabulary) : Form parties, write manifestos, hold a debate. Record key vocabulary.
2. Week 2 (Grammar/Listening) : Listen to a talk on electoral transparency ; report questions from the debate using reported speech.
3. Week 3 (Reading/Writing) : Read a case study on gender quotas in student councils ; write a proposal for gender-balanced representation using phrasal verbs, sequence of tenses, and impersonal passives.

4. Week 4 (Evaluation) : Conduct the election ; observers write a formal report using impersonal passives. Peer-assess compositions with a rubric covering vocabulary, grammar, organisation.

Remediation : Students with difficulties review the methode boxes and redo the exercice boxes with teacher support.

Girls' Education in the Far North : The Work of "Bright Future"

In 2015, a group of young Cameroonian graduates created an association called "Bright Future" in Maroua, in the Far North region. Their objective was simple but ambitious : to help more girls stay in school and complete their secondary education. In this region, many girls leave school before the age of fifteen, often because of early marriage, poverty, or long distances between home and school.

The association started with only twelve volunteers, most of them women teachers and nurses. They first carried out a survey in five villages to understand why so many girls dropped out. The results showed that parents often did not know about the importance of girls' education, and that many families could not afford school fees and uniforms.

"Bright Future" then organised awareness campaigns in markets, churches and mosques. The volunteers also set up a small fund to pay school fees for the poorest families. In addition, they offered free evening classes in mathematics and English to girls who had difficulties at school. A local facilitator was trained in each village to follow the girls' progress and to report any problem to the association.

Ten years later, the results are impressive. More than two thousand girls have been supported, and the dropout rate in the five villages has fallen by almost forty per cent. Several girls who were helped by the association have now become volunteers themselves. "It is said that educating a girl means educating a whole nation," explains Aïcha, one of the founders. "Our experience proves that this is true."

The association now plans to extend its activities to ten more villages and to open a training centre where girls will learn computer skills and sewing.

1. Say whether the following statements are True or False. Justify each answer with a quotation from the text.

EXERCICE 29 Type Bac – Writing

Your school organised a training course on democracy for all the students of Terminale. Write a report (about 250 words) for the school magazine in which you :

- describe the activities that took place during the course (workshops, debates, mock elections, surveys...);
- explain what you personally learnt from the training;
- say why such courses matter for young Cameroonians.

Your report must have a title, an introduction, two or three body paragraphs and a conclusion. Use at least three phrasal verbs, one reported question and one impersonal passive. Pay attention to word order and to the sequence of tenses.

12 CORRIGÉS DES EXERCICES

CORRIGÉ Exercice 1 — QCM : Campaigning and voting

1. B — manifesto. A manifesto is the document in which a candidate presents his or her ideas and promises (profession de foi). A ballot box is the urn where ballot papers are placed, and a survey is a set of questions used to collect opinions.
2. B — to ask people for their support. To canvass means to go from person to person (or class to class) asking for votes or support (faire campagne, solliciter des voix). Counting the votes is done after the poll closes ; closing the polling station is the end of voting.
3. A — the place where people vote. A polling station (bureau de vote) is the place where voters cast their ballots. A training centre is a place for courses ; a radio station broadcasts programmes.
4. B — if. “She asked me if I would vote for the new head girl.” This is a reported yes/no question : we introduce it with if or whether, we use statement word order (subject + verb), and will shifts to would. That is used for reported statements, not questions ; what would require a wh- question in direct speech.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 2 — Vrai ou faux justifié

1. TRUE. In a reported yes/no question, we use if or whether followed by statement word order : “Are you ready?” → He asked if I was ready.
2. FALSE. In a reported question we use the statement word order (subject + verb), not the question order : “Where is the station?” → He asked where the station was (not “where was the station”).
3. TRUE. “It is believed that volunteering empowers young women” follows the structure It + passive verb + that-clause, which is the first form of the impersonal passive.
4. TRUE. A phrasal verb combines a verb with one or two particles (adverb or preposition), and its meaning is often idiomatic : to carry out does not mean “to carry outside” but “to conduct, to perform” (mener, réaliser).

CORRIGÉ Exercice 3 — Définitions : démocratie et citoyenneté

Word	Definition	Justification
1. democracy	b	system of government in which citizens choose their leaders by voting
2. volunteer	c	a person who offers to work for free for a good cause
3. gender equality	d	the fact that men and women have the same rights and opportunities
4. facilitator	a	a person who leads a training session or a discussion
5. election	f	the process of choosing a person for a position by voting
6. survey	e	a set of questions asked to a group of people to collect opinions

Points de vigilance : ne pas confondre election (le processus de vote) et democracy (le système politique) ; un survey (enquête) est différent d'une election (on y donne une opinion, on n'y choisit pas un dirigeant).

CORRIGÉ Exercice 4 — Grammaire directe : sequence of tenses

1. The facilitator said that the training would start at 8 a.m. the next day.

Justification : le verbe introducteur said est au passé ; will se transforme en would (futur dans le passé).

2. She explained that she had joined the association two years before.

Justification : le past simple (joined) recule au past perfect (had joined) ; ago devient before.

3. They told us that they had never seen a ballot box before the workshop.

Justification : le present perfect (have never seen) recule au past perfect (had never seen) ; l'adverbe never se place entre had et le participe passé.

4. He promised that he would help us to organise the campaign.

Justification : will devient would après un verbe introducteur au passé (promised).

Point de vigilance : ne jamais garder will ou le present perfect après said / told / explained / promised au passé : c'est l'erreur la plus fréquente au Bac.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 5 — Reported questions

1. The journalist asked me if I would vote for the new head girl.

Yes/no question → if + ordre de la déclarative ; will → would.

2. She wanted to know where the training had taken place.

Wh- question → on garde where ; le past simple (did take) recule au past perfect (had taken) ; suppression de l'auxiliaire did et ordre sujet + verbe.

3. The interviewer asked the students if they had ever taken part in a survey.

Yes/no question → if ; le present perfect (have taken) recule au past perfect (had taken) ; you devient they (accord de la personne).

4. The teacher wondered why so few girls volunteered for the campaign.

Wh- question → on garde why ; le present simple (do volunteer) recule au past simple (volunteered) ; suppression de l'auxiliaire do.

5. The candidates asked when the results would be announced.

Wh- question → on garde when ; will be announced (futur passif) devient would be announced ; ordre sujet (the results) + verbe.

Points de vigilance : pas de point d'interrogation à la fin ; pas d'inversion sujet-verbe ; pas d'auxiliaire do/does/did ; ne pas oublier le recul des temps.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 6 — Word order

1. The participants always listen attentively to the facilitator.

SVOMPT : sujet (the participants) + adverbe de fréquence avant le verbe (always listen) + adverbe de manière après le verbe (attentively) + complément (to the facilitator).

2. The teacher encouraged the girls to stand for election.

Structure : sujet + verbe + objet (the girls) + complément infinitif (to stand for election).

3. The volunteer gave a very interesting speech yesterday.

Ordre : sujet + verbe + objet (a very interesting speech) + complément de temps en fin de phrase (yesterday).

4. The voters filled in their ballot papers carefully.

Ordre : sujet + verbe à particule (filled in) + objet (their ballot papers) + adverbe de manière (carefully) en fin de phrase.

5. Surveys are often conducted before school elections.

Voix passive : sujet (surveys) + auxiliaire are + adverbe de fréquence après l'auxiliaire (often) + participe passé (conducted) + complément de temps (before school elections).

Point de vigilance : les adverbes de fréquence se placent avant le verbe principal mais après l'auxiliaire ou le verbe be (phrase 5 : are often conducted).

CORRIGÉ Exercice 7 — Texte à trous : une campagne électorale scolaire

(1) manifesto — chaque candidat rédige une profession de foi présentant ses projets.

(2) to canvass — les candidats vont de classe en classe pour solliciter des voix (infinitif de but : to + base verbale).

(3) survey — une enquête est organisée pour connaître le candidat le plus populaire.

(4) polling station — le jour du scrutin, les élèves se rendent au bureau de vote installé dans le hall.

(5) ballot box — ils déposent leurs bulletins de vote dans l'urne.

Texte complété : Last month, our school elected its new head boy and head girl. Before the election, each candidate wrote a manifesto presenting his or her projects for the students. Then the candidates went from class to class to canvass for votes. A few days before the election, a survey was organised to find out which candidate was the most popular. On election day, all the students went to the polling station, which was set up in the school hall, and put their ballot papers into the ballot box. The results were announced in the afternoon.

Point de vigilance : pour (2), il faut l'infinifit complet to canvass (expression de but) et non la base verbale seule.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 8 — Impersonal passives

1. People say that the training course was very useful.

→ It is said that the training course was very useful.

→ The training course is said to have been very useful.

Note : la deuxième structure exige l'infinifit passé to have been car le cours est terminé (antériorité).

2. Everyone thinks that the new head girl will defend students' rights.

→ It is thought that the new head girl will defend students' rights.

→ The new head girl is thought to be going to defend students' rights (ou : is expected to defend students' rights).

Note : will n'a pas d'infinifit ; on utilise to be going to ou le verbe expect.

3. Experts consider that gender equality improves school results.

→ It is considered that gender equality improves school results.

→ Gender equality is considered to improve school results.

4. People expect that many students will take part in the survey.

→ It is expected that many students will take part in the survey.

→ Many students are expected to take part in the survey.

Points de vigilance : dans la structure 2, c'est le sujet de la subordonnée qui devient sujet de la principale ; vérifier l'accord de be (is/are) ; utiliser l'infinifit passé (to have done) si l'action rapportée est antérieure.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 9 — Type Bac : Reading comprehension

Barème indicatif (sur 10 points) : Question 1 : 5 pts (1 pt par item : 0,5 pour True/False + 0,5 pour la citation) ; Question 2 : 3 pts (1 pt par item) ; Question 3 : 2 pts (environ 0,7 pt par item).

1. True or False, with quotations

- a. FALSE. "A group of young Cameroonian graduates created an association called 'Bright'." (Ce sont des diplômés, pas le gouvernement.)
- b. FALSE. "The association started with only twelve volunteers, most of them women teachers and nurses."
- c. TRUE. "They first carried out a survey in five villages to understand why so many girls dropped out."

- d. FALSE. "In addition, they offered free evening classes in mathematics and English" — l'association faisait plus que payer les frais scolaires (campagnes de sensibilisation, cours du soir).
- e. TRUE. "Several girls who were helped by the association have now become volunteers themselves."

2. Answers in your own words

- a. Two reasons : early marriage and poverty (on accepte aussi : long distances between home and school).
- b. Three activities : they organised awareness campaigns in markets, churches and mosques ; they set up a fund to pay school fees for the poorest families ; they offered free evening classes in mathematics and English (on accepte aussi : training a local facilitator in each village).
- c. Future projects : they plan to extend their activities to ten more villages and to open a training centre where girls will learn computer skills and sewing.

3. Vocabulary

- a. dropped out (stopped going to school)
- b. school fees (money paid to study at school)
- c. awareness campaigns (information campaigns to change people's attitudes)

Points de vigilance (attendus du correcteur) : la justification par une citation exacte du texte est obligatoire pour la question 1 (aucun point complet sans guillemets) ; pour la question 2, le candidat doit reformuler avec ses propres mots, sans recopier intégralement les phrases du texte ; pour la question 3, le mot doit être tiré du paragraphe indiqué.

CORRIGÉ Exercice 10 — Type Bac : Grammar in context

A. Reported questions

1. The journalist asked the students if they knew the candidates' manifestos.
Yes/no question → if ; present simple know → past simple knew ; you → they.
2. She asked Manga who he would vote for.
Wh- question → on garde who ; will → would ; ordre sujet + verbe (he would vote) ; la préposition for reste en fin de proposition.
3. She asked the new head girl why she had decided to stand for election.
Wh- question → on garde why ; past simple (did decide) → past perfect (had decided) ; suppression de did.

B. Phrasal verbs

1. The association carried out a survey in five villages last year.
Justification : to carry out a survey = mener une enquête ; past simple car last year.
2. Many girls drop out of school before the age of fifteen.

Justification : to drop out of school = abandonner l'école ; present simple pour un fait général.

3. The volunteers set up a fund to help poor families.

Justification : to set up = créer, mettre en place ; past simple (set est irrégulier : set-set-set).

4. Aïcha looks after the evening classes every week.

Justification : to look after = s'occuper de ; present simple, 3^e personne du singulier (looks) car every week.

C. Sequence of tenses and impersonal passive

1. The facilitator announced that the results would be published the following day.

Justification : will → would après announced ; la voix passive est nécessaire (be published) car les résultats subissent l'action ; tomorrow devient the following day.

2. It is said that educating a girl means educating a whole nation.

Justification : structure impersonnelle It + is said + that-clause ; le gérondif educating reste sujet de la subordonnée.

Points de vigilance : en A, aucune inversion sujet-verbe et aucun point d'interrogation ; en B, conjuguer le phrasal verb au temps qui convient au contexte ; en C1, ne pas oublier la voix passive (would be published, pas would publish).

CORRIGÉ Exercice 11 — Type Bac : Writing

- Correction grammaticale (word order, sequence of tenses) : 4 pts
- Vocabulaire de l'unité et cohérence du texte : 2 pts

Exemple de production attendue (modèle de correction) :

A Memorable Training Course on Democracy

Last week, our school organised a three-day training course on democracy for all the students of Terminale. About two hundred students took part in this enriching experience.

On the first day, the facilitators carried out a survey to find out what we already knew about citizenship. Then we attended workshops on voting procedures and human rights.

The most exciting moment was the mock election : two students stood for the position of head of the student council, and the whole class went to the polling station that had been set up in the library. One facilitator asked us if we had ever voted before, and most of us answered that we had not.

Personally, I learnt a lot from this course. I found out that democracy is not only about voting : it is also about listening to others, respecting different opinions and accepting defeat. I also understood that young people must not give up when things are difficult ; they must look after their rights and their duties as citizens.

In my opinion, such courses matter enormously for young Cameroonians. It is believed that educated citizens build stronger nations. If we learn the values of democracy at school, we will become responsible adults who can transform our communities. I hope our school will organise this training again next year.

(Environ 230–250 mots.)

Points de vigilance :

- Le titre est obligatoire ; un texte sans titre perd des points de format.
- Vérifier la présence effective des trois outils grammaticaux exigés : ici carried out, stood for, set up, give up, look after (phrasal verbs) ; asked us if we had ever voted before (reported question avec backshift) ; It is believed that... (impersonal passive).
- Sequence of tenses : après answered / said / explained au passé, les temps doivent reculer (we had not).
- Word order : adverbess de fréquence avant le verbe principal, compléments de temps en fin de phrase.
- Rester dans le thème de l'unité (citizenship, democracy, voting) et utiliser le vocabulaire de la leçon.
